Dr. Bruce Baxter addressed the Tuesday night meeting, at which 184 men and women were present.

Tom Mooney Marches in Triumph

A thunderous welcome awaited Tom Mooney when he returned to San Francisco after his pardon by Governor Culbert L. Olson and marched up Market street past the historic places which figured so fatefully in his life 23 years before when he was convicted of the 1916 Preparedness day parade bombing. This picture, taken from nearly the same place as the historic photograph by which Mooney sought to prove his innocence, shows Mooney (arrow) as he passed and looked at the spot on the building (large arrow lower right) where he claims he and his wife were when the bomb exploded, killing 10. The arrow in the distance locates the approximate scene of the bombing.

Liquor Control's Report Released

58,469 Investigations Are Made Among Licensees During Past Year

Investigations numbering 58,469 were completed by inspectors of the Oregon liquor control commission during the year 1938, a report of the commission released Wednesday revealed.

Of this number 39,140 were license investigations. Other investigations completed during the year included 6534 involving hard liquor, 3745 complaints, 409 sanitation, 1787 bad order claims, 744 ownership and 1910 financial aid.

Many Retailers Warned
The report shows that inspectors for the commission gave 2117 oral warnings to licensees for minor infractions of the regulations and issued 284 violation tickets.

Thirteen licenses were revoked, 170 applications were refused, 157 licenses were suspended for a total of 2726 days, 29 wholesalers were suspended from selling for 440 days, 47 retailers were suspended from buying from certain wholesalers for 4500 days and 15 salesmen or employees had their permits suspended for 267 days.

351 Arrests Made
Arrests for illegal sale of hard liquor made by commission inspectors last year included 245 cases involving 351 defendants. There were 203 case convictions and 263 defendant convictions. Fines amounted to $14,188.60 and imprisonment for a total of 16,710 days.

On the same day from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. a planning conference will be held at the chamber of commerce to work out a program for the council for the coming year. President Clark has announced the following chairmen on committees: organization and extension, Dr. B. F. Pound; leadership training, Rev. George H. Swift; camping and activities, W. L. Phillips; finance, A. C. Haag; advancement, Custer Ross; health and safety, Dr. Vernon A. Douglas. Every scout and cubber is invited to attend the planning conference and annual meeting.

Fick's Herd High In County Testing

John Fick of Hubbard had high herd for November in the Marion county dairy herd improvement association, according to the report of Tester Aubrey Grayson just filed with County Agent Harry L. Riches. Fick's 50 cows averaged 635 pounds of milk and 35.5 pounds of butterfat for the month.

Second high herd was the Salem Indian school's 28 cows, which averaged 1025 pounds of milk and 35.5 pounds of fat; and third place went to Vernon Hepler, Aurora, with 22 cows that produced an average of 640 pounds of milk and 37.85 of fat.

During the month, 823 cows were tested for an association average of 579 pounds of milk and 28.02 pounds of fat per cow. An average of more than 10 pounds of fat was made by 178 of the cows and 24 dairy heifers were tested for a total of 26 full days.

Crippled Child Clinics Slated

Examinations February 28 to March 2 Are Free in Some Cases

Arrangements are being completed for crippled children's diagnostic clinics to be held in Salem for the benefit of Marion county children. The clinics have been made possible under the auspices of the crippled children's division of the state relief committee in conjunction with the Marion county department of health and the Marion county relief committee.

Any person under 21 years of age of apparent normal mentality who is suffering from a condition leading to a deformity of the bones, joints or muscles, or who is actually suffering from such a deformity may attend the diagnostic clinics, upon referral by the parents and the family physician. The deformities of cleft palate, harelip, burn contractures and plastic skin contractures are included in this classification.

Applications Now Ready
Application forms to attend the diagnostic clinics may be obtained from the Marion county department of health or the relief committee. If it is found that a family is unable to finance the cost of the recommended care, funds will be made available through the state relief committee following the clinic. These funds were made possible by a federal grant to the state on a 50 per cent matching basis. Work of this type is supplemented by funds raised from the president's birthday balls held throughout the county.

