

School Safety Patrol Planned

Junior Chamber Sponsors Crossing Protection Program Here

A cooperative schoolboy patrol system to protect children at street crossings near Salem public school buildings is being worked out by the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce with the assistance and approval of the police department. The school patrol system, which will be supervised by Bennett, city superintendent, it was announced yesterday by David J. Wied, general chairman of the chamber. Purpose of the school patrols will be to control the flow of school children on foot in order that they will cross the street only when no cars are approaching, Wied explained. The student patrolmen will remain at all times on the curb and will not be permitted to stop vehicular traffic.

The Junior chamber is providing Sam Browne belts, yellow flags with black and red spots and in the near future will also supply each patrolman with a white raincoat and white rain hat, Wied said. The "Safety Sally" signs donated by another service organization a year ago will continue to be utilized. Wied declared the patrol system had been operated in Portland for several years with a clear accident record. Designation of school at which the patrols will be established will be based on the findings from surveys now being made by the Junior chamber committee, school authorities and the police. Highland and McKinley grade schools now have such patrols and push formerly operated a similar system.

Wied said first patrols probably would be established early next week. The first may be started at Harrison Junior high school. Each member of the Junior chamber committee will act as an adviser to one school patrol and the police department will make periodic checkups on the system's functioning. Members of the committee in direct charge of establishing the patrols are Jim Burrell, chairman; Walter Jones, Jr., Alfred Hagwood, Warren Burnett, Bogart, A. Bowman, Oren McDowell, Jr., James Beaver and Roger Kellogg. Stanley King is director of the safety committee. Patrolman Louis A. Burgess of the city police force has been assisting with the preparatory surveys and will make the police contacts with the patrols.

Allies Defeat Is Held Impossible

can, and will, control the seven seas despite submarines and aeroplanes, and can sit there until their enemies are exhausted. "By their sea power the allies can protect England and all the outlying possessions of both empires in the event of their invasion. Their man power can defend France unless they blunder into taking wild adventures in military offensives and exhaust their man power. Aerial warfare may be destructive, but that works both ways so far as all experience goes, is not conclusive of any war." "German shipping is already driven off the seven seas in 30 days. Italy would have the same fate if she joined in, which at the present time appears also improbable. I am confident that our naval experts will confirm that this dominance of sea power may be damaged, but cannot be destroyed by aircraft.

"The submarine may be troublesome, but there has been great progress in methods of detecting submarines since the last war, and this type of warfare is less dangerous than formerly. Even in the last war it had no major effect upon naval command of the seas." As to Russia, Mr. Hoover said that in any event it was "most unlikely" that Soviet troops ever would reach the western front—because of "transportation difficulties, shortages of materials, internal weakness; a lack of any national purpose for the Russians, together with the risks of the Germans of such a gust."

Mr. Hoover, summing up with the statement that "the slow struggle of seapower will have its effect," suggested this course for the United States: "We need to keep cool. After all, we must keep out of this war. We would be yielding the last stand of democracy if we go in, win or lose."

rear not breaking away from careening over the sidewalk of the deep cut," Hilly said. First four cars were baggage, mail and two unoccupied tourist sleepers. Two occupied coaches and one sleeper were derailed. J. H. Miller, Tacoma stevedore, suffered scalds to hands and legs when hot coffee spilled on him in a dining car, and Baggageman E. Bonquist of Klamath Falls, Ore., had a hand injury.

September Stingy With Rains Here

September's usual contribution to Salem's annual rainfall total fell short last month, the weather bureau reported yesterday. Only 37 inch of rain was recorded. Last year September brought 1.38 inches of rain and the year before .81. Mean average for the month is 1.35 inches. The month, however, was no record breaker. September, 1932, supplied only .61 inch of rain and three others provided less than last year's total.

116 Year War no Trick To Dogged Englishmen

Royalty of Warring France and Britain Intermarry, Other Strange Doings in Longest War

By GLADWIN HILL
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(AP)—How long the war will last is an enigma—Winston Churchill has mentioned three years and Hitler seven—but it might go on for a century. England has fought that long before.

She once waged a war with France for 116 years. It was probably the longest war in history—and the strangest. It lasted through the reigns of five English kings. While the war was in progress, two of them married French princesses. The English held one French king a prisoner for four years. And the French held one English king a prisoner—and two others to thunderstorms.

New World Ends Neutrality Meet

21 Republics Adopt Plans to Keep Europe's War From Crossing Sea

PANAMA, Panama, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The neutrality conference of 21 American republics adjourned today with closing speeches stressing again the new world's determination to keep the European war from spanning the Atlantic.

