Rufus Holman is one of the sponsors of the proposal included: Clark (D. Mo.), Nye (R. ND), Vandenberg (R. Mich.), Frazier (R. ND), Lundeen (FL, Minn.), Shipstead (F. Minn.), Capper (R. House authors were Representatives Voorhis (D. Calif.), Case (R. SD), Starnes (D. Ala.), and Van Zandt (R. Pa.).
President Roosevelt, asked for his reaction to developments in central Europe, said he was not happy over the situation, but would not comment further.
It became known, however, that the United States government has formally communicated to Germany its condemnation of Hitler's seizure of Czechoslovakia as an act of "wanton lawlessness."
A note to Germany, made public by the state department today, refused to "recognize that any legal basis exists" for Hitler's protectorate over Bohemia and Moravia.

Welles' Statement Is Made Official
Enclosed with the note was Acting Secretary of State Welles' public statement of last Friday, denouncing Germany for the "temporary extinguishment" of Czech liberties.
By referring to Welles' statement as "the views of this government" and enclosing a copy of it, this government put the statement into the diplomatic record of relations between the two countries.
The diplomatic misstep was brief. After acknowledging receipt of the German note of March 17, informing this government of the decree announcing the assumption of a protectorate over the provinces of Bohemia and Moravia, it said:
"The government of the United States has observed that the provinces referred to are now under the de facto administration of the German authorities. The government of the United States does not recognize that any legal basis exists for the status so indicated."

Relief's Overhead Not up to County
So Rules Supreme Court; Will Have No Effect on Present Setup
Counties in Oregon are not required to pay any share of the state relief committee's (now the Oregon welfare commission's) administrative expenses, the supreme court held in a decision Tuesday. The court sustained Circuit Judge Winter and Stapleton of Portland in making its decision.
The decision will not affect costs in 1939 and subsequent years because the last legislative session provided that hereafter the state welfare commission pay all administrative relief costs from state funds.
The opinion was written by Justice Henry L. Bean who ruled that it would be as appropriate to require counties to pay a part of the governor's salary or expenses as to require them to pay relief expenses.

Rehearing Denied
The court denied a petition of Umatilla county for a rehearing on its suit in which it asked permission to build a new courthouse out of delinquent tax receipts.
Other decisions were:
First National bank of Portland appellant, vs. Blanche M. Wall. Appeal from Multnomah county. Suit involving administration of an estate. Opinion by Justice Belt. Judge James W. Crawford affirmed.
State land board, appellant, vs. Peter Schriefflin and others. Appeal from Clackamas county. Suit to foreclose mortgage. Opinion by Chief Justice Rand. Judge Earl C. Latourette, reversed.
W. C. Tremblay vs. Frederick G. Foulkes, Jr., defendant, and Floyd F. Eberly, appellant. Appeal from Yamhill county. Suit to recover price of logs. Opinion by Justice K. E. Kelly. Judge Arlie G. Walker affirmed.

Picket Bill Case Hearing Delayed
Hearing on the petition of D. E. Nickerson against Horace Mecklen and others over anti-picketing bill campaign expense statements has been postponed under an agreement for extension of time. Circuit Judge L. G. Lewelling announced yesterday. Arguments were to have been presented yesterday on Nickerson's motion to have William Knight and other defendants testify as to certain expenditures and produce certain records.
The late adjournment of the legislature brought about the time extension, the court explained. Ralph E. Moody, one of the defense attorneys, served as legal adviser to the house of representatives.

Tentative Lineup: Germany Vs. Rest of Europe

This map shows how Great Britain is endeavoring to line up most of continental Europe into a "stop Hitler" bloc, raising a theoretical fence around the new reich and Hungary, which seems certain to be swayed by Hitler's voice. Rumania is the focal point, with both Germany and England engaged in a battle of orderblanks for her rich trade. Nations England hopes to pull into line are indicated by diagonal shading; those which presumably will stand with Germany in vertical shading. Absorption of Memel by Germany was seen as the next Nazi expansion move.

Oregon's remarkable defense was the deciding factor in the final result. With three giants, "Slim" Wintermute, 6 foot, 8 inch center, and two forwards only a bit shorter, "Laddie" Gale and John Dick, the Pacific Coast entry presented a lineup so formidable the Oklahoma players were forced to make most of their field tries from long range.
The Oregon players appeared to be all arms. It was most disheartening.
For the winners, Dick proven most adept at hitting the mark. He led the entire scoring parade with 16 points. Jimmy McNatt, Squatty Oklahoma forward but one of the stars of the contest, hit the has the appointive power. Kindest regards.

