

Japanese Honor Departing Friend

Local Churchmen Present Ellises With Dinner, Special Services

The local Japanese Community Christian church honored Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ellis Tuesday night at a farewell fellowship dinner before their departure to New York city. The dinner was held in the social hall of the Sunday school unit. Following the dinner the guests and hosts convened in the chapel for the services.

Farewell talks were given by Anna Takayama, president of the Senior league; Minnie Ogura, president of the Young People's league; E. Okuda, representing the church; and Mrs. J. M. Yada, president of the Fujin-kai. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ellis responded.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, who have been with the Salem Japanese church for the last four years, have been advisers of the league, organizer of the Senior league, and Sunday school teachers in various departments. In addition, Mrs. Ellis has been director of religious education and superintendent of the Sunday school.

They left Thursday afternoon by auto and expected to arrive in New York by September 20 to enter Columbia university. On their way they will make stops at relatives' and friends' homes.

Ickes Denies Shift on Dam

Hits Reports He Abandons Power-for-All Policy at Bonneville Dam

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes denied coast reports today that he is abandoning his policy of promoting the fullest public use of Bonneville dam's power and seeking a market through private utility systems.

Ickes said Dr. Paul Raver, newly appointed Bonneville administrator, would encourage public bodies and cooperatives seeking energy from the big plant on the Columbia river.

"My own policy," Ickes said, "is to give all the help consistently and legitimately possible to public utility districts. My interest is in selling as much cheap power as possible over as wide an area as possible. There will be no departure from this policy."

Ickes said that if private utility companies seek to thwart efforts of public bodies wishing to take advantage of Bonneville power, there might be some delay in working out a distribution program and that at the start the market might be limited.

"There is a potential market for a great deal of power in the Pacific northwest," he said.

Sees Trouble Ahead

Private utilities, he said, will probably confront local people who want cheap public power with law suits "and all sorts of obstructive practices."

The Bonneville authority probably will encounter many troubles experienced by the Tennessee valley authority in working out its public power program, Ickes said.

"It took a long time to work things out at TVA, you know, and TVA had a great deal of help from the public works administration which provided funds for the purchase and construction of public power plants and distribution systems," Ickes said.

"Now we haven't got that situation in the Pacific northwest. No public agencies, so far as I know, can make loans and grants as PWA did to the Tennessee valley authority territory which made it possible for the authority to work out its plans."

Dr. Raver expects to be at Bonneville September 14, to relieve Acting Administrator Frank A. Banks, Ickes said. Banks has been acting administrator since the death of J. D. Ross. Banks will return to his post as federal superintendent of construction at Grand Coulee dam.

Canadian Airmen, Bombers on Move

CALGARY, Alta., Aug.—(CP)—Thirty-one members of No. 1 fighter squadron, Royal Canadian air force, carrying gas masks in knapsacks and headed by Sergeant Major A. H. Warner, left Calgary tonight on an eastbound Canadian Pacific railway train for an undivulged destination.

The men, half of the ground crew forces of the squadron, left less than 12 hours after two squadrons Hawker Hurricane planes, capable of 60 miles an hour, soared away to eastern Canada.

All RCAF planes, formerly stationed at Currie barracks here, have gone to eastern Canada, semi-official quarters revealed. Seven Wapiti bombers of the No. 3 squadron and one of the No. 1 squadron Hurricane ships left here last Saturday.

Call Board

ELAINORE
Today—"Each Dawn I Die" with James Cagney and George Raft, plus "Everybody's Hobby" with Henry O'Neill and Irene Rich.
Mickey Mouse matinee Saturday. Double bill, stage show and chapter 11 of "The Oregon Trail."

GRAND
Today—"Stanley and Livingstone" with Spencer Tracy, Nancy Kelly, Richard Greene.
STATE
Today—"The Hardys Ride High" and "Mr. Wong, Detective" with Boris Karloff.

CAPITOL
Today—"The Island of Lost Men" with Ann Mae Wong and Anthony Quinn.
"Boys' Town" with Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney.
Saturday—"The Angels Wash Their Faces" with Ann Sheridan and the Dead End Kids. "Colorado Sunset" with Gene Autry.

