British Troops Again in France

Troops of the royal brigade of guards of the British army march down the Champs Elysees in Paris in the great military parade that marked the celebration of Bastille Day, France's independence day. This is first time since the World War that armed forces of the two countries have participated in joint exercises on French soil.

Flying Grandma

Mrs. Virginia Prudner of Riverside, a Chicago suburb, may be a grandmother, but that doesn't mean she has to stay home and knit. And here she is aboard a transport plane at Chicago starting out on a trip around the world by air. She plans to make the journey by using regular air lines in various countries.

Under Indictment

Seymour Weiss
Seymour Weiss, one-time chief lieutenant in the regime of the late Huey P. Long, was one of five persons indicted by a federal grand jury in New Orleans in connection with the alleged misappropriation of funds at Louisiana State university. Weiss owns hotels in New Orleans and New York.

Two Die in Army Plane Crash

Army officials are investigating crash at Farmingdale, L. I., in which Major Paul C. Durbin, 45, and Sergeant Allen W. Lewis, both of New York, were killed. The men were making a routine flight when their army plane went into a dive. The men's bodies were still pinned in the wreckage when the above picture was taken.
