

Kuhn Is Taken During Flight

"Just Common Thief" Is Accusation of Dewey Against Nazi

Band members who were convicted at Riverhead, N.Y., of neglect to file with the state records of their official personnel.
The detectives told Dewey that Kuhn's car stopped at Kramville for gasoline. Dewey said traveling bags had been picked up at three separate stops in New York earlier in the day by Kuhn and his companions, identified by Dewey as Thomas Dixon, New York; Gustave Elmer, Hoboken, N.J. and Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, New York, the latter one of Kuhn's band lieutenants.
Band Head Waives Extradition
Dewey, declaring conviction on all counts could result in maximum prison terms totaling 50 years, said Kuhn waived extradition and was being returned here immediately by automobile.
Kuhn's departure came two days after he was called before a grand jury here but was excused upon refusal to waive immunity.
The grand jury investigation of the band grew out of an inquiry instigated by Mayor Laguardia and carried out by Investigation Commissioner William Herlianda.
Dewey quoted Kuhn as saying he and his companions had been on their way to Chicago and Milwaukee, where Kuhn was scheduled to speak tomorrow night and Saturday.
Dewey said the men's traveling bags contained band uniforms, among other things.
Kuhn, a German World War veteran who claims to have helped Adolf Hitler in his abortive Munich "Beer Cellar Putsch" of 1923, went from Germany to Mexico soon after, and entered the United States in 1927.
He worked for Henry Ford as a chemist in Detroit and was naturalized in 1933.
The same year he joined "The Friends of New Germany," became president the next year and changed the organization's name to the German-American band, and moved his headquarters to New York City.
The band now is estimated to have between 200,000 and 300,000 members in more than 65 posts throughout the country.
Probably its most impressive display was its Washington's birthday rally in Madison Square Garden, attended by more than 20,000.
The band publishes newspapers in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Los Angeles, a national young people's magazine, and maintains a score of summer camps.

First to Reach Sunken Sub

Navy Diver Frank P. Miller, above, carrying his diving suit, told a graphic story of how he reached the deck of the submarine Squalus, trapped on the ocean floor 15 miles from shore. The noise of his heavy boots on the deck of the sunken craft was a signal to the submerged crew that rescue was at hand. Miller was down on the submerged vessel only 15 minutes, connecting a downward cable from the diving bell.

Roosevelt Signs Naval Funds Bill

pleted action on a bill authorizing a $54,000,000 construction program at naval shore stations.
This measure was sent to President Roosevelt when the house accepted senate amendments authorizing purchase of two privately owned graving docks at Hunters' Point, in San Francisco bay, for $4,000,000.
Other major items in the bill included a $2,485,000 graving drydock for large vessels and a $2,000,000 drydock for small vessels at the Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, navy yard; a $1,750,000 graving drydock at the Mare Island, Cal., navy yard; a $3,000,000 drydock at the Puget Sound navy yard; $1,365,000 for new buildings at the Norfolk naval training station; and $3,018,000 for new buildings at the Parris Island, S.C., marine barracks.

Noted Pianist Hit By Heart Attack

NEW YORK, May 25.—(AP)—Igor Jan Paderewski, 75, the famous pianist and former premier of Poland, suffered a heart attack tonight which caused cancellation of his scheduled concert appearance in Madison Square Garden.
In announcing the cancellation, concert officials described the attack as "slight."

Paderewski became ill at the start of his current American tour but recovered and traveled across the country giving concerts with much of his old-time fitness.
About 10,000 persons had entered the Garden when announcement of his illness was made.
When announcement of his illness was made, some persons in the audience began crying and praying.

Boy Is Assessed For Negro Attack

OREGON CITY, May 25.—(AP)—Don Goodrich, 17, was fined $50 but given $40 of it back by Justice of the Peace Paul C. Fischer today following the youth's conviction on an assault and battery charge in connection with the beating of Eddie Smith, 13-year-old negro.
Don's father, Robert Goodrich, 42, was acquitted.
E. M. Flowers, guardian of the negro lad, had charged the Goodrichs with the attack, asserting the incident developed from a quarrel between Smith and a younger Goodrich boy.
The Portland branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People recommended leniency. It declared "vindictive justice" was not sought and no "hard feelings" should prevail in the neighborhood.

Principal Emeritus J. C. Nelson awarded the cup that bears his name, given annually to the student who in the opinion of the social science department has been the best all-around student, to Richard Gookins.
Superintendent Elias Galsor presented diplomas to the 521 graduates, who marched across the stage to receive them, together with Superintendent Galsor's congratulations.
Directed by Lena Belle Tartar, and accompanied by Gladys Crawford, the school chorus sang three short numbers. Marjorie Broer, accompanied by Kathleen Broer, gave a flute solo, the processional and recessional were played by Glade Pollis, while Elizabeth Anne Herrick played the prelude.
Rev. George Swift gave the invocation, and Rev. C. W. Pogue the benediction.

No Harm to Farm In IEA Changes

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—Proposals to amend the interstate commerce act to prohibit possible harm to Pacific northwest farmers and shippers, Senator Wheeler of Montana declared today.
During a debate on a measure which would extend federal regulation to water carriers, Senator McNary of Oregon propounded a hypothetical case to determine just what effect the measure would have on the rates no available to grain growers and shippers using the Columbia and Snake rivers to move their commodity to market.
"If the interstate commerce commission is honest and does an honest job—and we all think they are honest—then there can not be any damage at all," said Wheeler. "We have written into the bill a provision that they shall take into consideration the advantages of inland water transportation."

McNary's question was based upon the premise that congress would authorize and build the Unatilla dam on the Columbia river, thus providing inland navigation between Lewiston, Idaho, and the mouth of the Columbia, 400 miles westward.

Delay in Pension Bill Vote Is Seen

Representative Hendricks (D-Fla.), whose name the pension bill bears, accused Fish of an attempt to embarrass him and asked the New Yorker if he hadn't ever introduced a measure at the request of some organization.
Outside the committee room, Hendricks told newsmen the passage wasn't as funny as it seemed—that such language could be found in the present United States law code.
Hendricks appeared at the hearing along with Chairman Doughton (D-NC) and Rep. Treadway (R-Mass.), of the ways and means committee.
The rules committee asked a lot of questions of all three.
Hendricks, in reply to one, predicted the bill would not pass but asked for house consideration anyway.
"You can't get the old people to believe they're not going to get this until the house votes it down."
After such an unfavorable vote, he asserted, "maybe we can get down to something reasonable."
Doughton told the rules committee he was against the bill itself but had voted for house consideration of a widespread demand.

posals to Russia, but responsible sources said they included:
1. A mutual assistance pact which would become operative in the event of direct aggression upon the European territories of any of the three signatories—a Russian-Japanese conflict would be outside its scope.
2. Provision for consultation in case of direct aggression against territories guaranteed by them.
3. Consultations among the general staffs of the three governments to insure efficient collaboration should they be called into action.
In Rome, meanwhile, the Italian government announced 10,400 soldiers would be brought home from Spain. They were the last of the more than 40,000 admitted officially to have been sent to Spain to aid the nationalists win the Spanish civil war.

"Ecstasy" Still Showing Despite Women's Protests

SUGENE, May 25.—(AP)—Midnight theatre audiences will continue to see Hedy Lamarr's "Ecstasy," despite protests of women's organizations, city officials decided today.
The mating picture, made several years ago in Europe, was banned in the United States until recently. City officials clipped three scenes from it here, however.
