

Polk Farmers See Irrigation

Practical Applications on Actual Use on Farms Viewed on Tour

DALLAS—A series of irrigation meetings on various Polk county farms Tuesday and Wednesday attracted good attendance among farmers considering it is the beginning of grain harvest season.

W. C. Leth, county agent, and Arthur S. King, OSC irrigation specialist, led the meetings. The meetings began on the Paul Freeman farm. Here a new irrigation project has been developed which uses a centrifugal pump with a 10 horse power motor pumping water from the Yamhill river which borders the farm.

At the T. J. Werth farm, a high pressure sprinkler system has been in operation for two years. The Yamhill river is the source of water and a five horse power electric motor is used. Potatoes, alfalfa, ladino clover and other crops are being irrigated to advantage.

This installation represents a special feature in that all electricity used comes through the minimum rate because it is used in connection with the regular house and farm installation. A portable pump and motor set-up is an interesting part of this project.

The Mike Branch farm south of Peesee on the Luckiamute river, irrigates red clover from which he is planning to take a seed crop.

Trailer Carries Plant The power plant on this farm is a new automobile engine mounted on a special trailer making a very compact power pumping unit which is used on several different farms. Up to 35 high pressure sprinklers can be operated at once and it is used in irrigating about 100 acres of potatoes along with other crops.

At Helmick park a stop of special interest to small fruit growers was the Joy Miller farm at which both high and low pressure sprinklers were observed in operation. The low pressure sprinklers are about the latest development in irrigation, being used this season for the first time.

This sprinkler does not revolve as do other sprinklers. It also operates on less than half the amount of pressure.

Mr. Miller's berry plantings of Boysenberries, blackberries and others, as well as some truck crops, make one of the most attractive plantings in small fruit farming to be found in the Willamette valley.

Lifts Water 200 Feet The last farm visited was that of Nelson Anderson south of Buena Vista, and according to information available, this is the project employing the highest lift of any in Polk county. Water is delivered at a point approximately 230 feet above the level of the Willamette river by means of an automobile engine, which burns stove oil, and a large centrifugal pump.

A new seeding of Ladino clover now being pastured for the first time is the first use made of the irrigation water by Anderson of the 100 or more acres that he eventually plans to include.

Many problems were brought out at these meetings and those who attended learned that irrigation is now practical where it was not five years ago. Many who attended were of the opinion that irrigation installations costing as much as $50 or more per acre can be very profitable.

Marshfield People

Come for Funeral AIRLIE—Mr. and Mrs. Ray Strickland of Marshfield came Tuesday for the funeral of Mrs. Strickland's aunt, Mrs. Dick Tom, who died Sunday at the Corvallis hospital following a short illness.

Services were held in Corvallis with interment in the English cemetery.

Court Drama

Grace Healy A pathetic figure is Grace Healy as she waits for a glimpse of her husband, Joe Healy, Jr., just sentenced to 20 years to life imprisonment in New York court. Healy was convicted of second degree murder in the death of Mrs. Martha Hore, a storekeeper, whom he killed while trying to steal money for the comfort of his wife. The little son was born after Healy confessed his crime.

"Wrong Way" But Right Girl

Elizabeth Marvin and Douglas Corrigan

Here's "Wrong Way" Doug Corrigan, the Atlantic flyer, and the "right" girl, Elizabeth Marvin, San Antonio, Tex., school teacher, whom Doug will wed July 17, the first anniversary of his flight to Dublin, Ireland. The two are pictured before Doug's plane in San Antonio.

Old City Building Is Being Repaired

JEFFERSON—The old city building on Main street has been leveled, and men are at work removing the partitions between the rooms. The roof is being reshingled, windows being put in, and the siding on the building is being nailed down. The paint on the outside has been scraped, ready for repainting.

The wiring and plumbing is to be done, and some flooring laid. The old wallpaper is being torn off ready for papering. R. S. Randolph and family, who have been living in the building, have moved into Mrs. Cornell's house on Main street. The lawn has been dug up and leveled.

