Softball sorties on Sweetland last night were wilder than a witch's wanderings, but the Square Dealers nevertheless romped to their third straight win, 15 to 10 over Kennedy's and Waits broke into the win column by tagging the Makers with their third consecutive defeat, 11 to 4.

The Dealers, after establishing a 9 to 1 lead behind the pitching of Don Cutler, almost saw their advantage go glimmering as the Cleaners took advantage of Hank Singer's wildness. They hammered Hank for eight runs in a wild fifth frame that saw 13 batters at the plate, getting them on four hits, four errors and four walks, and added another in the sixth on a double and single.

But 15 blows were registered by the Radiators, off lanky Harold Smith, and even the sky-high, blow-up of their defense wasn't enough to beat 'em. Outfielder Weisner's career-for-five shillalah shaking, that drove in four of the 15 counters, topped the parade. Jack Causey also gathered three blows in five trips, while Sam D'Arcy hit twice in four appearances.

The Papermakers allegedly imported pitcher, Jack Simpson—said to hail from Chicago, walked eight men in the two plus frames he worked. That and two lousy hits gave Waits five runs before Southpaw Kenny Lenaburg took over for the Makers. Going in with two on in the third, Lenaburg allowed six to cross before he finally stemmed the tide. Only four of the six was he responsible for, however, and from there on the Meatemens touched him for but one bingle and no runs.

Waits scored their 11 tallies on seven hits, while the Makers could make 10 blows account for but four markers. Only Shortstop Gribble got more than one hit for Waits, hitting two-for-four, and Nick Sedotz, also hitting two-for-four, was the only Maker to get more than one.

It was the wildest night of the softball season thus far, with a total of 40 runs being scored, 43 hits registered and 14 errors committed. Prettiest fielding play turned in was a running one-out hand catch of Comstock's foul fly by Leftfielder Jack Causey, while the only extra base clouting out of all the hitting were doubles by Bernie Gentskow, Henry Singer and Johnny Kolb.

Wooderson Ready to Let "Accident" Pass Into Race History

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK, June 19.—(AP)—Sydney Wooderson was inclined today to let the 1939 Princeton mile pass into history as motion pictures of the event only added fuel to the controversy as to whether he was fouled by Blaine Rideout.

After thinking the matter over, England's little world record holder at a mile called his collision Saturday with Rideout an "unfortunate accident—an accident occurring in the heat of the race which is best forgotten."

The collision, occurring at the top of the home stretch, threw the Englishman off stride and cost him whatever chance he had for victory. Chuck Fenske came up fast to take the race in 4:11 with Wooderson finishing last in the field of five.

Meanwhile, the movies failed to clear up the argument whether Rideout bumped Wooderson or whether the record holder, apparently fired, his toe when he (Wooderson) failed to straighten out in time for the final 200-yard dash to the finish line.

The pictures showed Rideout first passing Fenske shortly before the turn. Then Rideout pulled up even with Wooderson and for time the two appeared to run shoulder to shoulder. Coming into the turn Rideout, seeking to gain the lead, gradually seemed to crowd Wooderson toward the rail until the Briton half-stumbled and threw up his right arm as if to regain his balance.

Rideout went into the lead only to have Wooderson regain his stride and pass him momentarily. From the angle of the pictures it was difficult to determine whether there was bodily contact or whether Wooderson, seeking to avoid such contact, inadvertently stepped on the rail and lost his balance.

Weatherman Ties Up National Loop

CHICAGO, June 19.—(AP)—The National league bowed to the weatherman completely today, with two hand-thrued three games cancelled entirely by rain and the third—the Dodgers-Cubs battle—halted at the end of eight frames with the score tied at 3-3.

The Dodgers, victimized four times out of six tries in their current road tour, seemed headed for victory when the rain poured into Wrigley field and sent both teams scurrying for cover.

(Called end eighth inning account rain—tie).