The diagnostic clinics will be held in Salem on February 28th, March 1 and 2. The examining orthopedic surgeons who will be in attendance at the clinics will be Dr. Harry C. Blair, Dr. Otis F. Akin and Dr. Leo S. Lucas. Miss Aileen Dyer, orthopedic nurse, and Dr. Job A. Abels, assistant director of the crippled children's division, will assist the Marion county health unit and relief committee during the clinics.

Dubach Describes Youth Viewpoint

American Spirit's Rebirth and Desire to Serve Are Needs, Dean Declares

A rebirth of the American spirit, a program which will get young people to talking about what they can do for their nation rather than what the government can do for them, is a method for leasing the 10 to 15 billion dollars which private industry is "under-spending" in the United States—these were some of the objectives outlined by Dr. U. G. Dubach, dean of men at Oregon State college, in an address at the Salem Rotary club luncheon Wednesday.

Basing his observations upon the reaction of college youth to present-day problems, Dr. Dubach said these young people are wondering whether a method for preservation of democracy is really going to be made by the so-called democracies; that adults are making it difficult for them to maintain moral standards; that youth "cares not a hoot" for doctrine in religion.

On the subject of economics, he said youth was decidedly skeptical of a system which produced hunger in the midst of plenty, and demanded an opportunity to make its way in the world now with no interest in "social security at age 65." He said it should be realized that nowhere does government guarantee jobs without denying freedom, and deplored the "almost open condemnation of successful men."

Ask Certification Of Relief Officer

The state relief committee has to date not complied with a request from the Marion county committee for certification of a person qualified to act as social service supervisor at the local relief office. It was reported yesterday by the state committee, the county body can not act.

The supervisors were left vacant at the end of December when Ruth Newton, whose services had been loaned to the county by the state committee last May, returned to her position in the state office at Portland.

The county committee is expected to discuss the subject at its January meeting, to be held within the next few days.

Treasury's Audit Completion Near

The supplementary audit of affairs of the Marion county treasurer's office will be completed and filed either late this week or the first part of next, S. W. Starr, chief of the division of audits of the department of state, announced yesterday.

The report will go into detail concerning the $23,935 discrepancy the auditors reported as existing in the office when they filed the general county audit recently.

Long-Delayed Suit Is Due at Dallas

Ruth Morris Asks $2000 From Marion County for 1933 Mishap

An automobile accident that occurred August 13, 1933, near the Senator McNary farm north of Salem is the basis for a $2000 damage suit against Marion county which is scheduled to go on trial in the Polk county circuit court at Dallas Monday.

The suit was filed in 1935 by Ruth Miller Norris, who alleged that as a result of settling of the roadway over a culvert an automobile in which she was riding, driven by William F. Miller, was thrown out of control and upset in a ditch. She claims to have suffered a hip dislocation, a back fracture, injury of the kneecap and other contusions and fractures.

District Attorney Lyle J. Page was busy yesterday making last minute preparations for the long-delayed trial.

Refugees Subject Of 'Time' Picture

"The Refugee."—March of Time's dramatic, pictorial document of today's most important involved problem, will be at the Elsinore Theatre today, Friday, Saturday.

To bring this story to the screen March of Time's cameras have taken pictures in war-torn Spain and China; in Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, France, England and the United States. In addition they have obtained exclusive pictures in Palestine which portray how 200,000 Jewish refugees there have turned vast areas of once-desolate country-side into fertile farm lands.

The feature attractions on the same program are "Young Doctor Kildare" and "The Last Warning."

1939 Legion Meet Set August 10-12

The 1939 American Legion department convention will be held in Salem August 10, 11 and 12, Carl Gabrielson, general convention committee chairman, announced yesterday. These dates were selected in an effort to avoid conflict with other conventions and with celebrations such as the Astoria regatta and Pendleton roundup.

The convention commission will complete its organization and start holding regular meetings in the near future. R. H. Bassett is convention secretary.
