

Rains Hurting Cherries Some

Loss May not Be Heavy if Bright Sunshine Does not Come now

Cherry growers and farmers with hay on the ground were considerably disconcerted over the heavy showers of yesterday, but cherry losses may not amount to a great deal if the rains do not continue and if bright sunshine does not follow at once to cause cracking. Cherries are coming in strong now, with ripening about two weeks ahead of the usual season. The loganberry season is also getting under way with the packing plants, and red raspberries are likewise coming on. Strawberry picking in most districts will be completed next week. The season for this berry has been much better than anticipated when the first of the crop ripened, thanks to the good rains of late May.

WOODBURN—Loganberry pickers are in demand here, with the first logans delivered to the Woodburn Fruit Growers co-op association warehouse Wednesday. Prospects are, if weather conditions are favorable, for a crop of 600 tons of excellent berries. Cherry picking has been under way since Monday and the strawberry harvest is still on. The association members picked 57 tons of gooseberries this season.

Cherry Fruit Fly Is Emerging now

Cherry fruit flies are now emerging from the soil in large numbers, as indicated by emergence cages placed in three Marion county orchards by Robert E. Rieder, assistant county agent. These flies will be laying eggs in the next few days, and another spray application should be applied before the eggs are laid in order to be effective. Rieder advises that sprays should be repeated after each rain or heavy shower. The spray formula is: Lead arsenate 1/2 pound; molasses 2 quarts; and water 10 gallons. Even though Royal Ann cherries may escape infestation due to the early harvest, the trees may harbor flies which will infest later cherries, and so should be sprayed. Interplanted trees and fence rows should also receive the spray, as the flies may alight on anything in the vicinity of the cherry trees.

Puppetry Classes Slated, Silverton

SILVERTON—A special attraction for the summer recreational program, according to Harold Davis, director, will be classes in puppetry and creative painting given by teachers lent through the interest of the Salem Art Center. Arthur Wasser, instructor of theatre arts in the Salem center, will be here Friday to conduct two classes in making of puppets or marionettes, with the aim of producing puppet shows before the summer is over. Wasser is well known on the west coast for his work in the theatre. He studied in the drama department of the University of Washington. On the legitimate stage, he has appeared in several little theatre groups. There will be two divisions in the puppetry classes, for the junior and senior high schools and one for the grade school. Creative painting classes will also be conducted during the summer. An additional instructor will come from Salem for these classes.

Japanese School Opens at 'Green'

HAZEL GREEN—The Japanese school in the Ogura hall is in session with the former teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fukuda of Wapato, Wash., in charge. The enrollment is not so large as last year at present. The school will be in session till about the first of September. An addition has been completed to the Ogura hall to furnish a home for the teachers. Dr. Frank Smith, superintendent of the Methodist church on the coast, spoke at the Salem Japanese church Sunday evening. Miss Erynley, which was to have been Sunday in Portland, was postponed because of illness of her father. Miss Mio is a graduate of Salem high and was a worker in the church and the family moved to Gaston two years ago.

Estimate Dips Wheat Prices

Robinson Co. Forecasts Kansas Crop at 122 Million Bushels

CHICAGO, June 15.—(AP)—Wheat prices tumbled a cent or more from early highs today following release of an authoritative elevator company estimate of increased Kansas production and reports of good crop conditions in Canada. An opening advance that carried quotations upward as much as 3/4 cent gave way to selling that wiped out the gains and substituted net losses of as much as 3/4 cent. July contracts, representing the new crop, being the weakest. Hedging sales were in evidence.

Kansas Crop Grows The Robinson Elevator company made the bullish estimate of Kansas production, suggesting a crop of 122,285,000 bushels, or about 20,000,000 larger than the last forecast. The increase was attributed to better yields than expected. The government's June 1 forecast was 105,530,000 bushels. Harvest last year totaled 152,114,000 bushels. Wheat closed at the day's lows, 3/4-3/8 lower than yesterday, July 73 3/4-73; September 73 3/4-74.

Relapse Hits Stock Issues

Market Off Point With Some Offerings Going Down a Full 5

NEW YORK, June 15.—(AP)—The stock market today suffered its worst relapse in about a month and volume picked up on the downswing. Losses ran to 3 or more points for leaders, with a few isolated issues dropping around 5. Closing prices were at or near the lows with the turnover in the final period nearly double that of the preceding four hours. The business and legislative outlook continued fairly promising and brokers inclined to attribute the rather sharp retreat partly to renewed apprehension over the British-Japanese struggle in the far east which, some suggested, might coincide with a projected Hitler coup in Europe connected with the latest Slovakian row. In fact the market in the past several sessions had refused to pay much attention to a moderate budget of "good" news also was thought to have been a selling inducement for those who had been hanging on in the belief the recent slide-wise shift was a "correction" of the recovery from the spring slide. The Associated Press average
