

Armistice Day Plans Made at Mt. Angel

Legion Post To Honor Dead Will Also Join Woodburn In Day's Celebration For Holiday

MT. ANGEL—Besides participating in the Armistice day celebration at Woodburn, Mt. Angel intends to put on its own little program in honor of the day. The Legion committee in charge of the day's observance made known the following plans at the meeting of the post Tuesday night.

The fire siren and the Mt. Angel creamery whistle will blow at 11 a. m. Saturday, November 11, and as their sound dies away, a bugler will sound taps from the steps of the city hall. Mayor Berchold will issue an official notice requesting all citizens to stand in silence for one minute in honor of departed comrades. He will also request all merchants to display flags prominently during the day.

At 8 a. m. Saturday morning Father Alcala will be celebrant at a requiem mass in St. Mary's church for the departed soldiers. Commander Walker of the Mt. Angel post has asked all members to attend wearing their Legion caps.

Further observance of the day will be held at St. Mary's public school the previous afternoon, Friday, November 10, when Judge Miller B. Hayden of Salem will address the pupils of the fifth to eighth grades inclusive on Americanism. Neighboring school districts are invited to send their children to the lecture.

Hartley S. LeFebvre and W. V. Adams, commander and vice-commander of the Woodburn post, were guests at the meeting and personally presented the invitation to take part in the Woodburn festivities. Slated for Armistice day at Woodburn are: a parade at 10:45 a. m. followed by a patriotic program at Lincoln grade school; a jitney dinner in the Legion quarters of the city hall at noon; a football game between Chemawa and Woodburn high school at 2 p. m.; and a dance at the armory Saturday night.

The Woodburn commander also complimented the Mt. Angel post on its membership record of 35 paid up members out of a 55 quota, which he said was a higher percentage than most posts could boast.

Frank Durckmidt, who was in charge of the Legion shoot October 29, reported it to have been a financial success. Another shoot will be held at the Legion clubhouse, one mile west of town, Sunday, November 19. Fred Lucht will act as chairman of the shoot in the absence of Comrade Durckmidt.

At the auxiliary meeting held the same night it was disclosed that both the dance and the food sale had been a big success. At the dance $9.05 was added to the auxiliary treasury by the chicken and noodle supper donated by Mrs. Frank Walker. The food sale the following day netted even a better profit. Mrs. Walker was also in charge of the food sale and will again serve a supper after the next dance, Friday, November 10.

Mrs. Frank Durckmidt announced that the hot lunches at the shooting grounds had made the purchase of a hamburger griddle and supplies for the next shoot possible.

Miss Theresa Dehler, Americanism chairman, reported that a puppet show would be shown to the children of St. Mary's school Friday morning and individual programs given in the classrooms as a contribution towards education week.

Mrs. Cletus Butsch, Junior auxiliary chairman, stated that the juniors were dressing dolls and renovating old toys for Christmas presents for the needy.

Special guests at the meeting included Mrs. W. V. Adams and Mrs. Minnie LeFebvre of Woodburn and Mrs. Nora Albin of Mt. Angel.

Woody Furniture Re-Opens Tonight

New and Enlarged Quarters On South Commercial Open at 7:30 P. M.

Many weeks of feverish activity will be culminated tonight at 7:30 in the grand re-opening of the new and enlarged Woody Furniture store at 474 South Commercial.

Tonight's celebration will serve a dual purpose for not only will it be a climax to an expansion program, but it will also mark the anniversary of five years of successful operation in the furniture business in Salem at the same location.

Much in the way of entertainment and beauty has been arranged for this event to which the public is cordially invited. Many special features will be offered including souvenirs to everyone, refreshments, and music. Manager Woody has arranged for his entire store staff to be present to officiate as guides to the many visitors expected from all points of the valley.

Outstanding among the many changes noted in the acquisition of the large basement which has been completely re-decorated and renovated. This section will house all types of bedroom and dining room furniture as well as ranges and linoleum floor coverings.

The first floor has been rearranged to accommodate all types of room furnishings including davenports, davenos, overstuffed chairs, odd pieces, carpets, rugs, and miscellaneous pieces.

The first floor of the main floor alterations are the newest "individual room" displays which flank the rear and south wall, including six complete rooms. From bedroom to kiddies den are included in this clever display of modern household art.

The three easterners were enthusiastic in their praise of the Willamette valley and said they could scarcely believe that they could wear out-of-door-grown roses in November. They visited Silver Creek Falls park, also prior to their leaving for California where they will visit a short time before returning to their home.
