Turkey Shoot To Be Climax

Christmas Parties Planned Later in Month for Vets' Kiddies

MT. ANGEL—December 9, 10 and 11 are three important dates for the members of the local American Legion and auxiliary. Friday as many members as possible of the two organizations are asked to go to Stayton to take part in the Marion county council.

On the 10th, the auxiliary is holding a food sale at the Dude's restaurant and the proceeds realized will go into the auxiliary fund. Mrs. Frank Walker will conduct the sale. Sunday, December 10 is the date for the next Legion turkey shoot. Merchandise as well as birds will be offered for marksmanship prizes. At the same time there will be card playing for those interested and hot lunches for all, served by the auxiliary with Mrs. Frank Durschmidt in charge.

To Put In Lawn
The boys of the post plan to gather at the Memorial hall, as soon as the weather permits, to level off the grounds and put in a lawn.

The auxiliary will hold the annual Christmas party for children of the Legion at the next regular meeting of the post and ner, Mrs. Theresa Drysdale ad uit, December 20. Mrs. M. Harf-Mrs. Mary Durschmidt are in charge of arrangements.

The group will help with local Christmas charities. The auxiliary plans to sponsor the national Fidac essay contest by offering a local prize, with the contest open to all high students.

4H Membership Growing in Polk

Assistant State Leader and County Chiefs Visit Rural Schools

DALLAS—Josiah Wills, Polk county school superintendent, and W. C. Leth, county agent, are concentrating on increasing the enrollment of 4H club membership in the county during the year and already have visited a number of the rural schools where new club work has been started.

During the past month, L. J. Allen, assistant state 4H club leader, together with Wills and Leth, visited several Polk county schools.

Leth states that there is much more interest in club work this year than has been true the past few years and he looks for at least a 50 per cent increase in the 4H club enrollment in this county. The schools visited so far with Mr. Allen include Air-lie, Buena Vista, Oak Point, Brush College, Bethel, Perrydale, Valley Junction, Gold Creek and Buell, where about 420 boys and girls are enrolled in 4H work.

The first club to have its enrollment and organization completed as result of these meetings