Orville Rehfeld and Melvin Putnam left Monday for Idaho where they will be employed during the hay and grain harvest. Marvin Hutchings, who is with the state highway paint crew left Monday for Blue River, where the crew expects to have work for about a week.

Silverton Rotary To Install Heads

SILVERTON—Installation of new officers will feature the Monday noon Rotary luncheon. Officers include the president, T. Leonard; vice president, Earl J. Adams; secretary, Ralph Larson; treasurer, John T. Hoblitt, and board of directors which includes the officers and two additional members, Herman Kramer and Dr. C. W. Aene.

Mrs. George Steelhammer received word Thursday that a sinus operation on her son, George, Jr., in New York City Wednesday was successful. Young George, who is with the Pacific Northwest YMCA educational tour, became ill in New York and a wire was sent his parents asking permission for the operation.

Mr. Steelhammer left Portland by plane Wednesday night at 6 o'clock. Mrs. John Ballantyne was called to Pocatello, Ida., this week by the serious illness of her son-in-law, John Cassino.

Three new Homes Near Completion

Harvest Activities Noted at Saver; Berry Yield Is Proving Heavy

SUVER—The Roy Miller berry patch across the highway from Helmick park is employing many local girls and women picking different varieties of berries of which there is a plentiful crop.

Alton Benedict purchased a used combing from John Crippen last week. He sold his interest in the Benedict combine to his brother, Steve.

Mrs. Gyp Thurston and daughter, Jane, were recent visitors at the Joseph Smith home. They were en route to Corvallis to visit Mrs. Rickard.

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Oglesbee have returned home after spending the past month at Paulina lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Johnson and daughter of Wyoming have been visiting his parents L. Albany and relatives near here. The family are former Suver residents.

Three fine, new houses belonging to Harold and Melvin Elkins and Alfred Fickinger, respectively, being built in this community, are nearing completion. They are painted on the exterior, roofs stained and plastering done inside. The last details of the Fickinger house are being finished and they will be moving in soon.

Simon Hawk, who has been visiting Miles Davis, returned to his home in Medford Thursday. Carl DeArmond is harvesting a large field of fescue grass near the Suver schoolhouse.

The Gentemann baler baled hay for Earl Smith and Lloyd Goodman Monday.

Skilled WPA Workers Hold Strike Rally

Skilled workers of the WPA lift their standard banner on their shoulders as they walk out on the North Beach airport project, in New York. Lieutenant Colonel Brehon Somervell, WPA administrator for the New York area, termed their action a "strike against the government" as AFL leaders declared the strike would spread unless the Government's elimination of the prevailing wage was restored.

Phone Service Is Topic of Council

JEFFERSON—Mayor H. C. Epley and all councilmen except Frank Glaser were present at the council meeting Monday night. The council granted the Union Jamboree free use of the streets on August 9. The council decided to remove the large walnut tree at the rear of the city building.

The recorder was instructed to write to the Oregon extension service at Corvallis, regarding having the soil analyzed on the lawn of the city property, to see what type of shrubs should be planted.

A committee, H. E. McKee, E. S. Gleason and Frank Glaser, is to confer with the telephone company with regard to having an exchange here.

Bills amounting to $517 were ordered paid.

Silver Falls Draws 15,324 Cars

SILVERTON HILLS—Popularity at Silver Falls state park is constantly on the increase. During the first six months of this year, cars counted totaled 15,324. On the first 9 days of this month the count numbered 7982.

Large Crowd out, Farm Union Meet

ROSEDALE—A large crowd of members and friends attended the Farmers' Union meeting Monday night. The Cherry City Baking company showed several reels of pictures. Strawberry shortcake was served.

Services of the local congregation here were dismissed Sunday night and 26 attended the closing service of the Holiness camp meeting at Quinby park. Mrs. Gladys Cook of this place was elected secretary of the association.

Loganberry picking and haying are the principal "industries" here just now.

Wind Hurts Trees

BRUSH CREEK—Heavy winds did some damage Thursday morning to heavily loaded fruit trees. Peach and plum trees are particularly heavily loaded this year, growers report.
