MARRIED SATURDAY—Mrs. Howard N. Dietrich (Edna Mathis) who was married at the home of her parents Saturday at a high noon ceremony. The couple will make their home in Portland.

MUSIC Music week is past, but the world is richer for the intimate glimpses of good music provided over the air and locally in recitals, under the leadership of Mrs. Walter Denton for the 16th time.

Each year the movement to set aside one week when music is uppermost in importance, has gained impetus until we in America, for these short seven days, approach the European spirit in sheer joy found in joining others in melody.

These music festivals are only public repetitions of work done in the schools of today. Contrast this assemblage of young singers with their rhythm bands, elementary school orchestras and choruses singing four-part rounds, to those of the last generation with their singing in unison of "We're Tenting Tonight" and "Juanita."

Outstanding features of the program were the rounds, the Highland boys' chorus who take themselves mighty seriously in their white shirts and sleeked black hair, the rhythm band in caps and capes with two serious cymbal players beating perfect rhythm, the tines with their sweet little voices singing "The Big Bad Mouse," and the older youngsters in part singing. The band leader who so creditably pinch-hit for Gordon Finlay had never seen the all-city elementary band until Friday morning, yet he led them with dignity. So goodbye again to music

Modern Mother Goose Dance Review

"A Modern Mother Goose" in dance review form will be presented at the Capitol theatre on June 1 and 2 when Barbara Barnes offers her 11th annual recital in Salem. The story is unique, with Mother Goose verses to be heard from the pages of the book. Characters, upon emerging, will recite the verses in modern manner. The dances and songs will have a dash of 1933 with the shag, Sui-G, banana split and truckin' until Mother Goose has been thoroughly modernized.

An exhibition of lithographs of theater arts is now on view in the little theater of Waller hall at Willamette. It includes a number of historical plates of famous stage productions, ballet and dance scenes. The Willamette players will soon give their second "Blue room" performance at the Center.

A new instructor at the Center is Arthur Wassor, who will conduct a theater arts workshop. His special activities will be to develop a puppet theater. He is widely known for his puppetry, and has until recently been with the Federal theatre in Portland. He graduated from the University of Washington, and has had special study at Reed college with Lloyd Reynolds. Included in his classes will be several puppet units during the summer for the children's classes. They will take the place of the children's play production class which was in progress all winter.

The present exhibition of all student art shows for the first time the wide variety of classes and methods of teaching. Obvious it is that students at the Center are being turned in different patterns. There is competency throughout, and especially in the adult painting, tremendous differences in individual approaches in painting. The next exhibitions at the Center will include the second annual show of art in Salem public schools. This year, instead of all paintings, the show, being arranged by Mrs. Ida Andrews and Val Clear, will show special units of work from each school. From McKinley will be exhibited unusual dolls, made in classes on South American studies. From Highland will come two very large maps, made by students, and from Garfield will be shown a group of fish paintings made in special study. The other exhibition will consist of a large process show, in which the art of mosaics will be graphically presented.

The committees of Art Center association will start meeting soon to develop the work of the Center. The important educational activities committee is this year headed by Mrs. Otto K. Paulus. Mrs. Clifford Madd is chairman of extension work, which will include assisting in developing branch art centers throughout Oregon. The first meeting of the proposed Klamath Falls Art center, a branch of Salem's, will be held this week. Val Clear will spend several days there helping start work. Col. Carl Abrams is chairman of a house and grounds, Mrs. David Bennett Hill, of entertainment, Mrs. Ida Andrews of library, Mr. Sidney Stevens of membership, Mr. Bob Boardman is chairman of publicity, and Mrs. George R. K. Moorhead of volunteer service.

The boys of the Sacred Heart academy will give a recital at St. Joseph's hall on Tuesday at 8 o'clock. Included will be instrumental and vocal solos, numbers by the boys' glee club and instrumental ensemble numbers.

The Elsie Ebsen drama class will meet in the fireplace room of the public library Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. W. E. Kirk will give a review of "I Wanted to Be an Actress" by Katherine Cornell.

$15,000 to $35,000 and Many Years of Study to Become A DOCTOR. THIS IS THE FIRST of a series of talks, that will appear in this newspaper throughout the year, on the Doctor—and what Medical Science is accomplishing toward the health of the individual and the community. You know, of course, that for an M. D. to qualify as a practicing physician, it is necessary that many years be spent in study, preparation and practice. The average time consumed by a Doctor in study, preparation and unproductive practice is around twelve years. These unproductive years and the actual money spent totals from $15,000 to $35,000, depending on the individual, and source of education. QUISENBERRY'S Central Pharmacy 1276 N. Liberty Ph. 9592
