Wheat Prices Lower After Erratic Session

Losses Replace Opening Gains

Estimates of big World Carryover Restrains Trade Movement

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Wheat prices lost as much as a cent a bushel today in erratic trade that closed at or near the session's lows.

Small opening gains were replaced by net losses ranging to ¾ cent, but the early decline reflected lack of buying interest rather than selling pressure. A moderate, late rally lifted prices to near the previous close, but they backed down again in the final minutes.

Peace moves abroad, absence of export demand and estimates of a record world carryover restrained trade. The US bureau of agricultural economics anticipated domestic wheat carryover next July would total about 225,000,000 bushels. A market supporting factor was continued dry weather in the winter wheat belt, where seeding of the new crop has been delayed.

Clos Lower.

Wheat closed ⅝-1 cent lower, December 85⅛-¼, May 85¾-⅞.

Other North American wheat markets also closed lower. Kansas City was ¼-⅜ down, Minneapolis ¼-⅝ off and Winnipeg ⅝-⅝ off.

The government weekly weather summary said continued droughty conditions throughout the major winter wheat belt had delayed plowing and seeding and that reports were received of planting in soil too dry to germinate the seed. It added that moisture was needed in the Pacific northwest. Little precipitation fell over night in the southwest and fair weather was forecast for much of the area.

Wool in Boston

BOSTON, Sept. 27—(AP)—(USDA)—Wool prices continued to advance today on the Boston market, even though trading was somewhat slower than earlier in the week. Graded staple combing lengths fine Texas wools brought $1.12 to $1.15, scoured basis. Graded fine Delaine bright fleeces brought around 45 cents in the grease, or $1.10 to $1.15, scoured basis. Bids of about 48 cents in the grease have been refused on graded combing three-eighths and quarter blood bright fleeces, but this price has been realized on mixed lots in these grades, country packed. Graded French combing lengths fine territory wools have realized $1.07 to $1.12, scoured basis.

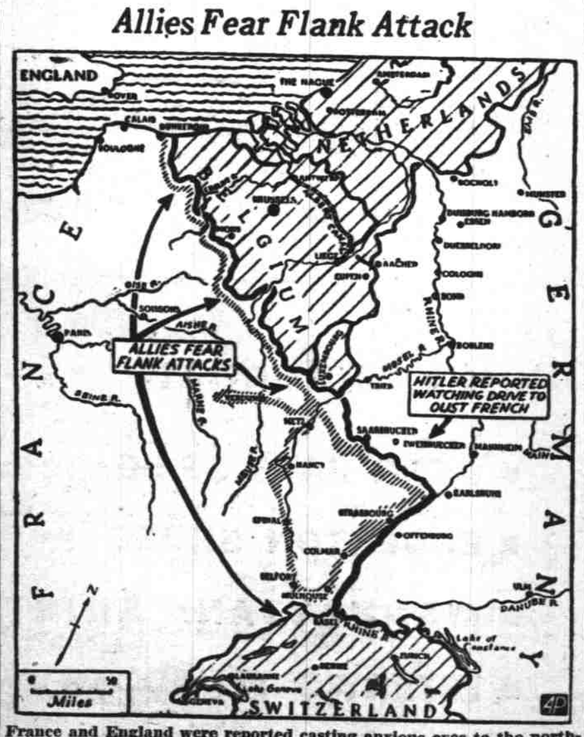
Allies Fear Flank Attack



France and England were reported casting anxious eyes to the northern and southern tips of the Maginot line, as likely spots for a German flank attack. Arrows radiating from France indicate where French mechanized units were being bolstered. On German side, Arrow locates probable point on west wall where Hitler visited.

War Shares Prices Down

Recent Favorites Retire From Advance Posts; Others Gain

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—(AP)—War shares were handed out at lower prices in a confused stock market today.

Steels, aircrafts, chemicals and other recent favorites retired from advance posts of the war buy drives, many losing 1 to around 2 points.

Covering the retreat were flurries of buying in motors, rubbers, rails and utilities. Final prices showed a mixture of gains and declines which left the Associated Press composite price of 60 stocks unchanged at 53.5.

Transactions totaled 2,339,930 shares against 1,712,670 the previous session. Large dealings in rails and utilities in the forenoon made much of the turnover.

Motors Recover.

Motors stepped to the front at the close to recover earlier losses. The forthcoming New York automobile show and reports new car sales were going well encouraged traders to shift to the automotive groups when interest in the "war babies" waned.

For want of more specific explanation, some brokers suggested the selling in war stocks may have been actuated in part by belief a "peace campaign" would follow in event of Warsaw's capitulation and completion of Russian and German territorial plans in eastern Europe. This idea has persisted in some Wall street quarters, despite the declared British and French intentions to fight to a finish.

At the same time, it was said, traders have been steering more cautiously until the smoke clears from the neutrality fight in congress.

Plenty of Turkey For State Tables

PORTLAND, Sept. 27.—(AP)—There'll be turkey on the table for Oregon's Thanksgiving this year. A department of agriculture report today estimated the turkey population at 1,518,000 birds, 20 per cent more than Oregon's 1938 production of 1,265,000.

The crop was more than twice as large as the 1931-35 average of 730,000 birds.

Quality and weight were brought above average by favorable feed and weather conditions.

The Portland area's limited marketing indicated producers were holding for higher prices. Although eight carloads of fresh stock moved east in August and September, shippers said reduction of cold storage stocks would be necessary for better prices later.

The prevailing price for dressed birds to frogers, f. o. b. Portland, has been 17-18 for US prime young hens, 16-17 for US prime young toms. Local jobbing prices to retailers ranged 22-23 for hens and 21-22 for toms.

Coast Defense Display at SF Fair

A lesson in Pacific coast harbor defense is being given Jeane Frothingham of Treasure Island, in photo above, by Captain Merle Kline, shown holding a 16-inch projectile which fits the modern disappearing rifles stationed at key points in the San Francisco bay area. Coast defense units will display such weapons and stage defense manenvers at San Francisco's own "day" at Treasure Island September 30.
