

Booster Club Is Organized

Skinner Elected to Head new Group at Lebanon; Plan Benefits

LEBANON—L. C. Skinner was elected president of a boosters organization composed of parents of junior and senior band and drum corps members, which met Wednesday night at the high school with Director Gordon Tripp. Plans were made for at least one benefit each month, the first to be a card party and pie social for the public next Friday night at the Odd Fellows hall. Mrs. Herbert Ramsey, Mrs. Elmer Whetstone, and Vern Reeves are in charge of this event.

Other officers elected by the organization are Mrs. E. H. Bohle, vice-president; Mrs. C. B. Post, secretary; Harold Irvine, treasurer; and Hugh Kirkpatrick and E. C. Leckband are directors held over from last year.

New uniforms for band and drum corps members are being discussed as a project for the organization.

R. Kuhn, owner of the Kuhn and Gem theatres, and his son, Rollin G. Kuhn, have formed a partnership in the management of the two theatres. Rollin Kuhn graduated from Oregon State college in 1923, and since then has assisted his father in the theatre work.

Ed Voegelien of Kelso, Wash., has leased Young's jewelry store, and held his opening day Monday. Due to ill health Young is retiring from business, and expects to go to California with Mrs. Young for several months. Voegelien is a brother of Fred Voegelien of Lebanon.

America's responsibility in a new world peace was stressed by Wayne Altire of Reed college in his address to the members of the Fellowship Guild Wednesday. An international machinery of government must be established, he said, with America taking a place in the structure. Regional federations he believes will lead to world federations. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Hiram Groves, Mrs. Paul Middlebrook introduced Mr. Altire, and was in charge of the program.

The annual Jiggs dinner will be held next Friday night in the Methodist church, with an invitation extended to the public to attend. The theme of this year's dinner will be "Jiggs to Market," and will be carried out with Jiggs, Maggie, and Dinty Moore in person. Corned beef and cabbage are the classic refreshments at the Jiggs dinners, which have always in the past been among the most hilarious entertainments of the year. J. M. Burtenshaw is general chairman of arrangements, with the Rev. D. Lester Fields in charge of the program.

Shinn, both of Salem, are serving on the decorating committee.

Why these people decided not to drive to CALIFORNIA!

They thought about the snow in the mountains, the slippery highways and the long tiresome drive. Then they called us and found out how reasonably they could make the trip by train. Result: they're letting the engineer do the driving while they really enjoy the trip.

Next time you go to California, why not try the train?
