Sublimity Mail Carrier Completes 25th Year On Rural Route; Started Work With Horses and Small Cart

SUBLIMITY—Carrying mail for 25 years is the record set by James Ripp, Sublimity rural mail carrier, this week. He started carrying mail January 16, 1915.

His first trip was with a team of horses and two-wheeled cart. Roads were in such bad condition that a heavier buggy would not go through the deep mud. He covered a distance of 26 miles, making 84 stops with mail. It took him all day to make the route.

He also states that in those days only five daily papers were delivered on his entire route. Today he handles from 1000 pieces of mail daily up to 4000 during the Christmas holidays. Today with the much improved highways and side roads and the help of the automobile, he makes a distance of 41 miles daily in 3 hours with deliveries to 125 boxes or approximately seven hundred and fifty patrons.

Sublimity was the third oldest postoffice in the state. The first rural route was established in 1904 with B. Prange as the first carrier. James Ripp, the present carrier, is number four on the list.
