Crime Data Funds Are to Be Sought

Commission to Ask Next Legislature to Give Money for Study
The 1941 legislature will be asked to provide funds for compiling crime statistics in Oregon, the Oregon interstate commission on crime decided at a meeting here Monday.

Further regulation of the sale of firearms also will be sought. The proposed laws would be identical with those now in effect in other states.

Tough on Toughs
The proposed firearms law would make it more difficult for criminals to purchase guns and make it dangerous for them to carry guns.

Governor Charles A. Sprague said the crime statistics were required so that law enforcement agencies may ascertain the causes of crime.

Members of the commission at the meeting included Justice George Rossmann of the state supreme court, Circuit Judge Edward B. Ashurst, Klamath county; George Cochran, La Grande attorney, and R. R. Bullivant, Portland, president of the State Bar association.

PORTLAND, June 12—(P)—A state crime detection laboratory will be opened tomorrow at the University of Oregon Medical school here with Dr. Joseph Beckman in charge.

George Self Goes South on Freight

Victim of Paralysis Hits Sacramento on Jaunt to Warm Springs
SACRAMENTO, Calif., June 12—(P)—George Self, 23, Willamette university graduate who lost the use of his legs through infantile paralysis, was here today en route to Warm Springs, Ga.

He claimed to have traveled part of the way on a freight train en route to the Georgia center of paralysis treatment. He was quoted as saying he didn't expect to regain use of his legs at Warm Springs but hoped to obtain some braces so he might discard his wheelchair.

Railroad men, fearful he might try to continue his trip on a freight train, referred him to the Travellers' Aid society.

George Self, who finished his junior year in the Willamette university law college this year, is a Salem high graduate. His legs have been paralyzed since he was 13 years old.
