

Mrs. Logan Dies Of Long Illness

Resident, 75, Was Active as PEO Leader, Once State President

Mrs. Mary Kneeland Logan, 75, died at the home of her son, C. K. Logan, 560 Judson street, Saturday night. She had been in ill health for nearly 20 years.

Mrs. Logan was past state president and organizer of the PEO Sisterhood, having been a member of the organization since 1905. She belonged to chapters in Eureka Springs, Ark., Fort Morgan, Colo., Albany and Portland, Ore., though not active in recent years. She was also a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Eastern Star. Since the death of her husband, H. S. Logan, in 1932, she had made her home with her son.

Active in Church
She was a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church and engaged in music all the active years of her life, starting with Sunday school when 16 years of age. Mrs. Logan not only taught but had appeared in pipe organ, piano and vocal recitals for many years, ceasing because of her ill health nearly 20 years ago.

She was born at Chariton, Iowa, Sept. 1, 1864, the daughter of a pioneer Iowa physician. On June 13, 1895, she was married to Harvey Scott Logan, at Manhattan, Kans. Mrs. Logan came to Oregon in the fall of 1913 and located with her husband in Albany, where she lived until 1919 when the family moved to Tualatin, making her home there until after the death of her husband.

Besides her son she is survived by a brother, Lucius Kneeland, Council Bluffs, Iowa, and a sister, Mrs. Anna S. Hunter, El Paso, Texas.

Careful perusal of news photos in The Statesman, even though the pictures come from afar through the regular news photo channels, quite often affords readers a thrill as they recognize the countenance of some friends or relative.

The picture of Howard Philbrick, newly-appointed California state director of motor vehicles, provided such a thrill for Mrs. Charles A. Johnson, whose husband is head of the chemistry department at Willamette university; for Mrs. Johnson and Philbrick are cousins.

Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS
For those "at home" days this winter, you'll need at least one sturdy, becoming cotton house frock. A style that lets you do your work and receive unexpected callers with equal grace. This Anne Adams dress for matrons is a gray home outfit that efficiently slenderizes, too. The long center panel from neck to hem does the trick—it seems to just trim off inches and make you tall and slim. Its bias-cut is even more effective if you use a checked, plaid or striped fabric. What an easy style to make, with one waistline seam and all straight, simple lines! Have the contrasting collar short or lengthen it to follow the line of the panel. And use ruffle trimming for a crisp touch.

Pattern 4138 is available in women's sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 38 takes 4 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric and 2 yards lace edging; 1/2 yard contrast.
