Dr. E. J. Purdy Is Chapel Speaker

District Methodist Head Lists World's Best Loved Men

Dr. Edgar J. Purdy, district superintendent of the Methodist church for the Salem area, spoke of Kagaway, Gandhi and E. Stanley Jones as the world's best loved men in a talk at the Willamette university chapel Thursday.

Toyohiko Kagawa is the great Japanese Christian who works in the slums as doctor, missionary and educator. Mahatma Gandhi is the sheeted, fasting leader of the Hindu millions. E. Stanley Jones is a renowned Methodist missionary in India.

Dr. Purdy said the world is in three sections, the practicalists, cynics and idealists. The first two seem to be having their day now, but the idealist has always been "put in the corner" by the other groups.

The idealist is never defeated, though, in the long run. A young Pharoh of Egypt was an idealist and was humiliated by being buried in a queen's tomb, but this act made people notice his greatness 50 centuries later, when other Pharaohs were long forgotten.

Theodore Roosevelt proved himself a great idealist by returning as a scholarship fund for young Chinese the indemnity from the Boxer rebellion. He thus won the love and respect of the Chinese.

"Love thy neighbor" has yet to be given a fair trial, according to Purdy.

Past Matrons' Club Holds Meeting

Change in Date Of Trial Asked

Motion for Continuance Is Filed in David Drager Case

Motion to continue the trial of David G. Drager, county treasurer, from October 30 has been filed in circuit court by Custer Ross, one of the defense attorneys. Ross states that he has other cases to try at Albany after October 23 which will take 10 days or more, leaving no time for preparation for the Drager trial even though the Albany cases should take less time.

Trial date for the case of W. Y. Richardson, former deputy county treasurer, has already been set for the middle of November. Both Richardson and Drager have been indicted on a charge of misappropriation of county funds.

— Circuit Court —

Industry Accidents Are Fatal to Four

There were four fatalities due to industrial accidents in Oregon during the week ending October 19, the state industrial accident commission reported Friday.

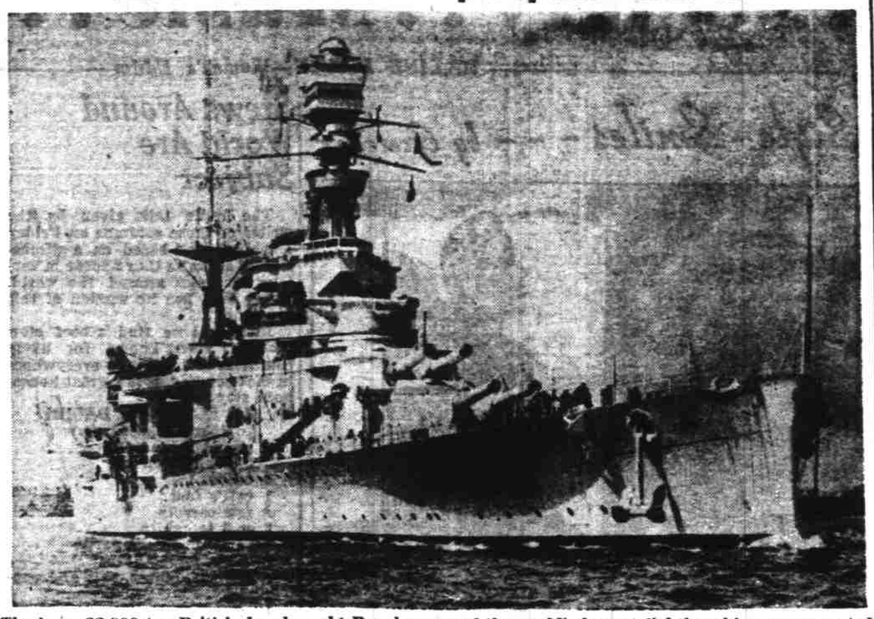
The victims were Andrew R. Gerber, Sisters; John L. Powell, Sweet Home; Elmer Anderson Emele, Baker, and Joseph A. Koski, Olney.

There were 948 accidents reported to the commission during the week.

Victim of German Sub

The Royal Oak, sunk by U-boat action, was the first of five battleships of the Royal Sovereign class built from 1914 to 1916. The 29,150 ton ship normally carried from 1,009 to 1,046 men. She was commanded by Capt. W. G. Benn, and flew the flag of Vice Admiral L. D. I. Mackinnon, Vice Admiral in command of the Second Battle Squadron.

Claim British Battleship Repulse Disabled



The huge 32,000 ton British dreadnaught Repulse, one of the world's largest fighting ships, was reported in a German announcement October 16 to have been disabled by U-boat torpedoes. The ship, the announcement said, was struck less than 72 hours after the battleship Royal Oak was sent to the bottom with a loss of 786 lives. The British admiralty refused to comment on the German claim. According to the Berlin information, the same submarine which sank the Royal Oak later sent a torpedo squarely into the hull of the Repulse. She is pictured during recent North sea maneuvers.

Reports Ask Work Continue

Group Recommends Aide to County Agent Be Named

Recommendation that county horticultural inspection work permanently be carried on by an assistant county agent appointed for the purpose featured the reports of the county horticultural advisory committee and of the assistant county agent which were filed yesterday with the county court.

The committee also reported a motion to call a meeting of insectide handlers in the county for the purpose of considering the most efficient control methods for insect pests and diseases affecting horticultural crops. Appointment of Ray Yocom to represent the canning industry on the horticultural committee was also announced by other members including Robert E. Shinn, chairman; Ray Glatt, John Farr, Harley Libby, Earl Houseweart, John Ramage, Ernest Werner, George Tate, Howard Butterfield, Frank Hrubetz, Harry Hugill and Adolph Heater.

Report of Robert E. Rieder, assistant county agent in charge of horticultural work, dealt with work done for the year by his department.

The department carried on research and demonstration work with horticultural problems including control of spittle bug disease, strawberry crinkle disease, prune thrips, onion maggot infestation, cherry flies, elm leaf, mint leaf and bean beetle problems, peach blight and other matters.

Agent Rieder's summary shows a series of inspections as follows: 189 orchards, 688 packages for mailing, 170 offices, 224 express packages, 32 city lots, 103 carloads of cherry lugs, one truck inspection and others. The agent also made complete report on his daily office and field work.

Church Will Have Opening Services

The local congregation of the Christian and Missionary Alliance will hold opening day services in its new home at the corner of Fifth and Gaines streets Sunday, according to Rev. Paul A. Collord, pastor.

A full day will mark the occasion. At 11 a.m. Rev. Collord will speak on the subject, "Understanding What to Do." Gerald Minton and a ladies' chorus will give special vocal numbers. At 3 p.m. a special visitors' service is planned at which Rev. R. F. C. Schwedler, of Seattle, will be the speaker. Rev. Schwedler is the superintendent of this district for the Christian and Missionary Alliance and is considered one of the strongest gospel preachers in the Alliance, according to Rev. Collord.

Special vocal selections will be given in this service by visiting groups from nearby cities. Rev. H. H. Hubbell, pastor of the Interdenominational church at Albany, will speak briefly of the world vision of the Alliance in its 20 great pioneer mission fields of the earth. Rev. G. Ernest McGarvey of Portland will conduct the song service.

At 7:30 p.m. Rev. Schwedler will be the speaker. Rev. Collord states that workmen have been busy on the new church home for three weeks getting the building ready for use and presentation to visitors.