HOLLYWOOD
Today—"Riding on Air" with Joe E. Brown, Guy Kibbee and Florence Rice.
"The Great Man Votes" with John Barrymore and Virginia Weidler.
Saturday—"Spoilers of the Range" with Charles Starrett. "Sudden Money" with Charles Ruggles and Marjorie Rambeau.

STANLEY SPENCER TRACY
and LIVINGSTONE
GRAND

BORIS KARLOFF
AS HUGH WILEY'S CHINESE SLEUTH OF COLLIER'S MAGAZINE
"MR. WONG DETECTIVE"
GRANT WITHERS and EVELYN BRENT

"Unfriendly" Says Nazi Line as Bremen Held

"A very unfriendly act on the part of the United States" was the way the New York port superintendent of the Hamburg American line described the detaining in New York harbor August 29 of the huge German liner Bremen. Search was made by 100 federal men for weapons capable of use in raiding which automatically, in time of war, would convert a liner into a "privateer." The Bremen was held at her dock two days after scheduled sailing time with the French line flag ship Normandie and two British liners. The Bremen is pictured at her dock guarded by two US customs boats.

Northern Italy Field Of Battle, Is Belief

Writer Sees French Armies Sweeping Over Pass to Cripple Italian Munitions Industry; Strike at Germany From South

By DREW MIDDLETON
LONDON, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Northern Italy, cockpit of Europe since the days of the Roman empire, may be the scene of some of the earliest decisive fighting of the next European war—if it comes—a French-British army striking through the Alpine passes against the heart of industrial Italy.

This is the opinion of neutral military observers and some retired British and French officers in London. They base it on four conditions:

1. Italy will not remain neutral, but will enter the fight on the side of Germany.
2. Germany's Siegfried line and France's Maginot line will stalemate each other along the old western front for at least a year, perhaps longer.
3. Germany, fearing a wave of hostile world feeling if the rights of the small nations are disregarded, will not invade France through Belgium or Holland.
4. Polish resistance will require the attention of at least half the German army six months or more.

"Under these conditions it is easy to see why the theater of war should shift to northern Italy," one officer said. "That is the industrial region; the munitions industry is centered in Turin. A break through with the subsequent destruction of these plants would force Italy to call on Germany's none too extensive military stores, cripple Italy's fighting forces."

It is no secret that the French general staff has considered two possibilities: an Italian-German invasion of southern France and the French invasion of northern Italy. The former, reputedly the plan of some blackshirt strategists, has received scant encouragement from experienced Marshal Pietro Badoglio, Italy's first soldier, officers here report.

Terrain favors French. The character of the land, which makes an Italian blow at southern

LEGAL NOTICE

SHERIFF'S NOTICE OF SALE
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that I will, on Saturday, September 23, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the west door of the Marion County Court House, in Salem, Oregon, sell at public auction in the manner provided by law for the sale of real property on execution, the following described real premises, to-wit:

Lot 8, Block 1, Brooklyn Addition to the City of Salem, Marion County, Oregon.

Said sale will be by virtue of an execution issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Marion County in that suit heretofore pending therein in which City of Salem, a municipal corporation, is plaintiff, and Walter D. Smith and Katharine Smith his wife, Cora B. Harding and Marion County, a body politic, are defendants, the same being Clerk's Register No. 27740.

Dated and first published August 25, 1939.

A. C. BURK, Sheriff of Marion County, Oregon.

By Kenneth L. Randall, Deputy. A-25-S-1-8-15-22

SHERIFF'S NOTICE OF SALE
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that I will, on Saturday, September 2, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the west door of the Marion County Court House in Salem, Oregon, sell at public auction in the manner provided by law for the sale of real property on execution, the following described real premises, to-wit:

Lot 1, Block 9, J. Myer's Addition to the City of Salem, Marion County, Oregon.

Said sale will be by virtue of an execution issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Marion County in that suit heretofore pending therein in which City of Salem, a municipal corporation, is plaintiff, and Frank E. Frickey and Edna H. Frickey, his wife, Verna B. Frickey, unmarried, and Marion County, a body politic, are defendants, the same being Clerk's Register No. 27486.

Dated and first published August 4, 1939.

A. C. BURK, Sheriff of Marion County, Oregon.

By Kenneth L. Randall, Deputy. A-4-11-15-25-9.

France a Hazardous Undertaking

The British navy alone is considered stronger in most respects than the combined Italian and German fleets. On completion of current construction programs, Britain and France will be able to muster 33 capital ships, 130 cruisers, 14 aircraft carriers, 230 destroyers and torpedo boats, 160 submarines and a swarm of patrol and anti-submarine craft. The combined German and Italian navies, it is estimated, could provide 20 capital ships, 42 cruisers, 2 aircraft carriers, 195 destroyers and torpedo boats and 175 submarines.

Military men admit British and French aid to Poland will be a tremendous task; the annihilation of Poland's army the primary German objective.

"The Germans cannot allow the Poles to remain unconquered for long," said one. "Such an army, highly mobile, familiar with the ground it is fighting on and of high morale is always dangerous, doubly so to a highly mechanized force."

"The only aid I can see Britain and France giving to Poland is continuous bombing by plane of German munition dumps, railheads and communication lines in Germany. The 'shuttle' plan of British and French bombers flying across Germany, 'laying their eggs,' refueling and reloading in Poland and repeating the procedure on the way back is far from being a military daydream."

Yachts Man Killed Under Load of Logs

GOLDENDALE, Wash., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Clarence William Miller, 22, Yachats, Ore., was killed instantly last evening when crushed under a truck load of logs. Edgar H. Canfield, Kluckitkat county coroner, said Miller was unloading logs near White Salmon, Wash.

Italy, extending into the Mediterranean and with the Tyrrhenian and Adriatic seas on either side, is considered by naval experts to be vulnerable, by reason of her geographic situation to attack from the combined British and French Mediterranean fleets. Should her fleet be swept out of the way, her long coasts might be subject to a raking from British-French guns.

The British navy alone is considered stronger in most respects than the combined Italian and German fleets. On completion of current construction programs, Britain and France will be able to muster 33 capital ships, 130 cruisers, 14 aircraft carriers, 230 destroyers and torpedo boats, 160 submarines and a swarm of patrol and anti-submarine craft. The combined German and Italian navies, it is estimated, could provide 20 capital ships, 42 cruisers, 2 aircraft carriers, 195 destroyers and torpedo boats and 175 submarines.

Military men admit British and French aid to Poland will be a tremendous task; the annihilation of Poland's army the primary German objective.

"The Germans cannot allow the Poles to remain unconquered for long," said one. "Such an army, highly mobile, familiar with the ground it is fighting on and of high morale is always dangerous, doubly so to a highly mechanized force."

"The only aid I can see Britain and France giving to Poland is continuous bombing by plane of German munition dumps, railheads and communication lines in Germany. The 'shuttle' plan of British and French bombers flying across Germany, 'laying their eggs,' refueling and reloading in Poland and repeating the procedure on the way back is far from being a military daydream."

Italy, extending into the Mediterranean and with the Tyrrhenian and Adriatic seas on either side, is considered by naval experts to be vulnerable, by reason of her geographic situation to attack from the combined British and French Mediterranean fleets. Should her fleet be swept out of the way, her long coasts might be subject to a raking from British-French guns.

The British navy alone is considered stronger in most respects than the combined Italian and German fleets. On completion of current construction programs, Britain and France will be able to muster 33 capital ships, 130 cruisers, 14 aircraft carriers, 230 destroyers and torpedo boats, 160 submarines and a swarm of patrol and anti-submarine craft. The combined German and Italian navies, it is estimated, could provide 20 capital ships, 42 cruisers, 2 aircraft carriers, 195 destroyers and torpedo boats and 175 submarines.

Military men admit British and French aid to Poland will be a tremendous task; the annihilation of Poland's army the primary German objective.

