

Prune Report Made, Liberty

John Dasch Reviews Work to Get Better Price to Grower

LIBERTY—The Liberty local of the Farmers Union heard an interesting report on the prune marketing situation and the efforts made during the past harvest season to secure a better price to growers. The report was made by John Dasch.

It was largely through his efforts that the various farmer organizations as well as the labor organizations got behind the idea of securing government assistance in seeking to stabilize the prune market. Dasch reported that the leaders of these farmer and labor groups contacted their national leaders as well as Secretary Wallace and something be done for the desperate situation of the prune grower.

Money Not Available

These groups were told that the government had poured so much money already into prune marketing efforts that none was available at present. As a matter of fact, it was stated, this money went to the California prune market and virtually no government money has been spent to remedy Oregon prune markets.

Dasch also reported that through the cooperative work of the farmer groups, the government will purchase 5,000 tons of Oregon prunes this fall.

The proposal of the telephone company to install dial phones on rural lines was discussed. Oscar Denton was appointed to contact officers and members of rural lines and arrange for all to hold a joint meeting to be addressed by Mr. Collins from the telephone company, to explain the plan further.

Take Nine Members

Three new members were voted in: Frank Miller, Dr. L. C. Marshall and Leon Laigle. Leonard Zielke, president of the Roberts local invited this local to attend the Roberts meeting on the second Tuesday in November.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. A. Shuttleworth had charge of games and refreshments were served. The food committee for November includes: Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Jones, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ringwald, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Denger, Ed Peterson, the Louis Judsons, Louis Frohman and Isaac Schmidt.

New Ship From Pacific Ports Reported Sunk

Reported sunk by U-boat action recently off the Spanish coast was the new 8,960-ton British mail liner Lochavon, pictured above leaving Los Angeles harbor on a recent voyage. The streamlined, year old vessel carried a crew of 150 when reported torpedoed. She formerly carried a limited passenger list between Pacific coast ports and Europe. The British Admiralty did not deny she was destroyed.

Majority of Mt. Angel College Men Against Lifting Embargo Act, Poll Shows; Doubt England's Motives

MT. ANGEL — A poll among the students of Mt. Angel college and fourth year high on pertinent political questions gave an almost unanimous opinion that England went to war for her own profit and not to save Poland. Two-thirds of the men voted against lifting the embargo.

The consensus of opinion was obtained by a questionnaire passed out to all students last week by the "Pacific Star," college paper, edited by Ivo Bauman, college junior of Mt. Angel.

On the question "Will America eventually fight for England?" the students were about evenly divided. A slight majority thought a victory for Hitler would not endanger the safety of America the others thought it would.

Art Appreciation Is Smith's Topic

Colleges Must Take Lead In Adding Folk-Lore, Speaker Says

MT. ANGEL — American colleges must take the lead in encouraging the appreciation of the fine arts and in adding to the great body of American folk-lore, according to S. Stephenson Smith, educational counselor for the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, who spoke at Mt. Angel Normal school and academy Thursday afternoon. Faculty members and students from Mt. Angel college also were present.

Stressing music appreciation, Professor Smith acknowledged the significance of jazz in the store of the American music but emphasized the belief that greater interest should be taken in the development of a "common body of song." Renewed activity on the legitimate stage, the medium of radio, and especially creative attempts in the fine arts by the average person were named as means of enriching the American heritage.

Following his lecture the speaker took part in a round table discussion on "A Critical Approach to Modern Drama on the Legitimate Stage, the Screen and Radio." Faculty members and drama students from both local colleges also contributed to the discussion.

Professor Smith is now on leave of absence after 14 years as professor of English at the University of Oregon.

Musical Program Given, Silverton

Demonstration Shows How Schools' Programs Are Carried out

SILVERTON — Floyd Ellefson, head of the Silverton schools' music department, arranged a program for parents and patrons of the district Wednesday night to give an idea of how the musical programs in schools are worked out.

The demonstration began with beginners in the woodwinds and brasses. This was followed by demonstrations from the intermediate groups and from the senior high school advanced section. The different instruments were used separately to demonstrate each section. The senior high school band gave a number of selections to show the combined ability of the band.

Douglas Jacquith of Salem, guest speaker, gave a talk on the origin of the band music in public schools. Mr. Ellefson talked on the proper approach to learning to play and on the instruments the local school owns. He explained that these were loaned to the students free of charge but each student was expected to keep the instrument in repair.

The music department plans to give a number of similar demonstrations and programs during the winter to which the public will be invited.
