Too, laughing one, it may be possible for you to giggle in your soup over the feat of a first-year youngster who scores 29 and 22 points, respectively, in those games. If you can, chucklehead, you're not looking at the matter from the same perspective as does a coach who has to send his team against that high-scoring aggregation and against that single-gation and against that single-shot point-making machine.

To be definite, Lena, you're not Harold Hauk, head man of the Vikings, who sends his ca-saba crew against the cavalry charges of the Chemawa Chiefs tonight out at the 14th and D street hoop hall. To Hauk, you next door neighbor to a hyens, those court-trashing Chiefs present a very definite threat.

Wide-Open Tilt Looms.

True, Lena, the Chemawas bave been beaten. Once by Molalla and once by Silverton, all in the same week. Hank sincerely wishes he had been playing the Chiefs dur-ing that week, for it seems the Gastineau-coached gang were in a

But Tuesday night, snicker puss, the Chiefs snapped out of their lethargy. Emphatically. "Missouri Mule" Gastineau elevated a young warwhoop named Arthur Van Pelt from his Bee squad to a forward berth on the varsity, and Van Peit daggum near out-pelted Backbone, the Injun who set a onegame WVI scoring record of 29 points against Lebanon. With Afraid-of-His-Tracks playing the pivetal spot in place of Wounded-eye and Van Pelt teaming with Backbone, the Indians smothered Independence 59-25. Backbone chucked in 22 points and Van Pelt

And, Lena, Chief Gastineau was thoroughly dissatisfied.
"The boys Just couldn't hit
'em," said the Missourt Mule after the ball game. "The re-vised lineup worked well, but the boys were off on their

It was against Lebanon that the Chiefs ran up 68 points, the game in which Backbone biffed in 29. The Vikings haven't come within 22 points of scoring that many in a single game this year. Oddly, it was against Chemawa, in their first sashay of the season, that the Vikings tallied their highest total. They beat the Chiefs 44-34 in that one. From there on 39 points has been the most the Vikings have been able to aggregate in a single Win, lose or draw, Lena, this gle your way into the Viking court tonight, Everything points to a wide-open gallop, the kind of a ball game that will de wonders for your blood pressure.