Chicago White Sox Pitcher, George Stigler and his 17th American League season

Wooderson Is Fifth in 'Mile of the Century'

Sydney Wooderson's long heralded invasion of US running fields ended on a sour note when the little Briton was bumped and half-tripped in the final lap of the Princeton invitation mile at Princeton, N. J. He came in a poor fifth. Thirty thousand cheered as Chuck Fenske, formerly of Wisconsin, won in 4:11. Glenn Cunningham was second; Archie San Romani, third; Blaine Rideout, fourth; and Wooderson, fifth. The finish is shown.

One Little Indian Ready for Battle With Veteran Puncher From Cowlands

In the little Injun whose professional claim to fame covers the short side of six months and but half a dozen bouts, Curley Hopper, tomorrow night at the armory will attempt to prove matchmakers have not pulled a brodie in giving him a main event chance.

Hopper meets a tough veteran in Louis Nelson, a two-handed puncher who has been fighting in and around Redmond over the past two years. Nelson, who may be remembered in Salem as the slugger who gave Eddie Norris a close battle better than two years ago here, is expected to provide Hopper with his biggest test to date.

Nelson and Hopper meet over eight rounds at the top of a card that also has two six-rounders and three four-round prelims.

Powder Proctor, the 17-year-old Portland negro, has a formidable opponent in Frankie Burns, Salt Lake, in the semi-windup. Advance reports intimate Burns, a veteran, is just a little too good for the younger Proctor, but that is something which remains to be seen.

The six-round special pits Kid Thornley, Silvertown vet who all but had Proctor on his hip in the last Vets' card, against rugged Bill Tommy of Tacoma. The four-rounders will show little Jimmy Davis, Vancouver, against Johnny O'Connell of Portland, Tommy Orrin of Portland against Les Carter of Lebanon, and Jack Curley of Portland against Lefty Reynolds of Salem.

Popular Charlie Carr, who last week succumbed to the brutalities of Berry, tonight tangles with Marshall Carter, the Missouri grinder, in a 45-minute bout that will press the all-meats main event in importance.

Opening the show, at 8:30, will be Eddie Roberts, lanky comedian, and Frankenstein Woolf, the Boris Karloff of hemp enclosures. There's a 30-minute preliminary, that is expected to be swift and spectacular.

The armory doors open at 7:30.

WIN AT TENNIS

SILVERTOWN — In the first round tennis matches of the summer recreation program, Alfred Crockett defeated Lloyd Nagell and Denny Legard defeated George Manolis.

George Hurly's 25 straight in handicap firing and W. H. Wolf's 49 out of 50 from 15 yards were top scores Sunday.

Results: 14 yard event—100 targets, Ted Welty 94, Clarence Townsend 89, W. D. Carter 84. Low ell White 66 x 75.

Tigers Beaten By Champions

Detroit Held to six Hits but Three Are Clouts for Circuit

NEW YORK, June 19.—(AP)—Oral Hildebrand limited the Detroit Tigers to six hits—three of them home runs—as the world champions took the series from the invaders by an 8-5 "rubber game" victory today.

The Yankees teed off early in the game, making five of their runs in the first inning off Paul Trout, then picking up one each in the fifth, seventh and eighth in the last two coming on homers by Bill Dickey and Red Rolfe. Bill's sixth, the Red's fifth of the year.

The Tigers out-homered the champs with Barney McCosky, Pinky Higgins and Red Kress, who was batting for Archie McKain, all connecting. McCosky's homer came in the sixth and was the first hit the Tigers had off Hildebrand.

Detroit 5 6 0
New York 8 13 0

Brown, Solons Split

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(AP)—Lanky Vernon Kennedy scattered six hits over 14 innings today to help St. Louis beat the Washington Senators 2 to 1 in the first game of a twin bill, but the Browns lost an abbreviated nightcap, 6 to 1.

In the first game neither team scored until the 10th. Don Heffner singled, was sacrificed to second and scored on Billy Sullivan's single. The Senators tied it up in their half on two singles, a sacrifice and an infield out.