The conference, which opened Sept. 23, adjourned late in the afternoon, the delegates having formulated and adopted a program designed to insulate the western hemisphere from the old world conflict. The principal feature of this program is the "safety zone" of neutral shipping, said about the continent from the Maine-Canada border, around Cape Horn and north in the Pacific to the boundary between Canada and the state of Washington. This zone is to be patrolled by the United States navy, and the United States necessarily undertaking the chief role—keeping neutral American shipping free from hindrance by the belligerents.

The conference closed after hearing speeches from Mexican Foreign Minister Eduardo Hay, Nicaraguan Foreign Minister Manuel Cordero Reyes, Ambassador Carlos Martins of Brazil, Foreign Minister Alberto Ostria Gutierrez of Bolivia, Foreign Minister Luis Lopez of Colombia, Leopoldo Melo of Argentina and Foreign Minister Narciso Garay of Panama. Garay delivered the farewell address. He said the delegates could return home "satisfied and proud of the task done here in favor of peace and the security and well-being of our America."

Garay assailed international "gangsterism." "Let us remember," he said, "that the reign of law and order in the most civilized countries does not prevent the abuses of Apaches, gangsters nor the sinister machinations of the Mafia. These sporadic acts unfortunately sometimes transcend from the national field to the international."

The safety zone which the conference drew up runs far out into the Atlantic—600 miles off Boston, 750 miles off New York, 950 miles off Washington and 1200 miles off Miami.

After the Panama canal approach and the Panama canal, the approach the line extends southward 300 miles off Rio de Janeiro, about 1100 miles off Buenos Aires, around the tip of South America and northward through the Pacific. It lies 730 miles off Ecuador to take in the Galapagos islands and 200 miles off Southern California to include Guadalupe island. It runs about 500 miles west of Los Angeles, 400 miles west of San Francisco and 600 miles off Seattle.

Highway Officials To National Meet

Henry F. Cabell, Portland, chairman of the state highway commission, left Sunday for Richmond, Va., to attend the annual meeting of the American Association of State Highway Officials. Other Oregon officials who will attend include R. H. Baldock, state highway engineer; J. M. Devers, attorney for the state highway commission, and C. B. McCullough, assistant state highway engineer. The convention opens October 9 for four days. Both Cabell and Baldock are scheduled to give addresses.

Late Sports

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Paul Dean, half of one of baseball's most famous brother acts, was obtained by the New York Giants tonight as the major league annual draft meeting got underway here. Dean, who was sent to Columbus of the American association this summer by the St. Louis Cardinals after failing to be of much help to them in their drive for a National league pennant, was the eighth name called in the draft. When Manager Bill Terry of the New York club called out his name, there was much surprise for it is believed that Dean's arm is no longer of major league calibre. The first name called was that of Alan Strange, the shortstop on the Seattle club of the Pacific coast league who went to the St. Louis Browns under the draft arrangement that gave the last place American league club the first call on available talent.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Reinforced by a foot-long chunk of salmon, a chocolate bar and a battery of 18 sandwiches, four shivering stalwarts held the bleacher front line tonight, as they advanced on the world series opening game in a chilly, drizzling rain. Only court communicators were seen to resist sporadic flank attacks by New York police. "Looks like the Reds 'me' announced Sherwood C. Bower, of Allentown, Pa., who never has seen a world series game, and theoretically holds No. 1 position in the bleacher line. He's been there since 11:00 a.m.

Oregon GOP's Conclave Due

Salem and Marion Clubs to Be Represented at The Dalles

Salem will be well-represented when the sixth annual convention of the Oregon Republican club, embracing 37 chapters, meets at The Dalles Friday and Saturday, with nine official delegates representing the two Marion county groups. Representing the Marion club will be Del C. Neiderhiser, president Dr. P. O. Riley, Walter McPherson, Mrs. R. L. Wright and Glen Wade, all of Salem, and Grant Murphy, Stayton. The Marion Young Republicans have selected Robert E. Jones, chairman of the executive committee, Sue Anderson, secretary, and Wayne Doughton, treasurer, as its delegates.

Local Men Speakers

Salem will practically dominate Saturday night's windup session in the civic auditorium, with various convention committees; Resolutions, David Eccles, chairman, Harold G. Pruitt, Stewart Weiss, Cecil L. Edwards, C. M. Ryerson and Theodore G. Nelson; constitution and by-laws, Del Neiderhiser; finance, Ernest Miller and Glen Wade; nominations, Dr. P. O. Riley, vice chairman, and Chris Kowitz; credentials, Mrs. R. L. Wright and Lawrence Morley; rules, William McGilchrist and Homer Smith, Jr.

