

Junior CC Is Dance Sponsor

Albany Takes Club Plans New Year's Jaunt to Suttle Lake

ALBANY—The recently organized junior chamber of commerce will sponsor the annual president's ball January 30, instead of the senior chamber, it was announced today.

Bob Ferguson of the junior chamber has been appointed chairman by Keith Morgan, national birthday ball chairman. Proceeds will be used as usual to aid in the prevention and cure of infantile paralysis.

A portion of the county funds from a former birthday ball was used to send a little Sweet Home girl to the Doernbecher hospital in Portland. This child, nine years of age at that time and who had never walked a step, is now able to walk with the use of only one crutch, and can wheel a doll buggy. She is now 12 and it is believed she will, in time, be able to walk without aid.

Plan Hoodoo Bowl Trip

ALBANY—Plans are well underway for a group of Albany Takers to make the trip to Hoodoo Bowl at Suttle Lake, over New Year's. The board of directors for 1933 includes Alton Coates, Daisy Ashton, Wilber Burall, Harold Conn, and Carroll Weaver. The Takers have adopted an emblem of red and white chenille containing the name of the club, the city and state and the name of the wearer.

Rush at Tax Office

ALBANY—For the first time, perhaps in the history of the company, the Southern Pacific Railway company, this year paid its taxes by the quarter instead of all at once. The taxes this year amounted to $64,823.32. The company last week made its quarterly payment of $16,205.83. Other taxpayers made a wild rush Thursday to make their last quarterly payment in order to avoid penalties and interest.

Left Turn Taboo Decreed by Cops

"No Left Turns" will be the signs on display during heavy traffic hours at the intersections of State and Liberty and Court and Liberty streets, beginning today.

In an effort to speed up congested traffic at these intersections the city police department will place the signs, prohibiting left turns. Police said also they would attempt to curtail right hand turns at those intersections during the busy hours, but would not so mark the intersections.

Popular Midwest Beer Makes Bow Here Wednesday

One of the most popular of midwestern beers, but a comparative newcomer in the northwest is Hamm beer, which goes on sale in Salem for the first time starting Wednesday, according to an announcement yesterday by Walter Stolz, manager of the Gideon Stolz bottling works and beverage distributing firm.

Christmas Carols Will Be Sung in Capitol Tomorrow

Christmas carols, to be sung in the rotunda of the new state capitol building Wednesday between 4:45 and 5 p. m., will be broadcast over radio stations KEX, Portland, and KSLM, Salem. Secretary of State Snell announced Monday.

Lions to Cheer Hundred Kiddies

The Salem Lions club this season will see that 100 underprivileged children have a happy Christmas, one with gifts and candy, Arthur O. Hunt, publicity chairman, announced yesterday. The club's special charity fund will be drawn on for this purpose.

Singer Ruth Etting Tells of Threats in Court

Testifying in a crowded courtroom in Los Angeles at the trial of Col. Martin Snyder, her former husband, accused of attempted murder, kidnapping and violation of the gun law, Ruth Etting, radio and stage songstress, charged that Snyder "kissed" her for money, threatened her when she couldn't give him any more and finally sent a bullet into the abdomen of Myrl Alderman, his love rival, as Miss Etting pleaded for mercy. The state contends that Snyder planned to murder not only Alderman, Miss Etting's piano player, but also to kill Miss Etting and his own daughter, Edith Snyder, the singer's secretary. Snyder claims self-defense. Miss Etting is shown in court as is Snyder, at left.

Lamb's Filberts Sold to Newmans

The A. L. Lamb filbert orchard in Mission Bottom classed as one of the finest in the state, yesterday passed into new ownership when Lamb sold it to Newman Brothers of Wilsonville for $20,000 cash.

The deal included 30 acres of filberts and two additional acres with farm buildings.

Mr. Lamb is disposing of his property interested in this county and also some in southern Oregon, preparatory to retiring. He and Mrs. Lamb will make their home in Salem.

Filbert raising has been a sideline to his business of contractor. The past year he has spent much of his time in the southern end of the state building cold storage and packing plants and he also was contractor for the large addition to the Salem plant of the nut growers co-op.

Baldock en Route To Chilean Meet

R. H. Baldock, Oregon state highway engineer, left Salem Monday for Santiago, Chile, where, with two other prominent men, he will represent the United States at the Pan American Road conference.

The conference will open January 13 and continue for 12 days. Other members of the delegation from this country are E. W. James, Washington, D. C., federal bureau of public roads, and J. H. Dowling, Florida state highway engineer.

Baldock's expenses will be paid by the federal government. This is the first time that an Oregon man has been selected to attend this conference, officials said.

Prof. Franklin Thompson, guest speaker, in his opening remarks, paid tribute to the Keizer community for the progress which has been made, saying that Keizer would soon be a suburb of Salem. He spoke of the observance of Christmas in different lands and emphasized that back of all the dazzling display, the tinsel and Santa Claus, the spirit of Christmas is the Jesu Christus, God's great gift to man whose birthday we commemorate this holiday season.

The Salem high school Drama club, under direction of Miss Margaret Burroughs, presented a play, "Neighbors."