"The Germans cannot allow the Poles to remain unconquered for long," said one. "Such an army, highly mobile, familiar with the ground it is fighting on and of high morale is always dangerous, doubly so to a highly mechanized force."

"The only aid I can see Britain and France giving to Poland is continuous bombing by plane of German munition dumps, railheads and communication lines in Germany. The 'shuttle' plan of British and French bombers flying across Germany, 'laying their eggs,' refueling and reloading in Poland and repeating the procedure on the way back is far from being a military daydream."

Italy, extending into the Mediterranean and with the Tyrrhenian and Adriatic seas on either side, is considered by naval experts to be vulnerable, by reason of her geographic situation to attack from the combined British and French Mediterranean fleets. Should her fleet be swept out of the way, her long coasts might be subject to a raking from British-French guns.

The British navy alone is considered stronger in most respects than the combined Italian and German fleets. On completion of current construction programs, Britain and France will be able to muster 33 capital ships, 130 cruisers, 14 aircraft carriers, 230 destroyers and torpedo boats, 160 submarines and a swarm of patrol and anti-submarine craft. The combined German and Italian navies, it is estimated, could provide 20 capital ships, 42 cruisers, 2 aircraft carriers, 195 destroyers and torpedo boats and 175 submarines.

Military men admit British and French aid to Poland will be a tremendous task; the annihilation of Poland's army the primary German objective.

"The Germans cannot allow the Poles to remain unconquered for long," said one. "Such an army, highly mobile, familiar with the ground it is fighting on and of high morale is always dangerous, doubly so to a highly mechanized force."

"The only aid I can see Britain and France giving to Poland is continuous bombing by plane of German munition dumps, railheads and communication lines in Germany. The 'shuttle' plan of British and French bombers flying across Germany, 'laying their eggs,' refueling and reloading in Poland and repeating the procedure on the way back is far from being a military daydream."

Italy, extending into the Mediterranean and with the Tyrrhenian and Adriatic seas on either side, is considered by naval experts to be vulnerable, by reason of her geographic situation to attack from the combined British and French Mediterranean fleets. Should her fleet be swept out of the way, her long coasts might be subject to a raking from British-French guns.

The British navy alone is considered stronger in most respects than the combined Italian and German fleets. On completion of current construction programs, Britain and France will be able to muster 33 capital ships, 130 cruisers, 14 aircraft carriers, 230 destroyers and torpedo boats, 160 submarines and a swarm of patrol and anti-submarine craft. The combined German and Italian navies, it is estimated, could provide 20 capital ships, 42 cruisers, 2 aircraft carriers, 195 destroyers and torpedo boats and 175 submarines.

Military men admit British and French aid to Poland will be a tremendous task; the annihilation of Poland's army the primary German objective.

"The Germans cannot allow the Poles to remain unconquered for long," said one. "Such an army, highly mobile, familiar with the ground it is fighting on and of high morale is always dangerous, doubly so to a highly mechanized force."

"The only aid I can see Britain and France giving to Poland is continuous bombing by plane of German munition dumps, railheads and communication lines in Germany. The 'shuttle' plan of British and French bombers flying across Germany, 'laying their eggs,' refueling and reloading in Poland and repeating the procedure on the way back is far from being a military daydream."

Italy, extending into the Mediterranean and with the Tyrrhenian and Adriatic seas on either side, is considered by naval experts to be vulnerable, by reason of her geographic situation to attack from the combined British and French Mediterranean fleets. Should her fleet be swept out of the way, her long coasts might be subject to a raking from British-French guns.

The British navy alone is considered stronger in most respects than the combined Italian and German fleets. On completion of current construction programs, Britain and France will be able to muster 33 capital ships, 130 cruisers, 14 aircraft carriers, 230 destroyers and torpedo boats, 160 submarines and a swarm of patrol and anti-submarine craft. The combined German and Italian navies, it is estimated, could provide 20 capital ships, 42 cruisers, 2 aircraft carriers, 195 destroyers and torpedo boats and 175 submarines.

