EVERYBODY WINS N-E-W-S

By JACK WILSON

First we will mention last week's bonus winner for the benefit of those who have not read the announcement in a previous paper. The weekly $25 winner—Mrs. J. R. Baker, 454 Marion St.

This week is opportunity week in the Everybody Wins contest. This is an excellent chance for those just entering or those with a low number of votes. Every coupon of 100-vote denomination brought in to campaign headquarters or deposited in the ballot boxes from Monday morning, May 22, till Saturday night, May 27, at nine o'clock will be credited in the contest as two hundred votes. This will be positively the only double amount of votes to be offered during the entire campaign. There is also a coupon at the bottom of this column good for 5000 votes if brought in to campaign headquarters at 470 N. Com'l. St. along with ten regular Everybody Wins coupons and will be credited to the party whose name appears on it. This is an excellent opportunity—get in now and get off to a good start.

Candidates and their friends should remember when in the Hollywood district that coupons are also given in that part of the city. When in need of oil, gas or other things for your car stop in at the Hollywood Service Station, 2121 Fairgrounds Rd., and get polite, quick service along with high quality products. This station is owned and operated by Roy Batdorf and son Dick. They have been in this location four years. Previous to this Roy worked in the Service Dept. of the Valley Motor Co. and worked there approximately 20 years. When not helping dad at the station Dick goes to Oregon State College. The Hassenstab Music Co., another of our sponsors, is also located near this part of Salem. They were formerly at 153 S. Liberty but now are doing business at 2140 Maple Ave. They have a studio and also handle musical merchandise. Mr. J. C. Hassenstab is instructor and director of the Master Bread Band. Prior to coming to Salem three years ago, he was director of the American Legion Band at Silverton.

As the contest goes along excitement increases and each Saturday is a hurry and scurry at campaign headquarters as those who are trying to get an extra $25.00 on their way to winning the car come in with the votes. On Saturday it could be easily said that the name of the person in the lead changes 100 times.

Always keep in mind when securing votes in the next few days that this is OPPORTUNITY WEEK and that you are credited double for all the 100-vote coupons you turn in in this period.

This means if you turn in a 100-vote coupon you receive credit for 200 votes.

Carter Given 90 Day Term

Youth Fined $50 for 2nd Reckless Driving Rap in few Months

Robert Carter, 22, was sentenced to 90 days in jail and ordered to pay a $50 fine when he reversed a former plea and pleaded guilty in Salem justice court yesterday to the second reckless driving charge brought against him in recent months. Judge Miller B. Hayden said he also would recommend revocation of Carter's operator license.

The more recent charge against Carter resulted from an automobile collision on the Pacific highway south of Salem May 15 in which Lester Browning, driver of the other car, suffered a knee fracture.

Plea of innocent were entered in the same court by Walter G. Hanna, 47, to charges of wanton injury to personal property and assault and battery. Both complaints were signed by Evan Deane. The first involves an automobile belonging to I. S. Moudy. Court attaches said Hanna was alleged to have struck the machine with a piece of iron pipe.

In circuit court yesterday the case of Mrs. Arthur Heater vs. state industrial accident commission, in which modification of a compensation order is asked, got under way before a jury and Judge L. H. McMahan. Mrs. Heater originally asked for an award based on permanent total disability but in a supplemental complaint yesterday demanded temporary total disability compensation only, from January 9, 1937. She was injured while employed at the Henry Lichy hop yard on September 19, 1935.

Mary Ball vs. L. C. Ball; plaintiff granted divorce, custody of three children and confirmation of property settlement under which defendant is to pay $75 or $50 a month to plaintiff, according to nature of her employment. Plaintiff is given ownership of her business in Turner and releases any interest she may claim in the Ball Brothers partnership.

