Santa to Come To Dallas Tree

Children's Entertainment Will Be Friday Night; Town Decorated

DALLAS—The annual community Christmas tree for the small children of Dallas, which is sponsored each year by the Dallas fire department, will be held this year on Friday night, December 22. The affair will be held on the courthouse lawn, weather permitting; otherwise it will be held in the downstairs room of the new city hall where the fire apparatus is kept. Santa will be present and will have treats for all children under 12.

The square is a beautifully decorated city. Streets of Christmas lights have been strung across the streets and practically all business houses have outside decorations as well as attractive window displays.

The courthouse square is especially attractive with the tower and cornices of the courthouse outlined with gay Christmas lights and the trees on the lawn also bright with Christmas lights.

It is expected that many more homes in the residential section of Dallas will be decorated this year than in the past. Some beautifully arranged outdoor lighting displays have already been completed and it is anticipated that many more will be completed during the week.

To encourage more outdoor home decoration the chamber of commerce is sponsoring a contest and will award three prizes in three divisions of the home decoration and lighting contest. In each of the divisions the chamber of commerce is officiating a first prize of $3.50; a second prize of $2 and a third prize of $1.
