

Associated Press Cameras Snap World Wide News Happenings

WITH THE COURAGE OF HER CONVICTIONS, wealthy Mrs. Harry Bijur marches with pickets in front of the fashionable New York building where she occupies a nine-room apartment. She denies any "red" leanings, says she'll help the men until they're put back to work. The signs carried by the pickets refer to the N. Y. state banking department which operates the building. "It's a matter of justice," Mrs. Bijur tells her friends. She and her husband have spent over $3,000 feeding the more than 29 striking employees since the men were called out two months ago.

LIFE AFTER 40 years of marriage holds but the pleasantest thoughts for Josef Lhevinne and his wife, Rosina (above), who observed their 40th wedding anniversary by giving a concert in New York and playing many of the piano duets for which they're famous. The Lhevinnes first met at the Moscow conservatory of children and later won its highest musical honors.

NINE LIVES HAD 'VELMIE' after this dog belonging to the J. E. Saunders of Bayswater, England, had whelped that many puppies—believed an unusual number for a bulldog.

HE 'KNEW HIS ONIONS,' and so this food-handler in the market district rested, dry-eyed, atop these contents, pending settlement of the truck drivers' strike which for six days tied up foodstuffs and motor freight in the Boston area.

YANKEE HOPES in Britain's traditional derby center on Foxborough II, American-bred and American-owned horse shown at Newmarket, England. An early favorite, the horse owned by William Woodward is from Sir Galahad III—Marguerite.

HEIR to a fortune that 5 and 10-cent stores helped build up for his mother, Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow (the former Barbara Huston), young Lance was taken to St. Moritz, Switzerland, for a winter holiday. He was born Feb. 24, 1936.

Long Island City children dig out daddy's car

Heavy snowfall blankets New York and most of the eastern United States and scenes like this are very familiar. Spades seem to be trumps in this game as these Long Island City children help dig out daddy's car.

CENSORSHIP trouble in Richmond, Va., cut short the run of "Eccentric" starring Betty Lamm (above), now in Hollywood. Film drew 12,000 persons before it was withdrawn.

A COUNTRY DOCTOR, Dr. Harriet McGraw (above) visited Washington, D. C., to meet with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in connection with the annual infantile paralysis drive. Dr. McGraw, as the only physician, since 1919, in an 86-mile-square area surrounding Tryon, Neb., offered her aid for infantile paralysis fund-raising drive. With her is Keith Morgan, committee chairman.

TOP POSITION in Pennsylvania's new cabinet goes to Sophia M. O'Hara (above), 55, named by Governor-Elect James as the first woman Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Speaker of the House William E. Bankhead

Weighty problems apparently confront Speaker William E. Bankhead of the house of representatives who is shown going over official documents and mail in his office in Washington.

Larry Donovan

Seized in the Hall of Justice in Los Angeles with a mask over his face, Larry Donovan, 25-year-old transient, was questioned by police in connection with the Cleveland, O., torso murders, a series of unsolved crimes. Police say Donovan carried a large butcher knife in his suitcase.

Amerikas Kreisengeier

... unter seinen Fittichen wagen die Ickes, Pittman und Konsorten die autoritären Staaten zu schwächen!

'MADE IN GERMANY.' this caricature on the U. S. coat-of-arms appeared in a Berlin newspaper with heading: "America's Circle Vultures." A Jewish star surrounds the hat, and the wing words, starting with "Hetzbe" and reading clockwise, mean: strictly, corruption, gangster hands, demoralization, lynch law, lies. The lever phrase, directed at Senator Key Pittman and Secretary Harold Ickes, reads: "Under his wings Ickes, Pittman and consorts dare to slander authoritarian states."

A POLITICIAN'S TOUCH was displayed by French Premier Edouard Daladier on his arrival at Bostin, Corsica, during a triumphal tour of French empire outposts. Daladier kissed the Corsican girl, one of three who thus greeted him and presented him a gold watch and some carnations. Corsica is one of the islands mentioned in the Italian colonial demands.

Battleship Regulus

In Grydock at Portsmouth, England, the British battleship, Regulus, is being prepared to take the British king and queen across the Atlantic in May for a visit to the United States and Canada.

GIVING THE GIRL A HAND—or rather, several of them—these patrons of Manhattan's leftish evening night club line up to congratulate Mary Martin, Texas singer whose debut as a night club sensation was as successful as her hit role in "Leave It to Me," a play. Left to right are Miss Martin, Beth Lory, Brenda "Glamour Girl" Frasier, and Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr.