African Missions Lecture Thursday

Pictures of pygmy and other African tribes never before photographed will be shown in Salem Thursday at 7:45 p. m. when Rev. and Mrs. D. A. Fairley appear at the local First Baptist church, Liberty and Marion streets.

The Fairleys, recently returned missionaries of French Equatorial Africa, number in their collection several rare colored slides as well as motion pictures. They will give a verbal description of each picture.

The missionaries work in a field of 5,000,000 with 85 other workers in 100 mission stations. This is compared to the year 1921 when the work opened with two missionaries in a single tribe.

Sprague to Back Laws on Liquor

Gov. Charles A. Sprague said Tuesday that he and the state liquor control commission would "enforce the liquor laws and regulations firmly but fairly."

In a letter to the Oregon Food and Beverage dispensers association, the governor also expressed his "appreciation of the efforts of your organization in encouraging licensees of the liquor control commission in careful observance of the state laws and commission regulations."

The governor added he would be unable to attend the association's annual meeting in Portland today.

Legion Has Even Financial Chance

A fifty-fifty chance for Capital post No. 9 of the American Legion to break even on its expenses for the state convention held here last week was indicated yesterday by Onas S. Olson, executive secretary of the convention commission.

At last reports receipts totaled around $1,500 less than the total of around $15,000 budgeted for the convention, with the income from Saturday night's events not included. No accurate financial report can be had, Olson indicated, until these funds are added in, and until all bills have been returned to the convention commission.

Financial success of the venture, it was understood, may depend on the fact that certain committees actually spent less than the sum originally budgeted to their credit.

UP Menu Chief Will Speak Here

Salem and radio station KSLM will have as a guest Friday, August 18, one of the very few women railroad executives in the world.

She is Mrs. Grace V. Merrill, supervisor of dining service for the Union Pacific railroad. It is her job to supervise the preparation and serving of some 6,500,000 meals a year in the railroad's dining cars, hotels and restaurants. To do it, she travels more than 10,000 miles a month over the company's lines.

Through special arrangement with the Union Pacific, Mrs. Merrill has agreed to stop off in Salem as the guest of station KSLM on Friday. She will be interviewed over the air by Maxine Buren of The Oregon Statesman staff for the benefit of homemakers in this vicinity. The broadcast will be heard at 8:30 p. m.

Questions on Future Events Receive Answers After Katherine Ellis, now At Grand, Peers Into Mystic Realms

Glimpses into the future are provided for persons who submit questions to Miss Katherine Ellis, psychic now appearing at the Grand theatre. Some of the questions and answers asked Miss Ellis from the audience will be reprinted in the Oregon Statesman.

Q. Will my 17-year-old daughter's marriage last, and for how long? Will she have a child and also will she finish school as planned? C. O. I.

A. Your girl will finish school and her marriage will be successful. There will be a baby in 1942. Try to find happiness in your own life instead of worrying so about others.

Q. If my son-in-law sees the company he was working for when injured will he receive anything? Also, when will we sell our West Salem property? If so, would we be successful in the hay and grain business. Mrs. L. M. M.

A. You'll sell your property shortly, and you will be successful in the hay and grain business. Your son-in-law should start a law suit, as he will be able to get quite a lot out of it.

Q. Will the case I have coming up in court ever amount to anything in my favor? Will I get the job I am expecting? If so, will it be successful? Will I stay in Salem? What is my wife planning on doing? E. E. W.

A. You'll get the job you are expecting, and your wife is willing to carry on just as she is. The case will be settled in your favor.

Q. What does the future hold for me? Will I make the move I am thinking about? Will I marry the man I'm thinking about? And when will I get my inheritance? K. G. H.

A. You'll marry the man you are thinking of, and be very successful.

Q. Will my father-in-law ever sell our 80 back in Nebraska and buy us a home out here, or shall we decide to move back? Will we take our trip this fall as we have planned? Also, will my husband ever get a steady job? M. H.

A. You'll go back east and your father-in-law will be the means of helping you get started on a farm out there.

Q. I have lost a pair of embroidery scissors. They are a keepsake of a friend. Will I find them? T. P.

A. Yes, they are in a box that has been placed in a drawer among patterns. You will find them.

Q. In the past two years I have been exceedingly interested in radio, and have been studying it also for the past two years. I am wondering if I will make a success in this field of work? Will I pass my examination that I intend to take in the near future, and how soon will I get a job in this field of work? H. I. S.

A. You'll be very successful with radio, but you should go to Portland where you can take up the technical part and thereby get in a very good business. Be a little careful of intestinal trouble dealing with foods.

Q. Have I been wrong in regarding my husband in regard to gossip of his stepping out? Will he come back to baby and I? A. R. H.

A. You have not been wrong. He has not stepped out, and he will be back soon and prove to you his worthiness. There will then be a change and a move for all.

Q. My husband's bill fold containing currency, driver's license and other papers, and my son's sweater have disappeared. What became of them, and will they be recovered? Will I visit my mother this year or ever? A. B. J.

A. You'll visit your mother early in 1940. The bill fold and sweater were stolen by a tall man, about 35 or 40 years of age. They will never be returned, as the man is now in Everett, Wash.

Q. Are we going to California this fall and get work, or stay here? What are our finances going to be like for this winter? Are we ever going to have children? F. M. J.

A. It would be advisable to stay right here, as I see a good position for both. There will be two children after 1941.

Driving Practice Spot Is Arranged

In order that beginning drivers may practice techniques being taught in the safety driving school without endangering people on public highways, a practice field has been made available to all those enrolled in the driving school, sponsored by Secretary of State Earl Snell.

The field at the 18th street entrance to the fairgrounds will be open every day except Sunday from 1 to 3 p. m. for practice.

The Monday evening driving class has 125 enrolled in it, according to an announcement from the secretary of state's office.

"Here's why I'm enthusiastic about GAS HEAT"

says PAUL H. HUEDEPOHL, well-known swimming authority

"Frankly, before we put in our gas furnace, I was skeptical. Now I'm enthusiastic about gas heat. We are not worried about a fuel shortage. We don't have to order, store or handle furnace fuel. Our gas furnace just takes care of itself. We don't worry about fuel bills either. Our total heating cost is less than with solid fuel. We are also saving a sizeable amount on cleaning and renovating. Nothing in gas heat makes walls or woodwork grimy."

Mr. Huedephohl is manager of the Jantzen Swimming Association; Market Development Department, Jantzen Knitting Mills. He is also manager of Jantzen Beach Swimming Pools. His attractive Maywood Park home is at 9930 N. E. Falling Street.

Gas heat is the cheapest automatic heat here because rates for Portland gas are so low. And when you heat with gas, you get your gas for cooking, water heating and refrigeration at lowest cost.

Look at gas heating equipment today. It also costs less! A gas conversion burner installed in your present furnace costs as little as $109.50. Complete new gas furnaces cost less than many other automatic type burners alone. Talk to any member of the Gas Co. organization or any gas heating equipment dealer. Install gas heat now before winter comes!

ASK FOR FREE ESTIMATE

Our expert heating engineers will visit your home or go over your house plans and make a scientific estimate of just what gas heat will cost you. There is no extra charge for this service. Asking for it places you under no obligation. Call today.

UNIFORM SPECIFICATIONS

All cooperating heating dealers are installing gas heating equipment in accordance with rigid, uniform specifications established by Portland Gas & Coke Company. These specifications assure customer satisfaction. Ask for a copy before you buy.