Chet Laabs won the game in the 14th, scoring Johnny Bernardino with a triple. The Browns got only 6 hits off Joe Krakauskas in the second game, scoring their run on Myril Hoag's double and George MeQuinn's single in the first inning. The game was called in the eighth because of darkness.

Riverside Takes Salem Golf Team

Locals Defeated 2d Time in History on Home Course 40-20

The Salem Golf club team encountered tough opposition for the second successive time in home competition and lost Sunday 40 to 20 to the Riverside Country club team of Portland. It was the local team's second defeat in history on its home course, the other occurring three weeks ago when Lake Oswego Country club won here.

With a light rain falling most of the day followed by heavier rains, few notable scores were made. Summary:

Barber Gets Bird And Live One, too

INDEPENDENCE—Cleve Robinson, Independence barber, didn't wait until he got to the green of Oak Knoll's 489-yard number five to get his birdie Sunday.

Robinson's third stroke, heaping straight for the carpet, stopped at the light, and the life of a blackbird.

Hurley 25, Welty 21, Simon 22. A practice shoot is held for next Thursday evening.

LACK OF THUMB NO HANDICAP—Boyd Brown, above, a medic here Javelina tower until Coach Bill Hayward of Oregon started training him, won first place in the Pacific coast conference meet. Hayward provided him with a specially balanced spear to overcome the absence of his right thumb. Below, Brown's thumbless grip.

Sport Sparks

By RON GEMMELL

Having it on good authority, and signed by the mayor, that pitching constitutes 83.78 per cent of softball effectiveness, we yesterday (or was it the day before?) jumped into the custom laundered Gemmill limousine and headed for the respective, if not respected, camps of the Salem Softball association, copyrighted in 1932 or thereabouts.

We went in search of some of the kittball chuckers in order that we might bring you first-hand versions, both southpaw and northpaw, of how these 40-foot flingers get that way.

"Me? I get that way from eating three meals a day, sleeping on my right side, changing shirts twice a week and reading Popeye daily in The Statesman—was the first shot of inside—pe aimed at us."

It came directly off the left side of the tongue owned by H. (for Henry) Singer, revealed in the last Gallup poll as the outstanding Salem softball pitcher for 1939, and although it was a modest statement it struck us as being straightforward and to the point.

"To what, exactly, do you attribute your phenomenal success?" we asked the dark-haired demon of underhandness, heaving this a fair question even if the day was cloudy in the west and looking very much like a visit from J. Pluvius was imminent.

"My biggest asset," graciously replied Singer Singer, "is an in-born ability to lift my left leg high. You've gotta get it up there, that's all. A pitcher who can't elevate his left side to, we'll say, a height of at least his elbow, is hopelessly lost."

"Then, too," he added after a moment's study, "I'm very fond of jelly on my pancakes."

No Two Alike.

As in other pursuits, of life, liberty or death where is your sting, no two softball pitchers seem to have the same idea as to why their efforts constitute such a large percentage of the efficiency, or lack thereof, of their respective clubs.

Take V. (for Vladimir) Gilmore. Take him on the golf course and he plays a head-up game. Take him on the softball mound and he's got his nose to the grindstone for nine innings, or less. (Why Manager Fleisher allows the stone to be left on the field will come up for debate the next time President Maple gets hungry, for there's certain to be a league meeting then.)

"A pitcher has to be able to hold ice water, butter-milk, lemonade, waffle batter and the family bank roll," Gilmore grated from between his teeth, the while flexing a creaking right wrist.

"Then there's the mortality rate. There are more cracked pitchers than any other one piece of pantryware. Someone is always knocking off, or just plain knocking a pitcher. Especially sports writers. That's the worst. Yes, the very worst."

"My biggest asset? That's easy. I use nothing but Ougee rub. That, and a long ball off the tee. With both I'm a clutch to win."