Mr. Lafky yesterday stated that prior to the death of Mr. Ross, many of Zimmerman's supporters had urged his appointment by Governor Charles A. Sprague as utilities commissioner of Oregon. Lafky said this would bring about a long overdue "housecleaning and rejuvenation" of that post.
Zimmerman is known to be planning to make a statewide fight for the creation of PUD districts in Oregon. He has frequently criticized the utilities commissioner's actions as being in the interest of private utilities. Zimmerman said at the PUD hearings during the legislative session that the "utilities of our state regulate the commissioner, instead of being regulated by him."

Shooting incidents Add to Unrest
The situation was made more acute by two shooting incidents, one of German by a Rumanian Jew and the other of a German legation secretary, who died, German quarters said, after shooting himself.
In London an event which was to have been little more than routine was turned into a significant event in the light of the current crisis. President and Madame Albert Lebrun of France arrived on a state visit to repay that made to Paris last July by King George and Queen Elizabeth.
Last night the king and the president in banquet speeches stressed Anglo-French friendship and mutual "ideals of justice and freedom."
Germany in the face of all this was not idle. The reich economics ministry studied the 25 percent countervailing duties applied on its goods by the United States last week, and there were hints of retaliatory action.
Hitler Sends Note To Italian Duce
Hitler sent a personal note to Premier Mussolini explaining the events of the past week.
Britain in proposing the four-power declaration against aggression made it clear it would not apply if Germany and Lithuania made any deal to return the 1000 square mile Memel territory to the reich.
Early German annexation of Memel and its 150,000 inhabitants was accepted by diplomats as a foregone conclusion.
Soviet Russia, frowned upon for years by Britain, appeared to look coolly upon sudden British efforts for a united front against Germany. Moscow disclosed it had proposed a six-power conference for clarification of views, but that Britain had demurred the idea "premature."

Bar Here Honors Bayne and Albert
Resolutions Praise Both Men's Careers; Judge Lauds Ex-Teacher
Final words of high professional and personal tribute were expressed in memory of John Bayne and Joseph H. Albert, recently deceased members of the Marion County Bar association, at memorial exercises conducted in circuit court yesterday. The proceedings and memorial resolutions presented will be inscribed on the court journals.
Circuit Judge L. G. Lewelling spoke highly of both men. He mentioned especially his close personal acquaintance with Mr. Bayne, who was one of his instructors at the Willamette university college of law. Rollin K. Page, association president, presided.
Mr. Bayne's life was described as "an illustration of the value of right living and a high standard of citizenship" in a resolution drafted by C. M. Imanan, W. E. Keyes and Carey F. Martin and presented by Martin.
Although Mr. Albert was not an active member of the bar, he worked closely with the profession, maintained its standards and "throughout his life stood steadfastly to the ideals of professional conduct," read a second resolution drawn by Edward O. Stadter, Jr., John A. Helzell and Custer E. Ross and presented by Ross.

Land Purchase Bill Is Signed
Additional Capitol Site May Be Bought Under Board Discretion
An appropriation of $100,000 for the purchase of additional land for the state capitol group of buildings was approved yesterday by Governor Charles A. Sprague who signed the bill and sent it to the secretary of state's office. The governor vetoed the emergency clause on the measure which will now become effective June 14.
Under the new law, the state board of control is allowed to use its discretion in purchasing property north of the capitol site, in the area bounded by Capitol and Court streets and the new library building.
Numerous other bills, including most of the remaining appropriations by the ways and means committee, were signed by the governor. The measures signed include:
House bills 190, 497, 498, 531, 534, 541.

Douglas' Boyhood Is Recalled Here
Among Salem people who have especially good reason to be pleased at the appointment of William O. Douglas to the United States supreme court are Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Olson.
Dr. Olson, member of the Salem water board, was acquainted with the Douglas family after it located in the northwest, but Mrs. Olson knew "Orville" as the justice-to-be was known, as a boy in Maine township, Minnesota.
The Douglas family frequently stayed at the home of Mrs. Olson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brandt, when the elder Douglas, a missionary, came to their community to preach.
The Olsons were especially pleased at "Orville's" success because of his struggle against the handicap of poverty to acquire an education, they explained.
