

ASSOCIATED PRESS

PICTURE NEWS

WEIGHT-LIFTER—It's all his own weight that Bill Kiecy (from left to right) carries at New London, Conn., where he's been a firefighter for the last 29 years. Bill claims he's the world's largest fireman and he does more than his share fighting the town's blazes. Kiecy measures 6 feet, 1 inch, and tipped the scales at 625 pounds when he last weighed in.

DOWN TO THE SEA—These two great wanderers of the ocean, the petrel and albatross, dip into the waves in above "Ship-Followers" group at the new $1,500,000 Whitney wing of the American Museum of Natural History in New York. The grouping represents a spot in the ocean southeast of New Zealand as seen from the France, the Whitney South Sea expedition schooner, which served the museum for ten years.

FLAME—From Japan's sacred shrine of Ise comes the flame in this lamp, borne by Akiko Tsukimoto to the N. Y. world's fair, to symbolize Japan-U. S. friendship. The lamp was lighted at Shinto flame, oldest man-kept fire.

THREE CARDINAL ARGUMENTS—Here are three reasons for the St. Louis Cards' climb in the National. Left to right: Infielder Stuart Martin, from Rich Square, N. C.; Pitcher Curt Davis, who won 12, lost 8, last year; Infielder James Brown, switch-hitter from Jamesville, N. C.

BUT IT ISN'T QUITE CRICKET—Devilry was rampant when wags among the British foreign office attaches celebrated 500th anniversary of their sports club at Ickenham, England. Their costumes were elegant Victorian. Batter is a Mr. Morris.

IRISHMAN—Possible attempt by Britain to extradite Sean Russell (above), leader of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, has been rumored in California, where Russell lives. I.R.A. has been blamed for recent bomb outrages in England.

PUNCH AND POWER—In this streamlined building near the big central dome of Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Cambridge, Mass., is housed the electrostatic generator called upon to build up the tremendous voltages needed for the Institute's work in atom splitting and other experiments. It is one of the most up-to-date electrostatic generators.

CLOSE SHAVE—If Joe Buckley, a bike rider from Australia, nicked himself, he can hardly be blamed. He gave himself a shave while cycling around the track at Empire pool in Wembley, England, scene of a six-day cycle race.

THREE WITH A SINGLE THOUGHT

WINGS—She's been places, has Miss Phyllis Dobson, 19, who's going to learn to fly between N. Y. and Birmingham, Ala. She's shown on arrival at Newark. N. J. Chasen "Miss California" in a 1936 beauty contest, she's also a Broadway and Hollywood actress.

HYBRID—Viewed upside down, it might be a salad bowl. This British hat is a cross between a polo cap and shako.

FROTH—This gossamer number appeared, with its wearer, on the fashionable fields at England's race track, Epsom.

IT GOT THE BIRD!—Don't look now, but if this cheep from any Paris is any hint of what's to come this fall, hats may be funnier. The bonnet, complete with dove and three eggs, won a prize at a contest in the Bois de Boulogne.

LADIES' MAN?—To a world accustomed to seeing him in military poses, Germany's Adolf Hitler showed off a more gentlemanly side at a recent Berlin reception. Here's Der Fuehrer escorting the wife of Italian Ambassador Bernardo Attolico into the room. He's wearing his new white uniform dinner jacket for the first time. The party honored Italy's Count Ciano.

MUST BE 'PIGGY-BACK'—There wasn't room for the umpire who stood off to one side, observing this play in the Cincinnati Reds-Bees game at Boston. Boston Catcher Lopez is putting the ball on Reds' Fielder Craft, who slid over home plate.

THEY'RE EGGS, MISTER—Dark, cluttered city streets have become so much a part of Billy Halop's makeup that this young member of the film "Dead End" gang had some trouble recognizing these products of a hen's conscientious lab...