

Flax Festival Dates Are Set Tentatively for August 17 to 19

Rose Festival Float Planned

Silverton and Mt. Angel Uniting to Sponsor Button Sale

MT. ANGEL—It was revealed at the Business Men's meeting Monday that the dates for the Flax Festival have been tentatively set for August 17, 18 and 19. The show will be sponsored by the Flaxarians with Sam Slocum of Portland as manager.

The Flaxarians are also backing a movement which they plan to enter jointly with Silverton in the Portland Rose Festival. Plans are to sell 500 Rose Festival buttons. Buttons will admit the holder to the various attractions of the Portland show and also to attend a dance in the Silverton armory, which is being sponsored by Silverton and Mt. Angel. The sale of the buttons will also determine the selection of a queen and four princesses who are to ride in the float. Two of the princesses are to be from Mt. Angel and two from Silverton. The girls will attend the Rose Festival at the expense of the sponsors, who will also furnish their clothes.

A committee consisting of Elmo Lindholm and Frank Wray of Silverton and Ed G. Unger and Walter Smith of Mt. Angel are in charge. The float is to be coal trestled under the direction of Lieutenant Shields of the Silver Creek Falls CCC camp.

Plans for the softball season were reported by Louis Schwab. A pre-season softball league will be held in the new gymnasium Thursday, May 4. The game opener is planned for Tuesday, May 9, and will include a parade and about 20 prizes for "firsts" during the game. The league teams will be the young Men's Sodality, Catholic Order of Foresters, the Knights of Columbus, Woodburn, Needy and Monitor.

Chicken Is Cause Of Auto Accident

RICKREALL—Fred Hilson of Reedsport, traveling a mile north of Holmes Gap, moved in to allow a bus to pass, only to find he had to put on the brake to avoid a chicken.
