

Cheats Death by Baling out

Captain H. A. Reynolds of the Army Air Corps Reserve is shown with the wreckage of his army training plane out of which he jumped when it became unmanageable because of ice formation. Reynolds landed in a tree, uninjured, near Canby, Ore., while the plane crashed in a nearby field.—AP Photo.

Daylight Saving Is Turned Down

PORTLAND, Ore., March 23.—(AP)—The sun and the clock will have the same relation this spring and summer as they did in the all winter, the city council decided in voting 4 to 1 against daylight saving.

Persons favoring a one-hour change from standard time asserted if daylight saving was good for the east it would also be good for Portland, that outdoor lovers, gardeners and golfers would be benefitted by the longer, sunny evenings and business dealings with the east would be on a more equal time basis.

Theatre, labor, musicians and a number of mothers who asserted their children would never want to go to bed as long as the sun was up, opposed the plan.

Valley Students Get High Grades

CORVALLIS, March 23.—(AP)—Thirty-one students were listed on the Oregon State college straight "A" honor roll by Registrar E. B. Lemon.

The scholarship "blue book" bore the name of Dorothy Evenden, Corvallis, senior in science, for the sixth time. Edmond Calavan, Corvallis, and Helen Elle, Dallas, won ratings for the fourth time.

Others included: Darle Dudley and Kenneth Clark, Salem; Harlet Kleinsorge, Silverton; Lawrence Zach, Mt. Angel; Beulah Budke, Dallas; Lester C. Dunn, John D. Gray, Clyde Rose, Corvallis.

Federal Aid Given Battleship Oregon

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(AP)—A second deficiency measure, including a $25,000 appropriation as federal contribution toward permanent mooring of the battleship Oregon in the Portland harbor, was approved today by the house. The measure went to the senate.

Klamath Relief Decline Laid to Good Weather

KLAMATH FALLS, March 23.—(AP)—Max Dudley, county welfare administrator, said the seasonal decline in relief volume, usually first noticeable in April, began in February this year. He said it was now running far ahead of schedule. Dudley credited good weather for the improvement.

Oddities ... in the News

CLEVELAND, March 23.—(AP)—Bruce, a milk-wagon horse, rated 100 for intentions today, but all he got was another trip around his route.

Dairy employes starting to load wagons found Bruce had disappeared when his driver's back was turned.

Detectives started a search. A bystander reported a milk wagon had gone around a downtown hotel block twice. The detectives took up watch. They found Bruce on his third trip around.

"Nice going," said his driver, "but we still have to get that milk delivered."

ST. LOUIS, March 23.—(AP)—Since a baby came into the family the city won't accept a statue of a woman to ornament the soldiers' memorial.

The contract called for two men and two women. When a model of one woman showed she was holding a baby, the board of public service refused to father it, even though Sculptor Walker Hancock of New York insisted it should be there to symbolize sacrifice.

"It's not our baby," declared Baxter L. Brown, president of the board.

The infant would add about $1,000 to the cost of carving the statue, which in Brown's opinion is "too much to lay out for the birth of a limestone baby."

PALO ALTO, Calif., March 23.—(AP)—If the principal decides to go through with the bargain, the Palo Alto municipal woodpile will take a beating for a few days from a college bred ax-man known to the football public as Tony Calve.

Calve, center on last year's varsity eleven, was charged by Palo Alto police with driving an automobile 60 miles per hour. Given the alternative of a fine or 20 hours on the woodpile he chose the latter. The woodpile was distributed among city institutions.

Bascom Johnson, New York, urged jailing of the racketeers and exploiters of harlots and correction of conditions which bring on new crops of harlots.

He said that statistics on social diseases, although still fragmentary, showed "pretty well" that "prostitution is the chief reservoir of venereal diseases."
