Infant Is Killed At Holiday Meal

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 24—(AP)—Thanksgiving's feast brought only sorrow to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mortford, of Spokane, today when their baby daughter fell to her death from a high chair.

Dr. I. S. Collins reported Shirley Ann Mortford, 1 year old, slipped from her chair and fell on her head just as the family finished Thanksgiving dinner. She died from a broken neck at a hospital 10 minutes later.

Dies Hits out At Crackpots

Suggests That Ickes and Perkins Resign Posts in Cabinet of US

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24—(AP)—Rep. Dies (D. Tex.), declaring today that citizens cannot "feel secure" with "crackpots" in high governmental positions, suggested that Secretaries Harold Ickes and Frances Perkins and WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins resign.

They should take with them, he added, "their army of satellites" and thus restore "confidence in government" and harmony to the democratic party.

"It is a consummation devoutly desired by the overwhelming majority of democrats," he said in a statement.

This was the latest development in a feud between Ickes and Dies growing out of testimony before the house committee on un-American activities that the secretary was a member of the American Civil Liberties union. The union was described in previous testimony as a red organization.

Yesterday Ickes called Dies the world's outstanding "any," and characterized testimony before the committee as "garbage."

Dies, chairman of the committee, countered today with a declaration that the secretary's "most recent 'fit' of uncontrollable rage only emphasizes his unfitness for the high position he holds."

"Reeks With Venom"

"The secretary literally reeks with the venom of hatred," the Texan went on. "It flows from him as naturally and freely as water from a spring."

"Because a witness, under oath, testified that the secretary is a member of the American Civil Liberties union, an organization which John L. Lewis and the united mine workers branded as communistic in 1924, the secretary strikes viciously and savagely at the chairman of the committee although the secretary admits his membership in the American Civil Liberties union."

The truth, Dies said, is that Ickes, like Miss Perkins and Hopkins, brought "his many radical associates" to Washington when he was appointed secretary. These "satellites" range in "political insanity" from socialist to communist, the chairman declared, with the "common garden variety of crackpots preponderating." He said they are consistent in only one thing—"the promotion of class hatred."

Father Faces Baby Death Trial

Strangely unmoved at his arrest for the death of his baby several days ago, Leon Scribner, 23, of West Tulsa, Okla., broke down and cried when arraigned in Tulsa court, above. Scribner, who is said by police to have beaten the baby to death, entered a plea of not guilty. He will go on trial Nov. 28. The young father, who claimed he didn't mean to kill the child, when arrested, is shown sobbing in court and being comforted by his sister, center, and his mother, right. Scribner is held in the McAlester state penitentiary to protect him from threatened mob violence.

Citizen Training Is Catholic Plan

Subversive Teaching Held Serious; Three Million Youths to Be Reached

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24—(AP)—Catholic leaders of the United States, responding to the recent call of Pope Pius XI for defense of democratic government, announced today an educational program intended to train more than 3,000,000 Catholic pupils in "enlightened, conscientious American citizenship."

In a pastoral letter made public here, Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, archbishop of Philadelphia, and the archbishops and bishops who attended an annual meeting here in October said they were "seriously alarmed by the spread of subversive teaching and by the activity of subversive action in our country."

"We are witnesses today," they added, "of proclamations and programs which, if translated into action, would destroy all that is just and ennobling in liberty-loving America."

Textbooks Planned

Announcing that Catholic university would compile more comprehensive texts to present the principles of democracy and citizenship to the Catholic school children of America, the pastoral letter declared:

"Our people... must be held to the conviction that love of country is a virtue and that disloyalty is a sin."

In a statement accompanying publication of the letter, the most Rev. Edward Money, archbishop of Detroit, said that although the program was of Catholic origin he hoped it would not be considered an exclusively Catholic undertaking.

"Such studies are needed all through America today to arm and armor the minds of youth and nullify the current influences which tend to undermine democracy in this country," he said.

The Rt. Rev. Monsignor Joseph M. Corrigan, rector of Catholic university, viewed the project as education in "the fundamentals of freedom."

Pope's Warning Cited

The pastoral letter signed by Cardinal Dougherty related that Pope Pius had warned the church recently of revolutionary forces at work in the world, and of "private immorality and public subversion" having "raised the banner of revolt against the cross of Christ."

The pope called specifically for development of a "constructive program of social action," and special attention to the sciences of civics, sociology and economics.

Cardinal Dougherty concluded: "Democracy is on trial in the world today. Its principles are belittled. They are attacked and endangered even in this country."

