

New Law Fees Given Okeh

Certain of Attorney Fees Increased by County Bar Group

A revised set of minimum fees to be charged by attorneys in Marion county was adopted by the county bar association here yesterday noon subject to approval by the state board of bar governors. The association increased certain of the minimum fees from its depression-established schedule but in nearly all instances the new list remained below fees prescribed in the schedule approved at the state bar convention here last fall.

The cost of legal assistance in securing an uncontested divorce was restored to its pre-depression minimum fee, $75, an increase of $25. The fee in contested cases is set higher.

The association puts its schedule below the official state fee list in such instances as office calls, examining abstracts, appealing cases to the state supreme court and bankruptcy petitions.

Probate Fee Unchanged

The question of probate fees, which finally were left unchanged. Inspired discussion of reports that persons interested in a large estate recently admitted to probate had "shopped around" among local attorneys and thereby obtained legal assistance at a lower rate than some members of the association approved. The new schedule provides simply that the minimum attorney fee in probating estates shall be the same as prescribed by law for executors and administrators.

Typical examples of differences between the schedules of the county association and the state bar were listed by J. Ray Rhoten, secretary, as follows:

Office calls, oral advice, $2 county fee, $5 state fee.

Bankruptcy, $100 county, $75 state fee in uncontested proceedings, both $150 where contest involved.

Mortgage foreclosures, no variation; chattel mortgage foreclosure, $50 county, $75 state fee.

Appeals, US circuit court of appeals, state and county fees same, $250; to state supreme court, $150 county fee, $250 state fee for equity cases, and $200 county fee and $250 state fee in law cases.

The association adhered to the state schedule of percentage fees in damage actions and rejected a proposal to change existing minimum fees on commercial collections.

Fees for examining abstracts were set at $10 for abstracts of fewer than 40 pages, $15 for 40 to 100 pages and $20 for those over 100 pages.

Hoxie Directs Seal Sale Drive

Tommy Hoxie, former assistant manager of KSLM, who directs the sale of Christmas seals for Salem from his bed at the state tuberculosis hospital.

Interest in Seal Sale Is Greater Than Usual in County as Citizens Work to Aid Tommy Hoxie Gain Cup

More interest than usual has been felt in selling Christmas seals in Marion county this year, because need for checking tuberculosis has come very close home. Marion county health officials, civic organizations and private individuals are trying hard to win the silver cup that's awarded each year for most sales per capita. They're working to win it for Tommy Hoxie.

Not only because Hoxie, who is Salem's seal sale chairman, decided months ago to win the cup, are citizens making a special effort to make Marion county best in the state, but because Tommy was stricken with tuberculosis several months after accepting the chairmanship.

Tommy, whose voice has been heard many times as announcer and assistant manager of KSLM, found suddenly that he was a victim of the very disease he was working to help stamp out. It had not been for a slight cold which he wanted checked upon, Hoxie might not yet have known of his affliction. But fortunately a doctor's examination revealed it in time so Tommy's wife Eleanor, and year-old son Dwight are not affected.

So Tommy Hoxie directs the Salem seal sales from his bed at the state tuberculosis hospital, his wife assists in town, and both are hoping that Marion county will win the coveted silver cup for best in the state.