The largest representation in the organization's history is expected, according to President T. Toole. Harold G. Pruitt of Salem is a former president of the group.

Steamboats Gone For River Here, Official Thinks

The throb of steamboat engines and tooting of whistles at the mouth of the Willamette will not be heard again in Salem even though the Willamette valley project may restore the river to navigable condition, Deway L. Greiner, local agent for the Salem Navigation company, said yesterday. "When the river shipping is resumed, it will probably be with barges and tugboats." The barge system is more flexible and economical, Greiner indicated. The Salem Navigation company's 500-ton packet, Northwestern, was sold several months ago to an Alaska man who planned to operate her on a river north of the Aleutian peninsula. McCormick Steamship company has bought the smaller "Salem Navy" packet, Stranger, and is using it as a towboat on the lower river.

Gavel Club Plans Discussion Series

First of a series of discussions of political and economic problems will be held at the Salem chamber of commerce at 7:45 o'clock next Monday night under sponsorship of the Gavel club, subsidiary of the Junior chamber of commerce, A. V. Thompson, chairman, announced yesterday. The discussions will be open to participation by the general public. Dr. Franklin, Willamette university professor, will lead off the discussion next Monday night on the question of effective neutrality policies for the United States to follow. The discussions will be broadcast over station KSLM.

Local Forger's Prison Sentence Commuted to Prepare for Deporting

Two two-year penitentiary sentences being served by Benny Deang, who was arrested in Marion county a year ago, were commuted by Governor Charles A. Sprague yesterday to terminate October 11. The penalties, imposed by Circuit Judge L. H. McMahan, October 13, 1938, were for larceny of a watch and forgery of a check.

Willamette's 771 Shows Even Gain

By Tuesday, 771 students had registered for work at Willamette university, according to Walter Erickson, registrar. This mark is approximately the same as for a similar period last year. Additional students expected to enroll during the coming weeks are expected to raise the total near the record established in 1938.

French Claim Nazi Repulse

Admit Eight Fighting Planes Lost, Avar Enemy Loss More

PARIS, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Spreading German attacks along the northern flank of the western front were reported tonight by the French high command to have been repulsed. The high command reported that some enemy surprise attacks were repulsed to the east of the Moselle and Saar rivers and artillery action in the same area was reported. "Great activity" by patrols was reported during the night and military observers, reading between the lines of the official communiques, said it was apparent the Germans were increasing their pressure on French advance positions and rapidly shifting their point of attack.

French Discount Air Losses
French sources reported that France had lost only eight fighting planes in aerial combats over the western front compared to 28 German planes, they said had been shot down. This information, which well-informed quarters described as "exact," added that the French lost "several" scouting planes in addition to the eight fighters. These French sources said that in the first two aerial battles of the war over the western front, the French "thanks to training and planes—among which are included some 200 American-built Curtiss—had shown 'evident superiority.'"

Scouters Drive Deep
French scouting planes, these sources said, had flown deep over German territory through heavy anti-aircraft fire, but despite this, they "never failed" to carry out their assigned missions. The Germans, on the other hand, the French said, had made "not a single" scouting flight over France. Numerous air raid alarms sounded in French cities during the first month of the war, the French indicated, were caused by German planes which had crossed the frontier, but been forced back. The Germans, who yesterday were reported by the French to be attacking on the sides of Saarbruecken, central key to the northern flank of the front, today struck new blows at the extreme northeastern end of the flank down the Moselle river valley, which parallels the Luxembourg frontier.

State Corn Show Set at Corvallis

Copies of printed rules and regulations for the third annual state corn show, to be held at Corvallis November 23 to December 2, are now available at the county agricultural office, County Agent H. L. Riches said yesterday. The regulations pamphlet also lists classification to be shown. The corn show has been changed this year from Portland. Marion county corn show will precede the state show, starting November 21 and closing on the 25th. It will again be in the lobby of the First National bank building.

Acting Manager Comes to Ward's

D. H. Bogges, manager of the Montgomery Ward and company store at Longview, Wash., has been assigned to serve as manager of the firm's Salem store pending the return of Barkley A. Newman, resident manager, who is in St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, where he recently underwent an operation. Newman is expected to be able to return within a month. Mr. Bogges has been connected with the Montgomery Ward organization for 19 years and has served in various capacities throughout the northwest.

1878 State Fair Award Presented To Sew Machines

PORTLAND, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The Singer Sewing Machine company won an award in the 1878 fair but didn't receive it until a few days ago. The award certificate, found recently among old records, was immediately sent to A. A. Fagerberg, western manager of the company. Oregon state agricultural society was sponsor of the fair at the time.

