Health Report Covers Years

Review of Department's Work Since 1931 Is Made by Office

Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, county health officer, his issued the annual report of the Marion county department of health, the first one giving a review of the health department activities since 1931. Perhaps the most notable figure was that during 1938 there were no deaths from any major communicable disease. Since the establishment of the department in 1925 the number of cases and deat.'s of communicable diseases have decreased considerably.

Known facts of the number of cases of the venereal diseases ave increased greatly due to better reporting. During 1938 there were 2,359 treatments given for venereal diseases and 160. new cases were reported. During the period of 1920-25 no treatment was given for these

TB Control Tightens Tuberculosis control methods have been improved including more general tuberculin testing and X-raying as well as public health nursing service for cases and contacts. Tuberculosis is still a principal cause of death in Marion county, but its incidence is much less than in the United States as a whole and is being gradually reduced and brought under control.

More attention is being given to public health education and the field of mental hygiene. Child guidance clinics have been

The total number of births for 1938 were 1250 as compared to 766 deaths. Causes of deaths which are increasing are diabetes, cancer, kidney disease and home accidents. Death causes which are increasing are smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid, measles. whooping cough and tuberculosis. Mildew May Be Prevented Causes of death showing little recent change are heart disease, auto accidents, apoplexy and pneumonia.

Inspection Looms On Cover Crops

DALLAS - Farmers growing cover crops and wishing to comply under the agricultural conservation program for plowing them under should notify the Polk county agent's office immediately so that cover crop inspections may be made.

Farmers wishing inspections should notify Mr. Leth as soon as possible so than an inspection schedule can be worked out. Notification should be made several days before inspections are desired so that several inspections can be made in the same neighborhood, thus reducing the cost of doing this work.
