Wheat Declines In Late Hours

Recovery at Beginning Is Wiped out With Close Lower

CHICAGO, Jan. -(P)-Wheat prices declined in late trading today, wiping out early gains of as much as % cent and closing 14-1/2 lower compared with yesterday.

The market staged a recovery movement at the opening. strengthened by firm Liverpool cables and failure f expected precipitation to materialize in the domestic winter wheat area. Forecasts promised no important moisture relief in the southwest. With the exception of the southern portion of Kansas where it unsettled, generally fair weather was predicted tonight and tomorrow for Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota and Iowa. This held prices higher during most of the short-session.

Trend Is Down

Pivotal Stocks Show Loss Fractions to More

Than 2 Points NEW YORK, Jan. 7-(P)-The stock market generally ended the first week of 1939 on a declining trend, with pivotal industrials and rails losing fractions to more than 2 points. The brief session started out well, with utilities, rails and specialties attracting buyers. The ticker tape loafed during the greater part of the time, but ast-minute selling of steels, motors and other leaders quickened the pace appreciably. Even the favorites gave ground at the finish and only a handful was able to emerge with modest advances.

Average Off .5 The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .5 of a point at 52.4 and, on the week, showed a net decline of .8 of a point. Transfers today totalled 632,910 shares against 853,190

last Saturday.
With financial minds apparent ly somewhat confused over the administration's latest spending program, the suggestion of new taxes and opposition of the lawmakers to the fiscal proposals, traders shifted to the selling side. Utilities Bullish

Utilities were resistant most of the time as the theory was expounded that congress possibly would balk at appropriations for public-owned power plants to compete with private companies. In addition, earnings in this field continued favorable.

The British pound recovered sharply during the latter part of the week when the Bank of England shifted more than $1,500,-000,000 of its gold (at the pres ent market value) to the British equalization fund as a means of lessening pressure on this cur-in selling by some early buyers. Wheat closed 4-4 off, May 69 %-%, July 69 %-4; corn 4-% off, May 53 % - %, July 54 % 1/4; oats unchanged, May 30. In late trading, however, buy-ing support diminished and weak-47½, July 48½; lard 2 to 5

Rieder Gives Pruning Tips

Extension Circular Is Also Available at County Agent's Office

Pruning suggestions for fruit trees are given in an extension circular No. 320, written by O. T. McWhorten, just printed and now available at the county agent's office, according to Robert E. Rieder, assistant county agent and county horticultural inspector.

The subject of pruning fruit trees is a regular question as soon as the autumn leaves fall, and is one of the oldest orchard practices with which the orchardist must deal. In regions of mild climate, pruning can be done almost any time after the leaves fall. In the colder climates there is evidence that when severe or cold weather follows the December pruning, the trees are damaged sometimes beyoud recovery. Injury is said to be more severe when large cuts are made. Delay Sometimes Best

Time of pruning will depend somewhat upon the amount of pruning the grower has to do. When pruning can be delayed until just before the growing season, conditions are more favorable for the healing of wounds and the recovery of the tree.

Rieder advises that care should be used in pruning as hasty cuts often result in the removal of bearing wood that should be left in the tree. Any removal of vegetative growth will be at the expense of production of fruit. The tendency has long been toward too heavy pruning rather than too light. Other Tips Given

It should be remembered that pruning cannot replace proper soil management, and as long as the tree makes a good growth, to prune heavily is to reduce the yield. Many phases of pruning such as pruning young and old trees according to the system desired, according to the variety and soil conditions, are discussed in this

The circular may be obtained by request at the county agent's
