All Teachers Are Given Reappointment by School Board

LEBANON—Snow Peak camp of the Williams Valley Lumber company east of Lacombe is a busy place. Four buildings have been erected which will be moved later to be used as bunk houses at the upper camp in the Narrows, four miles east of the present setting. The buildings to be moved will be replaced by others for offices and utility buildings.

Twenty men are now at work clearing and building roads preparatory to tapping the fine timber belt purchased by the company in the Green Mountain section. Wayne Conser left last week for Idaho on his annual sheep shearing tour. He was joined by Honey Randle of Riddle and they will extend their tour to Montana and Washington. They are encountering rough weather.

The Edes nut plant has reduced its crew of workers as shelling will be dropped temporarily. Edes reports the large shipments over for this season, but he is still filling smaller orders.
