Silver Falls Company Is Adding $40,000 Dry Kiln Addition

Will Double Drying Space

Announcement Puts Crimp Rumors That Mill Might Cease Operations

SILVERTON-Work has been started on construction of a new dry kiln which will double the lumber drying capacity of the Silver Falls Timber company mill here, it was stated here yesterday by W. L. McGinnis, superintendent. Market conditions require the drying of more of the lumber. The addition will cost $40,000.

This announcement was viewed here as a practical and conclusive denial of rumors that the sawmill here might cease operations; rumors which have circulated since the windup of logging operations in the company's nearby camps. Logs-are now being hauled by rail from more distant woods.
