Calinescu Assassination Believed Prelude to Outside Attack

at a crown council meeting over which Carol presided. The new premier immediately held a cabinet council session which still was meeting late tonight.

The cabinet was expected to issue an appeal to the nation for calm and loyalty and to promise to crush the remnants of the outlawed Iron Guard.

Premier Calinescu often had accused the organization of taking money and orders from Berlin.

Carol decreed a huge public funeral for Calinescu. Meanwhile his body lay in state.

The press department of the premier's office issued a com-unique during the evening declaring that "investigation thus far has failed to show any ramifications in the plot which can be traced to a foreign country." It continued:

"Political circles think it is not likely that an international explanation can be given to the plot, the less so as Calinescu was correct and straight in his policy of a neutral international program."

However, a phrase in an early government statement that the leader of Calinescu's assassins had returned to Rumania six weeks ago from the "Ukraine" caught the eye of foreign diplomats.

Germany's diplomatic attempts to get more of Rumania's oil have been unsuccessful. A mission here for the purpose has been told the oil already is pledged to Britain, French and American companies.

Oil experts here have said that Germany has only enough petroleum to last for four months of war. At Corvaul, on the Polish-Rumanian frontier, foreign military observers said many German planes and tanks have been immobilized in Poland because of rationing of fuel by high army authorities.

ing the foreign buyer to take transfer of title in this country to commodities purchased by belligerents. The preventing of war credits to belligerents.

I see no valid reason for the consideration of other legislation at this extraordinary session of the congress.

This government must lose no time or effort to keep the nation from being drawn into the war. In my candid judgment we shall succeed in these efforts.

Let no man or group in any walk of life assume exclusive proprietorship over the future well-being of America—because I conceive that regardless of party or section the mantle of peace and of patriotism is wide enough to cover us all. Let no group assume the exclusive label of the peace "bloc." We all belong to it.

Snipers Face Death Before Firing Squad

A rendezvous with death awaits this group of Polish prisoners pictured in radiophoto above who were accused of sniping at advancing nazl troops, penalty for which is death before the firing squad. Word from the soviet general staff of a constantly narrowing wedge between Russian and German troops in Poland, meantime, revived reports an armistice in the European war may be proposed as soon as Poland's fate is determined.

Capital Consuls Escorted Away

BUDAPEST, Sept. 21.—(P)—The Warsaw radio announced tonight that foreign consular officials left the besieged Polish capital at 9 p. m. (8 p. m. PST) today under an agreement reached with the Germans.

The announcement failed to name the officials but it was believed they included a half dozen Americans headed by Consul-General John K. Davis, veteran of 30 years in the foreign service.

Other American consular attaches who had remained in Warsaw with Davis were George J. Ahering of New York, William M. Cramp of Pennsylvania, Douglas Jenkins, Jr., of South Carolina, M. William Blake of Ohio and E. Tomlin Bailey of New Jersey.

In an earlier broadcast Warsaw's mayor Stefan Starzynski declared that the city was withstanding the siege "with unbroken spirit."

"as the result of a secret treaty." "In reality," said Daladier, who is his own foreign minister, "an accord for the dismemberment of Poland was concluded between Germany and the USSR on August 23.

In an urgent appeal Daladier declared France would not make peace with Germany until a "solid, lasting basis" could be established.

Warning the nation against the "German menace" he said it wanted to "destroy France like it destroyed Austria, Czecho-Slovakia and Poland."

Despite Hitler's promises Germany wanted nothing from France," he said, the truth was that "Hitler wants to destroy France" and that the war was one to prevent death of the French nation.

Crowds Attend Fair

PUYALLUP, Sept. 21.—(P)—Observance of Seattle, northwest Washington and navy day at the western Washington fair today attracted an attendance of 23,983, sending the total for the week to 125,580, officials announced tonight. Lone accident of the day sent Mike Carlin, 21, of Chase, B.C., to a hospital here when he was gored by a steer during a rodeo event, but not seriously injured.

French Chief Raps Russians

Russia, Britain and France which he once referred to as a "stop Hitler" move, the French premier declared that "Poland's destruction was being prepared by arms and secret treaties even while there was a pretense of negotiations."

The Russian army, Daladier said, struck Poland in the rear promised to consult with them, and in case of new emergencies call another special session.

Sober Counterance Stresses Gravity

It was an unsmiling president who delivered his message. Not even a prolonged ovation, thunderous handclapping punctuated by shrill "rebel yells" upon his entrance, evoked from him the broad grin and sweeping wave of the arm with which, on such occasions, he usually acknowledges the greetings of the legislators.

Returning to the White House, Mr. Roosevelt turned at once to the battle for his neutrality program. He talked with Senator Glass, inveterate opponent of the president on most other issues, but his firm supporter on this one. Almost simultaneously, the foes of the president's policies were meeting at the capitol. Twenty-four attended—15 republicans, six democrats, two farmer-laborites and one progressive. They discussed strategy, but all they would say afterward was that there would be no filibuster—"thorough debate and it will take some time,"—but "no filibuster."

Tomorrow, it was announced, Mr. Roosevelt's conferences will continue, with a call from Senator Pittman, another by Senators McNary (R-Ore) and Austin (R-Vt.), the republican leader and assistant leader, and a third from Senator Connally (D-Tex), who supports the president's position. Austin is for the president's program, McNary against it. Their scheduled conference was in line with the president's recent call for an "adjustment" of politics, a point which he stressed again in today's message.

Former Shell Shortage Remedied by Britons

LONDON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Parliament heard government assurances today that Britain's World War shell shortage would not be repeated, while Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax warned against losing sight of the main objective—victory.

Supply Minister Leslie Burgin said 700 firms were making shells for the British forces and that war supplies worth 70,000,000 pounds (about $280,000,000) had been ordered since the fight with Germany started.

Six thousand five hundred contractors were working for the ministry of supply, he added, and a number were being added each day.

Shortage of shells for Britain's army in France in the World War caused a government shake-up. The supply minister further stated that the country had been divided into 13 districts, each under a trained engineer to "ensure that the whole capacity of the country is utilized."

Poland Position "Tragedy"

Arthur Greenwood, acting opposition leader, criticized the latter set-up as bureaucratic and said "the dead hand of officialdom is going to throttle the national effort."

Lord Halifax' statement was made in the House of Lords in commenting on Poland's failure to receive effective help in time from Britain and France.

"He spoke of Poland's position as 'one of the major tragedies of the last few weeks.' And added: 'We must not lose sight of our main objective in this war—victory—and we must not undertake anything that does not directly contribute to that victory.'"

Southeast Europe Hangs in Balance

Tonight the question was whether the iron guard, an organization with long-acknowledged nazl leanings, had trumped it with bullets.

Diplomats said no country at the moment at peace with the entire world was in a more precarious position than Rumania.

On the north and east, soviet Russia, which never had been reconciled to the loss of Bessarabia to Rumania in settlements after the World War, now holds a border with Rumania from the Black sea to the eastern-most tip of Hungary.

German nazlism—inspiration of the iron guard movement—has been aggressive since the start of the Polish war. The Germans have been pressing for Rumanian oil for the reich's motorized army and Rumanian wheat for the reich's vast industrial population.

Atlantic Trips Resume

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(P)—A 25 per cent wartime pay increase was granted today to American merchant seamen who sail dangerous waters, and nine vessels tied up by their strike made ready to return Americans marooned in war-torn Europe. The ships were the American Trader, American Traveler, Ex-cambion, Scanstates, Black Gull, West Lashaway, St. John, Acadia and Iroquois.
