Pioneer loop—as was announced in Sport Sparks last week . . . Beard has been playing outfield for Lewiston, and hitting in the clean-up slot . . . On paper, anybody's paper—and especially if they are successful in signing Oregon State's Frank Mandic and Klein-Wait's look to be the strongest of the six clubs making ready for Summer softball league play. But that Square Deal infield, and the steady pitching of Hank Singer, is going to be a tough combination to hurdle. The Gentzkow trio, with Brother Bill at second, Brother Dick at short and Brother Bernie at third, balances out as the hardest hitting, best fielding infield trio in the league . . . And, softball Suzies and Henrys, there is bound to be more emphasis on defensive ability with that pitcher's box set back better than two feet . . . Weakest sister of the loop will undoubtedly be 20-30, unless the Calif., airplane factory worker, he Numbers outfit strengthens considerably between now and June two Indianapolis races in a row.

Schoen's Bakers, with the battery of Larson & Larson working in a much healthier atmosphere than last season, and with a generous sprinkling of talent, may make a three-way fight of it with Wait's and the Dealers . . . But the Papermakers, last year's champs, are badly in need of one Per-cy "Windmill" Crofoot, and the Pheasants, though boasting such sluggers as Bud Forgard and Ike Eisiminger, also need pitching strength.

Half the National league clubs had better won and lost records on the road than at home last year, being the Cubs, Cards, Pirates and Dodgers, while all the American league clubs were better at home . . . Chicago papers refer to the American league as the Yan-kee league—and isn't it? . . . Travis Cross, our astute little scorekeeper out Parrish way, thinks Kenny Lenaburg, young-ster just recently arrived in Salem from the mid-west, may be the answer to the Paper makers' pitching problem.

Frisco Fussed.

Frisco wasn't as fussed when Rotary Bread was shoving him all over the field during last fall's state softball tourney as he was yesterday noon when presented with a gold wrist-ticker by Salem fans . . . But Ump Edwards was pulled out of a bad hole by Bill Phillips, who set him at ease with a stentorian "boo" . . . "The old statement that 'everybody hates an umpire' can't be right," said Frisco as he received the swelligant tick-tock . . . Ike Eisiminger will play the initial sack for the Gutteridge who stepped on third Pheasants this year, instead of galloping in the outer garden, where last year he proved to be one of the best fielding and hardest hitting outfielders in the loop.
