Tulip Larceny Is Confessed

Cases Continued Pending Restitution; Custer Sent to Jail
Lewellyn Emmons and Robert Hines, arrested last week for larceny of tulips and tulip blooms from E. P. McKell, pleaded guilty before Judge L. H. McMahan in circuit court department one yesterday, and the court continued the case for restitution.
Three other men recently arrested admitted guilt and Judge McMahan disposed of their cases as follows:
Robert Coonrod, charged with larceny of a car from Vance Cook, case continued for three months on condition defendant make restitution, with defendant to report to the court September 5.
Ray Custer, morals charge involving a minor, sentenced to county jail for 30 days and given credit for time served, which is a few days short of the sentence.
Harry Canning, uttering a forged check for $3.50, case dismissed.
In addition to the usual motion day list of business, three divorce complaints were granted, with all decrees to plaintiffs: Carol Creemen vs. Melvin Creemen; N. W. Chenoweth vs. Elsie Chenoweth and Barbara Boedighermer vs. Henry Boedighermer. In the latter case, plaintiff's name of Barbara Gehlen is restored.
In the Creemen case, answer and cross-complaint were withdrawn and the case went untried after stipulation was agreed to that no money judgment would be entered against defendant.
Another grist of foreclosure decrees in suits brought by the city of Salem in connection with assessment liens was handed down by Judge Lewellyn. Defendants, the amounts of liens due and interest accrued, are:
Natalie Klambunde, three liens of $188.93, each carrying $293.38 interest; J. W. Slocum and wife, two liens totaling $131.88 and interest, $205.99; Laura E. and T. H. Clark, five liens totaling $613.91 and $1005.15 interest; P. A. Elker et al. $117.34 and $178.06 interest; Nathaniel Murphy and Doris Colwell, three liens of $170.30, each carrying $268.41 interest; George E. Simpson and wife, four

Famous Lecturer Describes Indies

National Salvation Army Secretary Speaker at Citadel Tonight
Commissioner Edward J. Parker, national secretary of the Salvation Army, will deliver his famous lecture, "Jamaica Journeys" tonight at 7:45 o'clock at the local army Citadel, 241 State street. The commissioner is stopping here on his lecture tour in a party which covers Spokane, Seattle, Portland, and other major cities of the western territory.
This outstanding Salvationist represented General Evangeline Booth at the golden jubilee congress in the West Indies territory, a little over a year ago and while there personally took motion and still pictures of this paradise of the Caribbean Sea.
Lecture, Pictures, Tell Story
His lecture of two hours, with lantern slides and motion pictures all in color, is noted for its beauty, poignance, humor and novelty, which coupled with good photography, gives not only a graphic high picture of beautiful Jamaica, but a stirring insight into the Salvation Army's activities in the West Indies.
While there, the commissioner addressed a multitude in the grandstand at the Jamaica races course; spoke to the prisoners at the general penitentiary; addressed a packed throng at the Ward theatre and with Governor Denham, planted a tree at the blind institute, where the blind students sang merrily, and afterwards pathetically touched the trees.
