A Dainty Laura Wheeler Edging In Easy Crochet Changes All!

By ANNE ADAMS A fashion "idol" everywhere—the shirtfrock with soft flare in its skirt and crisp contrast in its bodice like Pattern 4135! Your eyes will tell you that, besides being so flattering, this new creation is the simplest of daytime styles to stitch up! How about choosing a checked silk, rayon or cotton... perhaps navy or red on white? The beauty of such a fabric is that it's as smart in town as at a seashore promenade... and it's both cool and cool-looking. The bias cut of the skirt will show up so prettily too! The bodice, youth note, is straight-cut, and buttoned to waistline for quick donning. Have collar and cuffs of dress fabric if you like! Pattern 4135 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric and 3/4 yard contrast.

Degree of Honor District Rally Held Monday

The western district of the State of Oregon Degree of Honor lodges held its rally in Salem Monday. Delegates were present from Medford, Eugene, Albany, Salem, Astoria, Cottage Grove, St. Helens and from four Portland lodges.

At the business session in the afternoon, music was in charge of Mrs. Gladys Eoff of Salem lodge. The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Bertha Bergman, president of the local lodge. Resolutions were made by Ethel Lindholm, state president and by members of the north and south portions of the district. A school of instruction in the ritualistic work of the order was conducted by Mrs. Lois A. Geiser, who is national usher as well as regional director for the national association for the states of Washington and Oregon.

The national secretary, Mrs. Kate S. Holmes of St. Paul, Minnesota, conducted a round table discussion on problems of the association which develop in the western district. Mrs. Minnie Brady of Portland, presented the work with the juveniles and emphasized its importance.

The annual banquet was held in the Mirror room of the Marlon hotel with covers placed for over 175 guests. The tables were centered with pink flowers and matching tapers. The speaker's table was centered with a heart-shaped arrangement with corsages marking places for the guests. Miss Helen McElroy played a group of accordion numbers.

Banquet Held Mrs. Kate Holmes, national secretary, gave the address of the evening. A business session followed with exemplification of the ritual. Thirty were initiated and the services were conducted by the officers of the Alberta lodge of Portland. The state glee club sang a group of numbers under the direction of Mrs. Alice Thompson.

Prizes for the largest delegation was given to St. Helens; for pioneer work on year books to Tabor lodge of Portland; Salem and Albany tied for outstanding year book. Three degree staffs including Albany, Alberta lodge and Tabor lodge of Portland presented team drills. State officers present at the meeting were Mrs. Ethel Lindholm, Portland, president; Mrs. Ella Smith, St. Helens, secretary; Mesdames Minnie Brady, Eva Traver, Minnie Card, Dorothy Heuer, Cordelia Ehaman, Lizzie S. Ellis, Sarah Moore, past state president, Mrs. Charles Ryan, state president of Washington, was special guest.

Style-Smiles --- by Gretchen

"Would you mind stamping on the floor a few times? I'd like to try out the tenants below before I sign the lease!"

For the annual spring homehunt, as well as for practically all street and business wear, a wool suit has become as inescapable a part of the wardrobe as it was 'way back during war days. But—with how much more variety in all its elements! A dark green and white plaid, such as the above, with bias stripes circling the jacket and flanking the kick pleats in the skirt, with such flatteringly square shoulders and smart high closing were never seen 20 years ago.—Copyright, 1939, Esquire Features, Inc.

Lecture Tonight at Art Center

Mr. Isaac Watkins of the Salem Art Center will give an interesting public lecture tonight at 8 o'clock in the main gallery of the art center. His topic will be "Photography as an Artist's Medium." In his lecture Mr. Watkins will show how the photographer has many and varied means of controlling his medium so that the photograph takes its place beside the etching and the lithograph as a medium for personal expression. He will also analyze some of the prints in the First Annual Salon of Photography and will study the Berenice Abbot photographs of "Chang New York," currently on view at the art center.