Herbert Jerman vs. Albert and Thomas Lenner; motion to take deposition of plaintiffs at Washington Sand & Gravel Co. vs. Salem Sand & Gravel Co.; demurrer to complaint.
Ella Cox vs. Jennings Cox; renewal of judgment first entered in 1929, providing for payment of $15 a month for support of minor child until May 1, 1939.

Probate Court—Peter Rund estate; appraisal, $2000, all real property, by George H. Bell, George A. Smith and Joseph Fisher; probate proceedings dismissed on motion of Leo Rund, executor, on showing that property was foreclosed upon by mortgage.
Mary L. Fulkerson estate; petition for admission of will and appointment of Harvey H. Stanton, brother, as executor of $5000 estate and Alice H. Page, Leo N. Childs and Irene Reichelt as appraisers; will leaves all household furnishings and effects, including jewelry, and one-half of remainder of estate to Lydia L. Hunt and divides other half equally between Harvey H. Stanton, Salem, and Charles J. Stanton, another brother, Las Vegas, Nev.

Marriage Licenses—Robert E. Rieder, 26, assistant county agent, 322 North Church street, and Marguerite Smith, 22, student, 460 Mission, both of Salem.
Harry Herman Schultz, 28, glass worker, Portland, and Cecile Joy Greig, 27, stenographer, Salem route seven.
Charles L. Ross, 24, clerk, 1340 Chemeketa street, and Hazel Crowley, 20, page, at library, 340 North 13th, both of Salem.

Justice Court—Clyde A. Johnson; $5 fine, speeding with truck.

Marion County Jersey Breeders Enjoy Outing
Thirty-five Jersey breeders and friends attended the breeders' picnic held Sunday at the Beach Ham-barn near Jefferson. Miss Lu Miller, who was born on this farm 31 years ago, was among the guests. The Miller farm was one of the first to breed Jersey cattle in Oregon.

Reserves' Chief

Besides Marion county breeders, persons were present from Albany, Shedd and Kings Valley.

Dalton Is Elected To Head Officers

Lieut. Kenneth W. Dalton of Salem was elected president of the Reserve Officers association, department of Oregon, at that organization's convention in Corvallis last weekend. Lieut. Dalton is the first reservist not a World War veteran to be elected to this office and, at 32, the youngest.

Dalton will leave by air about June 15 for Puerto Rico to attend the association's national convention. He has appointed Lieut. Wilson Wilt of Salem as department adjutant.

The department also selected Salem as its 1940 convention city. The Marion-Polk county reserve officers' chapter was awarded the Flynn trophy as the most efficient chapter in the state during the past year.

Delegates to the convention from the Marion-Polk chapter were Captain E. R. Austin and Lieutenants Cecil Edwards and C. L. Fritz.

State May Enter Mining Business

The state of Oregon may find itself in the mining business, according to Lewis Griffith, secretary of the state land board, and State Treasurer Walter E. Pearson.

Griffith and Pearson, upon their return here Monday from Douglas county, reported that the Cidhar mine had struck a rich vein of quicksilver on land abutting state property. In case the vein extends to the state land, which Griffith said was probable, the state would be in a position to demand a liberal royalty.

April Road Toll Cut 40 per Cent

Fifteen persons were killed in traffic accidents in Oregon during April, a decrease of 40 per cent from the toll of 25 for April, 1938. Secretary of State Earl Snell reported Monday.

While traffic deaths decreased there was an increase of five per cent in mileage on the Oregon highways.
Total traffic accidents for April, 1939, showed a slight decrease under those for April, 1938, there being 2385 this year as compared to 2470 last year. Number of persons injured virtually was the same, 453 this April and 457 in April a year ago.

Pedestrian deaths for April of this year totalled three, a decrease of 62 per cent when compared with deaths in April, 1938. A total of 1001 or 41 per cent of the accidents reported occurred on Saturdays and Sundays. Six accidents occurred at railroad crossings, 1084 at intersections, 169 on curves and 66 on bridges.
Sixty-nine per cent of the drivers involved in accidents had six years or more experience.
