"Dara it!—There's not enough hot water for my cold shower!"

When we can't take our health measures in comfort, life loses much of its flavor. Relaxing and learning to enjoy leisure is, as we are always being told, great health insurance. And, of course, the first step to enjoying real relaxation, is a snugly cozy but light-as-air housecoat. Soothing in color and trim, it must be, too. For many, the combination above offers just that—it's of turquoise blue flannel, interestingly bordered and button-covered with black flannel.
