By DR. FANNESS PARKER

Doctors will tell you it is astonishing the extent to which the health of the body is bound up in the teeth.

Many of the serious diseases of the nation have been traced to the teeth, or to the membrane, surrounding the teeth.

If your mouth is sometimes halloed, as the "Gateway to health," it can likewise be called the "Gateway to disease."

It is a mother's duty to her child to insist upon strict observance of the rules of dental hygiene. A clean, healthy mouth in a child should be a parent's first concern.

The reason is apparent in those childish diseases contracted in the school, the playground and other places of assembly. Germs lodge in neglected months—in many instances the cause tonsillitis, measles, colds and other diseases among children. By keeping your child's mouth in a clean, healthy condition you minimize this danger of infection.

Children should be taught at the earliest to brush their teeth. And mothers and fathers should make a special point in taking their children to the dentist for examination every six months at least. The need for saving children's teeth as long as possible is only equalled by the necessity of keeping their mouths free from germs.

Why not call at one of the nearby Parker offices and have your child's teeth looked over. Graduate, licensed dentists will assist you in whatever dental work is necessary. These offices can be found in every leading Pacific Coast city.

Chocolate Cake Has Favorite Flavoring

There's nothing that disappoints a chocolate lover any more than biting into a so-called chocolate frosted cake and finding the center—white. When a man wants chocolate cake, he wants chocolate cake. The makers of cake chocolate offer this recipe for an all-chocolate dessert, sounding good and who should know more about chocolate than they?

HUNGARIAN CHOCOLATE CREAM CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour

Add flour, alternately with cream, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in greased pan 8x12 inches, in moderate oven (350 degrees) 50 minutes. ### Today's Menu

Deviled spareribs contain so much variety that there's the whole main course in a dish. Endive-pickles pimiento salad
Deviled spareribs
Cornmeal muffins
Rhubarb Betty

DEVILED SPARERIBS
6 medium potatoes
6 medium onions
2 1/2 lbs. spareribs, cut into servings
1/4 cup tomato ketchup
1 tablespoon prepared brown mustard
2 tablespoons pure cider vinegar
1 teaspoon brown sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup water

Peel onions and potatoes, put in roaster and cover with meat. Blend remaining ingredients and pour over top. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) about 1 1/2 hours, or until vegetables are tender. Baste three or four times during baking, and remove cover the last 30 minutes to allow meat to brown. If sauce is not as thick as desired, boil over direct heat until of right consistency.

Custard Pudding Uses Graham Crackers
A dessert that includes graham crackers as an important ingredient is this one for custard, appropriate for winter menus:

GRAHAM CRACKER-CUSTARD PUDDING
10 graham crackers
1/2 cup softened butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cups scalded milk
3 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

Finely crush crackers, combine with butter, first sugar and cinnamon, blend thoroughly, and put a layer in the bottom of well buttered custard cups. Mix thoroughly cornstarch, second sugar and salt—add slowly to hot milk. Beat thoroughly. Cook in double boiler 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Beat together 2 egg yolks and one whole egg, reserving 2 egg whites for meringue. Blend a little of the pudding with the egg yolk mixture, return to double boiler, stir and cook 2 minutes. Add vanilla, pour into the custard cups. Make a meringue of beaten egg whites and 3 tablespoons granulated sugar. Spread on top custard filling. Sprinkle meringue with remaining crumbs. Bake in a slow oven (350 degrees) until lightly browned—about 20 minutes.

Dressy Desserts Take Cherry Soda
To make a dressy dessert to serve at company dinner, stir 1 pint bottle of ginger ale into a quart of vanilla ice cream, pile in parfait glasses and top with nuts. Another dessert, especially liked by youngsters is a bottle of cherry or strawberry soda, served in a tall glass with a generous ball of ice cream dropped in and stirred up.

Ingenuity and a bottle or two of carbonated drinks will do lots to make the family menu a dressy one. Youngsters especially like a dash of "down town" fizz in the desserts.

As each year rolls by, more and more women take up knitting as a practical, satisfactory and economical recreation. I call it recreation for many amusements can be made to pay their way.

Style is now more often acquired in home knitted garments than it was a few years ago, maybe because instructors and knitters are more proficient or perhaps because the sewer knows her business with increasing perfection.

Sports costumes always take well to knitting, woolen street costumes look smart when knitted and now this form of material has invaded the afternoon frock and evening gown field, with open coats and formal jackets of knit in high style. Knitted garments, in a word, have a very important place in every fashionable woman's wardrobe.

A fashionable shop in Paris carries nearly one-third of their line in knitted garments. Commercially knitted of course are her offerings, and materials used include cellophane, rayon, cotton, linen and chenille. They appear as tailored coats, and suits, that look for all the world like tweed.

Dressmaker details are being featured in knitted garments this spring more than ever before, with contrasting shades and variation in stitches also appearing. Ribbing simulates pleating, padded shoulders and interesting collars are seen.
