135 Women Take Part in Comedy of Society Foibles, Fancies Starring Norma Shearer and Rosalind Russell

Dramatically turning the spotlight on women, their lives and what they do with them, "The Women," starring Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford and Rosalind Russell, and based on the Broadway stage play, begins an engagement at the Elsinore theatre today for a run of four days.

The story, dedicated to the amusement of men and women alike, shows the fair sex in all of its moods and with all of its foibles. It finds her in swank beauty salons, in exclusive gown shops, in the privacy of boudoir and bath. It thrusts at her inclination to gossip, and lauds her ingenuity.

Norma Shearer, appearing in the first modern society role she has done since "Riptide," is seen as Mary Haines, whose faith in her husband and love is given a jolt via the word-to-mouth campaign staged by Rosalind Russell as Sylvia Fowler, arch gossip. Joan Crawford portrays the "heavenly" Crystal Allen, the initial characterization of this type in which she has appeared during her entire screen career.

The remainder of the 135 women in the cast include Mary Bonnell, Pauline Goddard, Phyllis Foyah, Joan Fontaine, Virginia Weidner, Lucile Watson, Florence Nash, Muriel Hutchinson, Esther Dale, Ann Morris, Ruth Hussey, Dennis Moore, Mary Cecil, Mary Beth Hughes, Virginia Grey, Marjorie Main, Cora Witherspoon and Hedda Hopper.

Tillamook $105, Pendleton $273, La Grande $12, The Dalles $243, Hillsboro $120, McMinnville $120.
