County Native Returns-After 54 years' absence, E. B. Syphart, native of Marion county who left here as a lad of 18 years, has returned to Salem to tarry awhile. Yesterday, in reminiscent mood, he recalled how he resided more than a half century ago on the family's pioneer farm, then a rough plot of 200 acres, now a part of the present state cottage farm four miles south of Salem. He left this country and his family for reasons of health, going to reside with an aunt in Wooster O. Just a year ago he returned to Salem, then, reading about California's climate and sunshine, decided on a trip to the Golden state but after four months there he decided that, after all, there was more sunshine and aridity in his native state of Oregon. Mr. Syphart, who is staying at the Bligh hotel, says that he did not find many to remember him here on his return. He has a sister in Portland and a relative by marriage in Silverton.

New Army Head VFW Told How

To Avoid War Strong Defense, no Ties, Killing of War Profit, Is Van Antwerp Idea

Provide a strong national de fense, take the profits out of war, avoid European entanglements, strengthen democracy by making it work at home—these were the points emphasized by Eugene L. Van Antwerp, national comman-der-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who addressed a Salem group of veterans, representatives of patriotic organizations and others here Sunday. "We believe in national defense to avoid war," said the prominent veteran. "And we believe that another way to avoid war is to take the profits out of it. Revelations in congress in the last 10 years have shown that 23,000 new millionaires were created by the great war, and we know about shipyard workers who were paid from $25 to $50 a day and wore silk shirts. We want no more such profiteers. We would tax industry, commerce and labor to the point that war profits would be held to normal profits. This would not only cut down the profiteering but would provide the government with the necessary revenue to

Non-Alliance Strongly Favored The commander-in-chief said he had obtained in his travels a cross - section of opinion in the United States and that it was overwhelmingly against alliances or involvements in European affairs. Relative to the neutrality problem, Van Antwerp advocated no restraint on sale of war munitions -for cash-but proposed that "our ships go into war zones at the risk of the profiteer," and opposed the designation of aggres-

Governor Charles A. Sprague spoke briefly, stating his belief that the people of Oregon are not in favor of involvement in a European war.
