

Pensioners Rap Social Security Act

Silverton Is Host to Group

11 Clubs Are Represented; H. K. Haskell Is Main Speaker

SILVERTON—The social security plan is the biggest steal ever put on record in any country, said H. K. Haskell, radio broadcaster, who spoke before 400 Townsendites and visitors in the city park Sunday. Mrs. Minnie Preston was program chairman.

Haskell's subject was "The One Who Stepped Out of the Crowd." He pronounced the HR 466 an emasculation of HR 2, which is "temporarily in the cell, but will surely come out again." He quoted Homer D. Angel as saying, "If you all knew what was being discussed behind the scenes politically, it would put you all on soap boxes."

"Every word uttered by Lewis C. Johnson was a lie," said the speaker, "and Dr. Townsend is the only true friend of labor in the United States today." He said that 228 firms went out of business because of the social security act.

Many Represented
Townsend clubs represented Sunday, at the picnic were Salem Silverton, Liberty, Grants Pass, Scotts Mills, Aumsville, Co. B, Monticello, Stayton, Mt. Angel and Woodburn.

Prominent Townsendites present included George C. Gillis, member of the Grants Pass club, and a certified speaker of the Townsend movement for more than one and a half years, and F. G. Delano, Salem, state district deputy of Townsend clubs of Marion, Polk, Yamhill and Clackamas counties. Both appeared on the program.

Mayor Zetta Schlador welcomed the guests. Townsend speakers introduced were A. L. Schindler, Betty Schindler, John Frey, Ted Kramer, all of Mt. Angel; F. A. Garve of Aumsville; W. J. Wright, Mrs. W. J. Riggs, Nora V. Leslie and W. F. Klecker of Stayton; Mrs. Jessie Wageman, William Clark, Mrs. E. Huggill, officers of Woodburn and S. W. Maupin, Woodburn past president, and for five years press agent and advertising manager of Townsend clubs; and Mrs. A. Doolittle of Scotts Mills.

DeSart Is Host
Jerry DeSart, president of the Silverton club, was official host and announced the program chairman, George C. Gillis led the group in singing "America" and in the salute to the flag. Rev. R. R. Irwin of the Silverton Christian and Missionary Alliance gave the invocation. Mrs. Floyd Ellefson gave two comedy readings.

The work of "Trail Blazers" was explained by Mrs. Preston. Reading of club creed and singing of a club song, led by J. E. Hosmer. Words of greeting were given by A. O. Nelson and violin and accordion numbers by young people of the Mt. Angel club.

New Silverton High School Building Contains all Latest Conveniences

SILVERTON—Whether H. W. Adams, superintendent of Silverton school, or the 475 senior high school students will be the happiest over the new high school plant at Silverton is hard to say. Adams has already made the statement that no one could be more pleased than he.

Much credit for many extra conveniences at no greater expense is due Adams, members of the school board state. This is the third school built under Adams' superintendency. He has made a thorough study of modern plants in Oregon and Washington and through knowledge there gained, it is said, has been able to suggest many an attractive feature which might otherwise have been overlooked.

The building contains 17 rooms. However, some of them are so arranged that sound proof doors can be used to partition the larger rooms into smaller ones.

Laboratories Improved
The laboratories are among the biggest improvements over the old plant. Chief among these are those for home economics, biology and chemistry.

Biology and chemistry laboratories each have work tables, arranged for two students, equipped with acid proof table tops, gas jets and electricity. In addition the chemistry tables are each equipped with small acid proof sinks. There are both direct and alternating current in the chemistry laboratory.

Adams admits the home economics department is one of his special joys in the new building. The laboratory contains six unit-kitchens. Of these, four have gas stoves and two electric. Each has its own sink, work table and serving table. The laboratory is also arranged with special broom closet, tea towel drier, and refrigerator.

Has Cafeteria
Off from the home economics laboratory is the cafeteria and its kitchen which will be brought into use later in the season. This is to be arranged with a hot food table, a dish washing machine and other conveniences. When this is

Fire Destroys Woodburn House

SAM STUBBS HOME BURNS SUNDAY MORNING WHILE OWNERS AWAY

WOODBURN—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Y. Stubbs, a quarter-mile north of Woodburn along the railroad tracks and just south of the Church of God campground, was completely destroyed by fire about 1:30 a. m. Sunday morning.

The fire, which was believed to have started in the basement, was first noticed by the brakeman on No. 669, southbound freight train which was passing through town at that time. As the caboose of the train passed the local depot the brakeman threw off the operator in charge of the depot. The note read: "Smoke arising from house near Church of God campground, better send cop to investigate." The note was immediately handed to the night marshal who investigated and rushed back to town to blow the siren.

Both the Woodburn trucks answered the alarm and emptied their water tanks holding 250 gallons on the house. When the trucks returned to town to refill their tanks the fire got completely out of control and the house could not be saved. The house and a cellar nearby were completely destroyed and nothing was saved.

The owners of the house had left on a trip the day before and no one was home at the time of the fire. The cause of the fire is still unknown. Ashes and embers of the fire, some as big as two inches square, covered the streets of the business district Sunday morning.

Woodburn Flyers' Plane Is Wrecked

WOODBURN—The Woodburn Aero club will be without their own airplane again for some time as their plane was badly damaged late Friday afternoon. Pete Bernard, a club member from St. Paul, was attempting to take off when he hit a fence bounding the southern end of the field. The plane turned over on its nose, smashing the propeller and causing other damages.

It was the only one in the plane at the time and was uninjured. The plane was covered by insurance. The plane, which had been in a Portland shop for about the past six weeks getting overhauled, was just returned to the club a week ago Saturday.

Silverton to Talk About Art Center

Planning Council Will Meet Tonight, Loar Is in Charge

SILVERTON—The proposed art center at Silverton will come up for discussion at the Tuesday night meeting of the Silverton planning council. The meeting will be held at the chamber of commerce rooms with Dr. P. A. Loar in charge.

A pre-school clinic, the last to be held before school starts, will be held Tuesday afternoon at the Eugene Field health center. Dr. Vernon Douglas will be in charge, assisted by Margaret McAlpin of Salem.

Robert Goetz, former superintendent of schools at Silverton, is in charge of a five-year occupational survey in the Atkinson school, sponsored by the Portland school board, he told when on a visit here last week. The tests, said Goetz, indicate a student's trend along vocational lines, helping him to find his life's work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hobart and children will spend next week at Seaside where Mr. Hobart will attend a regional conference for farm security administrators. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Madson, now of Hillsboro, will also be at Seaside. The Madsons spent the weekend at Silverton as guests of Mr. Madson's mother, Mrs. M. J. Madson, and Mrs. Madson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Satern. A daughter, Colleen Madson, spent a week with her cousin, Joan Satern, on the Oscar Satern hop farm.

Bond Issue Hope In River Cleanup

PORTLAND, Sept. 4—Only by means of a bond issue can Portland hope to clean up the Willamette river and Columbia slough in this generation, a board of consulting engineers told the city council today.

It would take, the experts asserted, between 20 to 35 years to complete the job on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The board also indicated that a year would be consumed in preparing plans for the clean-up at a cost of about $150,000.

Riches Funeral Is Today at 2

SILVERTON—Funeral services for Jack Riches, 81, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Larson & Son chapel and interment will be at the Mt. Crest Abbey mausoleum at Salem.