Body of Cardinal Rests in Church

Mundelein Lies in State at Cathedral Until Friday Services

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(AP)—George Cardinal Mundelein returned in death today to the Holy Name Cathedral while hundreds knelt in prayer. The body of the prelate, attired in purple vestments and resting in a 1,950-pound bronze casket, was borne into the church to lie in state until after funeral services next Friday morning. The structure was filled and 1,000 other persons were gathered in State street when the Most Rev. Bernard J. Shell, auxiliary bishop who was named administrator of the Chicago archdiocese, presided over the funeral. The XII names of the blessed cardinal, sprinkled the bier with holy water at the door. The casket then was placed on a catafalque near the altar rail. A file of mourners formed immediately. They moved slowly past for final glimpse of one of the nation's outstanding churchmen in the flickering light of eight tall candles.

Children's Mass Today
As a prelude to a series of services, a memorial program was broadcast tonight over the NBC radio network. The participants were Bishop Shell and Mayor Edward J. Kelly, speaking from Chicago; Attorney General Frank Murphy, from Washington; and Archbishop John J. Mitty, from San Francisco. Bishop Shell will say a mass attended by delegations of children from the parochial schools tomorrow. Another, with members of religious orders in attendance, will be recited Thursday by Bishop William D. O'Brien of Chicago. The ceremonies will culminate Friday in one of the most impressive funerals ever arranged here. The requiem high mass will be sung by Archbishop Amington, DC, papal delegate to the Giovanni Ciconnani of Washington.

FDR Demands Labor Peace

Appeals to Convention to Put Aside Pride for Patriotic Duty

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt gave organized labor leaders today a virtual White House command to resume the AFL-CIO peace negotiations, a plea to them to "put aside pride and self-advantage in patriotic service for national unity." The president's appeal was made in a message to the American Federation of Labor in national convention here. "The American people want it," (labor) he said, "and will hold in honor those whose insight, courage, and unselfishness can effect it." AFL Answer Favorable
AFL President William Green dispatched a reply at once, assenting that the federation's peace conference stood ready to reopen conferences with CIO.

The president spoke of the joint committee which started negotiations under his auspices, last March and voiced congratulations for "substantial progress." "This must be continued," Mr. Roosevelt said, "until a sound negotiated basis of peace between the labor groups is reached and agreed upon." Challenge Seen
"If it is hard to continue it is all the more a challenge to the members and leaders of these labor bodies—to their capacity to serve the workers of America—to their capacity to put aside pride and self-advantage in patriotic service for national unity in this time of trouble and distress." "If it is hard to continue it is all the more a challenge to the members and leaders of these labor bodies—to their capacity to serve the workers of America—to their capacity to put aside pride and self-advantage in patriotic service for national unity in this time of trouble and distress." The packed convention hall was silent as Green slowly read the president's words. When he finished reading the message and his own reply, there was applause but no debate. It was referred to the resolutions committee.

Salem Girl Wins Freshmen's Vote

The freshman class of Willamette university held its first election after chapel yesterday morning. In a close race in which three votes separated the candidates, Oscar Paulson, Salem; Tom Pickett, Salem; and Bob Hamilton, Olympia, Wash., finished in that order for the office of president. A revote will be held to determine the winner. Mary Ellen Mills of Salem was elected class president of the class; Margaret Ewing of Salem, secretary; Betty Anunson, Salem, song queen; and Joe Dwight, Honolulu, Hawaii, yell leader. A revote will be also necessary to decide the office of treasurer between Cliff Spaulding, Newberg, and Dick Stacey, Salem; and the office of class representative between John Martin, Keelson, Wash., and Carl McLeod, Salem.

Chandler Counted Logan's Successor

Kentucky Governor, to Be out of Office Soon, Slated for Solon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Washington took for granted tonight that Gov. A. B. Chandler would become the junior senator from Kentucky, succeeding 65-year-old Senator Marvel Mills Logan, who died unexpectedly early today. Logan, a democrat, succumbed to a heart attack at his home during the night after he apparently had recovered from an illness which had sent him to a hospital some months ago. He left the hospital recently, but suffered a slight heart attack Saturday and was unable to attend the opening of debate on the neutrality bill by the senate yesterday. Chandler, who unsuccessfully opposed Senator Barkley for the Kentucky democratic senatorial nomination in 1938, will step out as governor in December. His lieutenant governor, Keen Johnson, is the democratic gubernatorial nominee and a Chandler supporter. Should Chandler resign as governor Johnson would succeed him immediately and be free to appoint Chandler to the senate.
