Adult Education

News of the presence of Mrs. Mary S. Grubbs, 70, among the "sweet girl graduates" of the high school at Mansfield, Wash serves to downeting the matter the matter, call on me. Very truly. Wash., serves to dramatize the entire subject of adult education, though Mrs. Grubbs departed from the general course of in 1858 and was about 16 or this program and elected to obtain her belated diploma 17 years old when the remains through the regular educational channels.

The concept of adult education is challenging; it has Burlingame was a national figopened up an entirely new field of activity. Recent psycholo- ure and paid more than a passgical findings support its practicability. The writer was taught 20 years and that "the average person never has a new idea after age 25." While that may yet be true, it has been makes the 'lonely grave" story established by competent tests that learning ability diminishes very slightly with age; it is only the will to learn that ordinarily suffers, and Mrs. Grubbs stands as proof that the show up. There is a Burlinwill to learn may survive indefinitely.

It may not be a cheering thought to the youths who have just participated in grade school and high school "commencement," nor to those just now or soon receiving collegiate degrees, but for all of them, school days are far too short to mas ter the knowledge they ought to have: they find soon enough that it is indeed the "commencement" of real education. The college graduate comes to realize it prohably more poignantly than the youth who stons at the end of high school.

"Adult education" as a formal institution is a creation of the New Deal, fostered throughout the nation by the WPA In facilities and in enrollment it has grown rapidly, in Mar- the career of the bonanza king, ion county as elsewhere. The original motivation was the desire to find suitable and advantageous occupation for unemployed "white collared" citizens whose training and talents fitted them primarily for this work. It was one of the most graphs: constructive fields into which the WPA might venture-for it was a field practically unoccupied at the time.

But the WPA is an "emergency" institution, and under the conditions which necessarily circumscribe the operations treaty with China, which bears of an organization whose primary purpose is relief. adult ed- his name, was driven to Belucation cannot progress to the extent which its potentialities merit. In this age of technological advancement with its demand for trained workers and its short hours which provide opportunity to acquire that training as well as the cultural pany from the neighboring viland recreational courses which so many individuals crave. adult education is an institution with a future. It deserves the advantages of permanency in planning, organization and personnel.

Annexing Part of California

To a great extent, the boundaries of the 48 states are historical accidents. The 13 original states were mapped out in colonial days and their borders depended upon a variety of influences such as original royal grants and charters. Perhaps the best way to get after people like F.its Kuhn and Dostoevsky has described them magnificently in his novels. Fritz Kuhn was born in Ger-many, fought in the German army, joined Hitler's revolu tionary nazi party in 1921, participated in Hitler's attempt in 1923 to overthrow the German Republic by a putsch of violence, and, when it failed, came to the new world, where he continued to carry on the precepts of his master.

He went first to South America or Mexico, but larded in the United States in 1925 or thereabouts. Until Hitler came into power in 1933 Le had to wor' for a living, as did othe nazi partisans and agents, and it is not remarkable that he gravitated toward the Ford works The nazis had great hopes of Mr. Ford, chiefly based upon "Dearborn Independent" arthe ticles.

Kuhn's like Al Capone, an evader of organizations gave their blessing and support to all movements which were fighting communism, along with the nazi definition of what communism is: Democracy; anything of even faintly liberal tinge, and including any one who is opposed to nazism or has Jewish blood. Here, as in Germany, he and his associates introduced the counts. storm troop organization-Ord-nungs Dienst instead of Sturm Abteilung, O. D. instead of S. A. -and the strong-arm method of policing meetings. Here, as in nazi Germany, the central and main organization, German-American Bund, has several subsidiary organizations, one ger, to their home at Woodburn. being the Deutscher Konsum Verband (German Consumers' 1 Association), whose object is to throw the organized nazi buying power to nazi members, and te make an economie boycott against all anti-nazis and all American citizens of Jewish blood. This weapon, which is powerful, and which ought to be seriously considered, the instrument of the organized economic boycott against political opponents, is supplemented by slanderous whispering campaigns, organized letter-writing campaigns to all newspapers taking an anti-Hitler stand, public attacks on individuals bordering on criminal libel, and terroristic threats, mostly in the form of anonymous letters. Our heroes resurrected George Washington and Benjamin Franklin as their patron saints and preached anti-Semit'sm under Washington's picture, carefully omitting all mention of Washington's letter to the Hebrew congregation it Newport with its memorable description n. of our Constitution a one which SAN FRANCISCO . NEW YORK "gives to bigotry no sanction and to persecution no encouragement," and spreadin, abroad an anti-Semitic quotation from Franklin which every Fanklin scholar of repute has denounced as a forgery. ## Shocking. Mr. Morgenthau

The railbirds at Washington and the leading figures in above) from the Lyman book the United States chamber of commerce must be a bewildered lot since last Saturday when Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau appeared before the house ways and means committee and, plainly indicating that he was speaking for the administration, advocated tax reforms which in the main are land Stanford, General J. S. just what the USCC has been demanding.

This followed the recent agreement of the wise ones that the word "appeasement" in connection with overtures to business had soured the president against any such concessions.

In brief, Morgenthau advocated reduction of some of the higher individual income surtax rates if legislation is passed to prohibit future issuance of tax-exempt securities; repeal of the remaining 21/2 per cent undistributed profits tax; liberalization of the capital stock tax and excess profits tax? no-eralization of the capital stock tax and excess profits levy; provision for carrying over net annual business losses to be deducted from profits of later years for taxation purposes. Republican members of the committee were jubilant and announced that they had forced an admission by the adminis-tration that their viewpoint had been the correct one all along

-which was perhaps an impolitic thing to do with the deal not yet closed, but then the temptation no doubt was irresistible. The only objection raised to date involves Morgenthan's dec-laration that any tax reductions must be made up in some other direction in the interest of budget-balancing, but that objection comes with poor grace from any congressman who voted for the big farm benefit bill.

To sum it all up, it seems too good to be true, and the hances are that it is.
