"There Is Always Tomorrow"

By May Christie

SYNOPSIS On her 25th birthday, Antoinette Goddard, a lovely San Francisco debutante, awakens with a feeling of great happiness. The cause of it was her fiance, Brock Milbank, scion of the prominent west coast Milbanks. Toni felt flattered that the eligible Brock loved her when he could have had the pick of Society's debutantes. Jessica Payne, an unscrupulous blond, made no secret of his attraction for her. Even though Brock did not encourage Jessica, Toni was jealous of her. At the breakfast table, the news that her father had gone bankrupt did not affect Toni deeply. "What was money compared with love?" she thought. "Besides, when she and Brock were married they could help mother and dad." Toni He had not telephoned so she wondered if he knew of their changed financial status. Waiting for him in a hotel lobby, Toni is touched when one of her friends greets her with: "I'm frightfully sorry, Toni!" Toni thought her friend's soliciude had been for the loss of her father's fortune, but she learns the real reason when she buys a newspaper and a glaring headline reads: "Brock Milbank and Jessica Payne Married This Morning!" In a daze, Toni leaves the hotel and hails a taxi. She goes to the waterfront where she and Brock had spent many happy hours. There she meets an old fisherman who philosophically compares life to a net which, though it gets torn, is ended and put to sea again. "There's healing in work," the old man had said. The thought gave Toni hope. She decides to go to New York and start anew.
