

Program Made For Girl Camp

College Graduates to Be Leaders at Silver Creek Outing

A program of interesting activities including handicraft, horse-manship, fishing, hiking, swimming, nature study, campfire, dramatics and singing has been tentatively outlined for the second annual district girls' camp at the Silver creek recreational area from July 30 to August 6.

Adult leadership, made up of college graduates or teachers, is being provided to supervise and instruct all activities. Those obtained for leaders so far are Mrs. Leif Bergsvik, Margaret Gilstrap, Mrs. Jean Shelton, Miss Pauline Fry, Miss Jean Anussen, Mrs. Blanche Allen and Edith Clement. Fred E. Smith, physical director at the Salem YMCA, will again serve as camp director.

Registrations are now being made for the camp. So far the following girls have been registered.

Sorting out Loot Wearies Coppers

PORTLAND, July 20—(AP)—While three young men and a girl charged with burglary rested in jail today, weary detectives segregated articles claimed by persons who said they were victims of about 20 "pillowship" robberies.

Amateur Photog Attracts Note

SILVERTON HILLS—Considerable interest is being shown in the hobby of Ted Weldon, a member of the Silver Creek Falls CCC camp. Weldon has been studying photography and has made some interesting studies of various points in the state park.

Sea Scout Craft On Display Today

Open House Slated Abroad 36-Foot Boat by Sea Scout Troop

Full sail set, 368 square feet of it, and all brass polished to its maximum brightness, the Willamette Sea Scout ship "Willamette Ship" will be on display in its berth at the foot of Chemekeka street all day today while members of the local sea scout troop act as hosts to the public for an open house aboard their 36-foot craft.

The boat, which is a regulation naval whaleboat fitted with sails, and capable also of running under power of a large-size outboard motor, will be open for inspection, according to sea scout leaders, for today only.

Bean to Capital For ICC Hearing

Ormond R. Bean, state utilities commissioner, will leave Friday for Washington, D. C., where he will attend an interstate commerce commission hearing involving northwest freight rates on petroleum and petroleum products.

UCC Hedging Report Denied

Criticism That Claimants Won't Work While Paid Hit by Statistics

Criticism that unemployment compensation claimants will not return to work until they have exhausted their benefit rights were discredited by statistics released here Thursday by the state unemployment compensation commission.

The report showed that 9777 of the 33,067 claimants whose claims for benefits have been allowed since the first of the year returned to work before drawing maximum benefits to which they are entitled, officials said.

In fact, work during the benefit period has built up new wages on which new benefit rights usually can be based immediately after the original benefit year has been completed, officials pointed out.

Fred Meyer Has New Store Unit

To the rapidly expanding Fred Meyer operations here have now been added another group of merchandise and service units, the Fred Meyer lower level store, occupying the basement of the Fred Meyer toiletry store at 148 N. Liberty.

Presbyterians to Meet at Portland

CORVALLIS, July 20—(AP)—Mount Tabor Presbyterian church of Portland was selected by the Presbyterian synod of Oregon today for its next meeting.

Salem Bar Group Hears Thompson

Salem lawyers gathered yesterday noon at a special bar association luncheon at the Marion hotel to hear a talk by B. J. Thompson of Forest City, Iowa, vice president of the American judiciary society.

Mr. Thompson is in Salem visiting his son Bruce Thompson and family. He has been attending the convention of the American Bar association in San Francisco. He is chairman of organization and development under the section of legal education of the American Bar association, vice chairman of the section of bar organization and activities and a member of the house of delegates of the association.