Meyer Store's Opening Near

Big new Location Opening Marks 7th Year of Business Here

A new, modern store opened by Fred Meyer this week at 148 North Liberty street, marks the seventh year in business in Salem for this locally owned organization. Located in the old Metropolitan store building the new store is complete with toiletry, candy, prescription, tobacco, women's wear and lunch sections.

Many new innovations in modern merchandising methods and fixtures are incorporated in the new store, according to Fred Burrell, who is manager of the new Salem unit.

Local Labor Used

"We have spent thousands of dollars," Mr. Burrell said, "in remodeling this building for our new merchandising home, and we have used, where possible, local labor and materials to help, as is our policy, to create more employment, and aid in building a greater community for the good of local people."

Remodeling is under way in the familiar Fred Meyer location at 170 North Liberty street, and when completed will offer Salem consumers a completely modern food store. William "Bill" Patton of Salem, manager of the food section, says they plan to take the entire space used for groceries and toiletries in the past and will offer a larger variety of foodstuffs.

Meyer is Optimistic

Fred Meyer, a stockholder in the flour industry in this community, is very optimistic about the future of the city of Salem, and expects Salem to continue to be the metropolitan hub of a thriving valley in the future.

The Fred Meyer organization spends thousands of dollars annually in the valley, the money going to Salem employees, for rent, lights, water, taxes, materials and labor in construction, and for the thousands of cases of canned food grown in the fertile valley that is packed under the My-T-Fine label. Plans for the future of the organization are to grow with the city of Salem.

Extra Session of Idaho Solons Set

Relief Crisis Involving 10 per Cent of State Citizenry Faced

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 24—(AP)—Governor Barzilla W. Clark, confronting a relief crisis involving a tenth of the commonwealth's half million people, called the legislature into extraordinary session today to replenish funds out of which nearly $2,750,000 has been paid to Idaho's destitute in 1938.

The lawmakers—whose two-year terms expire Dec. 1—will meet here at 10 a. m., Nov. 28.

The chief executive estimated that only one day would be required to complete their business.

Attorneys tonight drafted his proclamation, which he said would be signed tomorrow.

Agenda Limited

Work of the legislators is limited by law to matters covered by the proclamation, and they must be of an emergency nature.

The chief executive, who took pride in his record of not interfering with the legislature and boasted of a clean slate as to extra sessions, estimated approximately $100,000 would be needed from the $3,000,000 surplus in the state treasury to carry the relief program to completion this biennium.

The legislature two years ago allowed $3,600,000 for the biennium for the state's share in relief.

Windsor Confers With Chamberlain

Plans for Christmas Time Visit in England Are Said Discussed

PARIS, Nov. 24—(AP)—British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and the Duke of Windsor conferred here tonight on what informed British sources said were plans for the former King Edward VIII to return to England with his American-born wife.

The meeting was the first between Windsor and a chief of the British government since he, as king, had a last talk with Stanley Baldwin, then prime minister and now Earl Baldwin of Bewdley, shortly before abdicating December 10, 1936.

Almost without notice the prime minister, here for talks on defense plans with French statesmen, hurried into the duke's hotel for a 20-minute conversation. His only companion was the tall British foreign minister, Viscount Halifax.

No Report Made

Afterward Chamberlain came downstairs with a smile. Lord Halifax kept his usual stolid mien. Sources close to Windsor said they were uncertain about what plans had been made, if any.

They indicated, however, that the prime minister's visit was another step in negotiations opened by the Duke of Gloucester, Windsor's second younger brother, on November 11.

At that time it was reported reliably that the Duke and Duchess of Windsor were looking forward to Christmas in England, perhaps at the traditional royal family reunion at Sandringham house.

Commissioner Orames has seen more than 40 years of service in the Salvation Army's ranks in a dozen countries, including China, Australia, New Zealand, Egypt, France and Great Britain.

The commissioner is a veteran of the World war, having served several years with the Australian troops in France. He is well known in Oregon and made a tour of this state last spring, at the close of which he was made a knight of the royal kingdom of Rosaria at the Portland rose festival.

He will also be in Salem Sunday to participate in the services at the Citadel.

Deputy Sheriff Stanley said Tibberty went to the side of the road and climbed onto the ledge in an attempt to "flag" a ride to Portland after his car had collided with one driven by Grover Young, Portland. He was uninjured in the crash.

A heavy blast of wind apparently caught him as he stood near the edge and toppled him over, the officer said.
