

Mother's Day Drive Shows Fine View

Mother's day again, and the world in unison turns on the cheer for mother, goes rather sentimental for a day, then lapses back into routine life, taking the dearest of relatives as a matter of fact for another year.

She'll appreciate a nice gift, but more than the present itself she will appreciate the sentiment that's back of it, and a day spent with her family will mean more than all the roses at the florists.

Eating out is probably as nice a present as the family can give on Mother's day, for no matter how much help is included among the guests on a holiday, the mother of the family (if it's her house) takes responsibility for cleaning the house in anticipation of coming guests, and in putting away afterwards.

Dining out, downtown, or on the highway, is a real treat to most housewives who see a home dining room all too often. Perhaps one of the best forms of entertainment for this day will be for the family to take a leisurely drive over the Pull county hills, or out Jefferson way, or toward the east past the state hospital grounds and back by the new forestry and highway buildings.

However, gifts are in order for the day, and if your mother likes flowers, she might appreciate some nice perennials, potted and ready to plant outdoors. A basket of rootlet pansies makes an attractive looking gift.

A whole box of silk stockings will give most any woman a thrill. There might be variety of color for every occasion.

If your mother is a lover of pretty little things, gadgets, let's or what have you, she'll like a dainty Dresden figure, a glass vase or perhaps a piece of flat silver.

Perfume is feminine enough to please any woman. Cologne is the same. Lingerie, books, jewelry and other frivolous gifts will please her vanity and do something for her very own.

Among the gifts for Mother's day let's suggest some gadgets that will make her daily duties a greater pleasure. If roasting meat is a frequent task in the family kitchen, give a meat thermometer for Mother's day, a convenience that will make the roast a simple thing to prepare correctly.

Perhaps she'd like a new toaster, electric pad, a hot plate for summer, or a new scatter rug for the front hall.

Jam Tops Cake for Speedy Sweet

Strawberry jam, or any other rather thick preserve left, perhaps from last year's supply, will make a quick topping for a quick cake. Here's the method: SPICED JAM NUT GLAZE

1/2 cup confectioner's sugar 2 tablespoons strawberry jam 2 teaspoon cream 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind

1/2 cup chopped Brazil nuts Cinnamon Combine sugar, jam, cream, salt, and orange rind, and blend well. Spread thinly over top of cake layers as soon as they are removed from oven. Sprinkle evenly with chopped nuts and dust with cinnamon. Cool on cake rack and store without removing from pans.

Summer Squash Buttered Or Fried, Good

George Rector, world famous writer in foods and owner of the famous "Rector's" says to cook the small Italian marrow or Zucchini with the skins on, the larger ones are to be sliced. Season only with butter.

Some people like to dip summer squash in batter after they're cut in long fingers. Frying in deep fat gives a good flavor.

Summer squash (and that includes Zucchini) is sometimes creamed after being cut in dice and steamed.

Eggplant recipes will usually pass for summer squash ones too, so if you're family is especially fond of fried eggplant they'll probably like fried Zucchini.

Cotton, Rayon Increase In Popularity

A discussion was printed recently on the importance of rayon and other synthetic silks and the question of its replacing wool and cotton production. Although the production of this material has increased with surprising rapidity in the past 20 years, US cotton specialists believe that it will not continue to increase. They believe that it is approaching the limit of expansion into fields which it is suited.

While rayon production has increased cotton as a material for dresses, underwear and similar uses has also increased in the past few years. In Germany rayon has been substituted for cotton under government decree.

Gooseberries in Markets now, Make Jam

Gooseberries say hello to Salem housewives today with their appearance in the markets this week. They're displayed alongside very good looking strawberries that will mix nicely with them to make jam.

Avocados are still in market and mix with either fruits or vegetables to make salad.

Rhubarb is getting to be redder. Abundant at most markets and grown in many local backyard gardens.

Citrus fruits are good, with grapefruit, oranges and lemons making up the list.

Bananas are offered at special prices. The vegetable list offered at local shops is even more plentiful.

Asparagus of course is the best bet on new vegetables. Peas are not local, but are very good and found at all markets.

Carrots are new and tender. Beets are this spring's crop as are turnips.

Cucumbers and tomatoes will join forces to make salads. Tomatoes are appearing with thin bright red skins. Cucumbers are good.

Radishes are found in both red and white varieties. Green onions are mild.

Spinach and lettuce complete the list of greens found everywhere.

Cauliflower is good a me-time, other displays show it in less desirable form.

Celery is crisp and green. Zucchini, those cucumber like squashes are found at most shops and open the summer squash season.

Were you expecting me today? I've forgotten where I was going! If your suffer from occasional amnesia, carry this picture with you on your next shopping expedition. The coat, for instance, will take you lots of places and always with becoming grace. Wide smoking, instead of a belt, makes the skirt wait when you walk and blouses the bodice prettily. Three buttons at the waistline close it in front. "Deep purple" matches the frock on the right to the song, and with equal rhythm in its soft bodice draping and front skirt fullness.