Spread Retarded In Whitman Fire

Control Looms; Blaze at Imnaha Is Corralled; Weather Assists

BAKER, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The 40,000-acre blaze in the Whitman national forest in eastern Oregon was held to a spread of only 800 acres tonight, as 1900 men doggedly fought to bring it under control.

State foresters said "considerable headway is being made and the situation looks much better."

Fire in the Imnaha region of the forest was brought under control last night.

Art Walters and Morris Shively, injured when their plane crashed while dropping supplies Wednesday, came out of the Imnaha region today by pack train.

Rain put out fires in other sections of the state.

The five weather forecast: "Cloudy tonight with local showers, becoming fair Friday with slowly rising temperature and falling humidity; moderate southerly becoming west and northwesterly wind, fresh high elevations."

Back to School Sports $1.99

Greatest variety of new styles in town! Plenty of Saddles... Blacks... Antique Tans... Blues... Wines... Roughies or Smooth Calfskins. These sports will get you off on the right foot.

THICK CREPE OR LEATHER SOLES

THE "LOAFER" A New Sports Sensation WINE - BROWN BLUE - GREEN BLACK

Block's 176 N. Liberty - Salem, Ore. Next to Fred Meyer

WARNER'S ISMORE SALEM'S LEADING THEATRE

Starts Today - Five Days

WHEN CAGNEY'S SMASHING FISTS... MEET RAFT'S BLAZING GUNS...

THERE'S GOING TO BE T-R-O-U-B-L-E

The loser goes to the morgue, the winner goes to the chair in this battle of the killers! Who's going to crack? Who's going to win? You'll find out when

JAMES CAGNEY MEETS GEORGE RAFT

EACH DAWN I DIE

JANE BRYAN GEORGE BANCROFT PLUS 2ND BIG HIT "EVERYBODY'S HOBBY" with IRENE RICH - HENRY O'NEILL

WARNER'S CAPITOL TWO BIG HITS 25c

STARTS SATURDAY SHE SMILES... AND THE ANGELS SING!

THE ANGELS WASH THEIR FACES

ANN SHERIDAN THE DEAD END KIDS

COMPANION FEATURE

AUTRY'S GREATEST PICTURE Her's Gene again, your Public Enemy No. 1, in the most exciting, most beautiful, most amusing film he has ever made.

Gene AUTRY Smiley BURNETTE COLORADO SUNSET

PLUS SPECIAL NEWS FROM EUROPE BY PLANE Europe Under the Sword FRANCE ENGLAND DANZIG POLAND GERMANY GIBRALTAR

LAST TIMES TONIGHT "Island of Lost Men" with ANNA MAE WONG J. CARROLL NASH "Boys' Town" with SPENCER TRACY MICKEY ROONEY

HOME OWNED HOLLYWOOD 15c TODAY AND SATURDAY TWO BIG FEATURES

CHARLES STARRETT SPOILERS OF THE RANGE CHARLIE RUGGLES SUDDEN MONEY

Also News, Colored Cartoon & Chap. 9 of "Red Barry"

STARTS - Special Midnight Matinee Saturday at 11:30 p.m. 15c Continuous Performance Sunday-1 to 11 p.m.

THE GREATEST AMERICAN ADVENTURE PICTURE OF THEM ALL!

UNION PACIFIC

CECIL B. DeMILLE'S "UNION PACIFIC" A Paramount Picture starring Barbara Stanwyck - Joel McCrea

PHONE 3721 STATE THEATRE 15c CONTINUOUS SHOWS DAILY - MAT. I.P.M.

Kings For a Day THEY'RE MILLIONAIRES... for a Moment!

M.G.M. Picture

TODAY THE HARDYS RIDE HIGH

Lewis Stone with Mickey ROONEY Cecilia PARKER Fay HOLDEN Ann RUTHERFORD

2nd HIT BORIS KARLOFF AS HUGH WILEY'S CHINESE SLEUTH OF COLLIER'S MAGAZINE "MR. WONG DETECTIVE" GRANT WITHERS and EVELYN BRENT

STANLEY SPENCER TRACY and LIVINGSTONE GRAND