AAUW Program On Radio Today

The American Association of University Women will begin the series of weekly radio programs being given on Wednesdays with a program today over KOAC at 2:15 o'clock.

The study programs on the first Wednesday of the month will be devoted to world events and today's will feature "The Current International Picture" by Dr. Victor Morris, dean of the school of business administration of University of Oregon. He is directing the arrangement of the current events programs.

The speaker is especially well qualified as a speaker and has been in much demand as a lecturer and interpreter of world events. This group of radio talks will survey chief international events of the month and attempt to interpret their significance. On the second Wednesday of each month the study programs will be devoted to great painters. Mr. Norland B. Zane of the University of Oregon is developing these programs and will be the speaker.

The third Wednesday of each month the program will be devoted to modern social drama, with Professor Stevenson Smith of the English department of the University of Oregon in charge. The programs for fourth Wednesday will be given by Professor Louis Artau, assistant professor of music at University of Oregon and his talks will be devoted to "Landmarks in Music."

AAUW study clubs are being formed as part of the radio program by the Salem branch. Any group of at least five persons who agree to meet once a month, to listen to and discuss these broadcasts, may enroll as an AAUW radio club by filling in the enrollment blank provided by KOAC. Program outlines, report blanks and other aids, will then be sent regularly to the group. This adult education service is free. Groups interested in this organized plan of study are invited to send for discussion questions and reference materials.

Each group meets where there is a radio. The meeting is called for 1:45 and preliminary business is conducted as suggested on the program outlines sent free to radio clubs, or, if the club wishes it tunes in KOAC for the Mu Phi Epsilon musical program (2:00 to 2:15). Then promptly at 2:15 o'clock the KOAC study club lecturer is tuned in.

At the conclusion of the lecture (2:45) the radio is turned off. The study group then proceeds to a discussion of the lecture and a consideration of the questions on the program outline. Immediately following the meeting, the club secretary sends in a report of radio reception, opinions of the broadcast, and any questions which club members want answered. This is the one obligation of the group. Report blanks are provided by KOAC free.

Freshmen Class Members new Citizens

Members of the freshman class of Willamette university are citizens of Salem for four years, and many remain in the city long after graduation. It is fitting to introduce members of the class who bid fair to be among the outstanding members of the class of 1943, who will contribute to college life in Salem.

Miss Barbara Gearhart is not entirely new to Salem, although her home is in Seattle, because she is the daughter of Mrs. Phil Gearhart, formerly of Salem. She is a graduate of Roosevelt high school in Seattle and came to Willamette on a scholarship. In high school she was active in the girl's athletic club, honor society, was girl's club editor and senior editor. Her interests are in drawing, music and journalism. Mr. Ancil Payne is from The Dalles high school where he was student body president, on the debate team and yell leader. He was a member of the Torch honor society, president of the class in his second year and on the board of control. He is six feet one inch, not bad for a freshman. He likes cartooning, swimming and show card painting. He came to the university on a scholarship and is majoring in administrative and social science.

Music Teachers Meet At Luncheon

Meat Recipes on Dinner Menu Lists

Shades of Mr. Wimpy, wouldn't he like this recipe though! Did anyone ever eat a ham sandwich that turned out to be a hamwich? This is the way it happened, and probably the woman who invented it made quite a name for herself when she turned a ham sandwich into something unusually good.

HAMWICHES

Use day-old bread. Spread generously with ground ham, seasoned with mustard and mixed with a little creamed butter. Roll up into a tight roll. Secure with toothpicks. Dip into beaten egg diluted with a little milk. Fry in melted butter until well browned on all sides. If desired, a little grated sharp cheese may be mixed with the ham.

A CASEROLE DISH THAT IS SIMPLY PREPARED AND TURNS OUT TO BE A VERY GOOD DISH IS MADE LIKE THIS: PORK CHOP CASEROLE

Have pork chops cut 1 inch thick. Brown well in heavy frying pan. Cut 2 peeled onions into 1/2-inch rings and cover chops. Pare and slice 3 to 4 potatoes in 1/2-inch slices. Cover over onions. To 2 cups hot water add 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons catsup, and 1 teaspoon prepared mustard. Pour over chops and vegetables. Cover closely. Bake in a moderate oven about 1 1/2 hours. And yet another recipe that uses pork is this one that is an American dish, gone Chinese.

HOMEMADE CHOP STEW

1 pound lean pork
1 onion
1 cup chopped celery
Salt, pepper
Chop suey sauce
1 cup rice
Cut pork into 1/4-inch strips. Brown well. Dice onion and brown with pork. Add celery, seasoning, and 1 cup hot water. Cover. Simmer 30 minutes, adding water as needed. Wash rice well and cook in 2 quarts of water about 15 minutes. Drain, rinse in water and steam 5 minutes. Season pork with chop suey sauce or Worcestershire and meat sauce. Serve with hot rice.

All-Church Meeting Features Reports

The annual all-church meeting of the Missionary society of the First Christian church will be held on Thursday night at 7:45 at the subject with the men in charge. J. Hull, and Mr. B. J. Tripp. Mr. W. W. Kerns will sing.

The Dakota ladies met for the first time this week at the home of Mrs. Laura Noyes on Friday with Mrs. Louise Kleinke and Mrs. Florence Hofma assisting. Election of officers was held. The third Friday in each month has been set for the regular meeting date.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Caplinger returned yesterday after a ten-day stay at the San Francisco fair.

The Ladies Aid society of the Ford Memorial church of West Salem will hold a meeting in the church this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

In the Valley Social Realm

MONMOUTH—Miss Evelyn Bilsiana Byers became the bride of Robert Law Gulvin of Kings Valley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gulvin of Jefferson, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Byers on Friday night. Rev. Willard A. Elkins read the service. A reception followed. Miss Willard A. Elkins poured; Miss Betty Byers cut the loaves and Miss Louise Mosier of Hoskins cut the cakes.

Meeting of Methodists Postponed

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church which was to have met today at 2:15 o'clock will postpone the meeting until Thursday at 2:15 on account of the death of members of the group. The tea, which was to have followed, has been cancelled.

"I would say a really concrete example of inexperience are these biscuits she baked!" Well, girls will be cats. And her costume is as truly feminine as her remark. Black crepe falls softly at the draped bodice, and a row runs down the center. The tightly fitted waistline is beltless, over a flaring skirt. Right, another black dress, distinguished by a deep square neck and a shirred midriff. There's no belt, and the shirring extends below the waistline.

Today's Menu

Pineapple and cottage cheese will be the salad for today and a new sponge cake will be dessert. Cottage cheese-pineapple salad. Veal steaks baked in cream. Mashed potatoes. Gravy. Buttered new peas. Sponge cake. Fresh fruit.

Vegetable Soup on Autumn Menu

When vegetables are so plentiful, it's time to take advantage of the supply and enjoy some all-vegetable dishes. Here is a chowder for fall weather when appetites are active, and vegetables are good. ROYAL CHOWDER
2 potatoes
1 onion
1/2 cup string beans
3 cups water
1/2 cup corn
1/2 cup peas
