Buying Is Scarce Except for Bit of Life in Early Afternoon

CHICAGO, June 6-(AP)-An advance of as much as % cent was the best that wheat prices could close. Although the market was free sure which caused yesterday's sharp break, there was little or no buying to stimulate a rally except at intervals after midsession. The result was that scattered orders on both sides of the market caused frequent small fluctuations. Some buying was attributed to milling interests although no material flour business was confirmed aside from yesterday's sales estimated as high as 1,000,-000 barrels to the government and through regular commercial channels. However, shippers sold 37,000 bushels to mills and 1/2 to 1 cent higher prices in the cash market stimulated some purchasing of futures.