WALDO HILLS—Eight tables of cards were in play Friday night at the Community club with high scores going to Martha Goodknecht and Jake Doerfler, and low scores held by Mrs. John Goodknecht and Fred Knight.

Keizer Ladies' Aid to Hold Party Wednesday

KEIZER—The Keizer Ladies Aid will hold its annual Christmas party and exchange of gifts at the home of Mrs. H. W. Irvine Wednesday, with a dessert luncheon to be served at 1 p. m. Mrs. Paul Pierce will assist the hostess.

Holiday Buying Hits Its Stride

Airplane's Maneuvers Add to Shopping Thrills at Lebanon

LEBANON—Lebanon with its dress of green and red, waving green trees and holly wreaths, was host to hundreds on its streets and its stores Saturday as Christmas buyers poured in from adjacent communities and purchased tons of Christmas goods in every line of merchandise.

A major attraction Saturday afternoon was the airplane owned by Lebanon and Albany young people, as Patricia (Pat) Farrell guided it over the town dropping Christmas information and receiving the applause of on-lookers as the birdlike motions of the little plane won the admiration of hundreds.

As the result of a membership contest between the Sunday schools of the Church of Christ of Lebanon and Sweet Home in which Lebanon won, members of the local school drove to Sweet Home following Sunday morning service, to be dinner guests of the losing group.

Opera Wednesday

The opera, "Santa Claus of Blunderland" will be given Wednesday at the Baptist church under direction of Prof. R. Baker, Mrs. Norma Welles and Mrs. Dale Weeks, teachers.

J. H. Alley, centenarian, has been quite ill the past week and shows slow improvement.

Mrs. Florence Shumaker, teacher at Spicer school, is planning a Christmas program to be given at the school house December 23.

Package Mailing Is Near Record

Package mailing probably hit a new high at the Salem post office yesterday. Postmaster H. R. Crawford indicated in the late afternoon. However, no definite check was available as all hands were too busy handling the in-surge of mail to worry about records.

Three parcel post windows were flooded with customers throughout the day.

Christmas Cheats 7 Scioans More Or Less out of Birthday Presents

SCIO—Seven Scioans might well consider celebrating December 25 in an exclusive party, with an exchange of gifts. And not because it's Christmas, but because the big holiday overshadows for them what is usually an event in the lives of others—their birthday.

Not having any Robert Louis Stevenson legally to will them his birthday, these people just struggle along as best they can with one gift for a double occasion. Seven Christmas birthdays in a community of slightly more than 200 may not be a record, but at least those seven feel that something should be done about it.

Oldest of the Scio December 25'ers is Bill Young, who will turn 73 come next Sunday. Youngest is Helen Shelton, who will round out her first decade of nearly birthday-less living. Others are Mrs. John Egr, Mrs. Joe Lytle, Mrs. Ed Posvar, J. A. Withers, and Mrs. Joe Haller. The latter is now a resident of Portland, but was born on Christmas in Scio, and will spend the 1933 holiday here.

Community Clubs

KEIZER—Over 300 attended the December community club Christmas program Friday night at the new grange hall here. A short business session preceded the program.

The program for the January 6 club meeting will be given by the men, H. W. Irvine, chairman.

The program included: Christmas carols by Mrs. Arthur Cummings, Mrs. Nick Brinkley, Mrs. Demma Bunnell, Mrs. Helen Emmert, Miss Lois Keefer, Arthur Cummings, Carroll Cummings and the Savage boys; Glen, Gilbert Willard and Ernest, with Mrs. Albert Minton at the piano; reading, Ruth McCall; play, "Land of the Make Believe," directed by Miss Bernice Foley; vocal selections, Savage Brothers accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Gilbert.

Prof. Franklin Thompson, guest speaker, in his opening remarks, paid tribute to the Keizer community for the progress which has been made, saying that Keizer would soon be a suburb of Salem. He spoke of the observance of Christmas in different lands and emphasized that back of all the dazzling display, the tinsel and Santa Claus, the spirit of Christmas is the Jesu Christus, God's great gift to man whose birthday we commemorate this holiday season.

Keizer Ladies' Aid to Hold Party Wednesday

KEIZER—The Keizer Ladies Aid will hold its annual Christmas party and exchange of gifts at the home of Mrs. H. W. Irvine Wednesday, with a dessert luncheon to be served at 1 p. m. Mrs. Paul Pierce will assist the hostess.

Mission Society Will Meet Today

MIDDLE GROVE—The December meeting of the Ycman's Missionary society will be held at the home of Mrs. E. J. Gory Goode Tuesday, at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. E. Campbell of Salem First Evangelical church will conduct the annual election of officers.

The Amitie club met for its annual Christmas party, at the home of Mrs. Ora Hicks. The entertainment included a vocal solo by Mrs. Gladys Cage and reading, Mrs. W. H. Scharf. Mrs. Hicks was assisted by her daughters, Arlene and Blanche.

County Pays Part Of Sealers' Bill

Part payment only of a $699.05 bill submitted by the state department of agriculture for expenses of the district sealer of weights and measures was ordered by the Marion county court yesterday. The court approved the bill only to the extent of its budget for the service, $347.87. The state can sue for the remainder if it wishes, court members indicated.

The county, it was pointed out, was not consulted or notified when the sealer service was recognized and the expense increased.
