

Well at Scio

Is Approved

SCIO — Electrical capacity of the pump and other equipment at the new city well in northwest Scio has been approved by the state bureau, it was reported at the regular March meeting of the council.

Drilling of the well was continued to a depth of 297 feet, two feet deeper than the town's No. 1 well, with an apparently inexhaustible flow of first-class water. Charge of one dollar per month to consumers using the supply for sprinkling purposes during the summer will be continued, and councilmen expressed conviction that townspeople would not object to the charge since a good flow would be available, in contrast to the feeble flow of the past several summers.

Gravel was ordered placed on streets most needing surfacing, upon complaint of a local merchant.

Lot to Be Transferred

Transfer of the city hall lot to the Scio school district is under negotiation and is expected to be completed as soon as the district obtains clear title to a lot across McKinley street, where the city hall will be moved. The ground on which the city building now stands at the corner of Mill and McKinley street is needed to complete grounds surrounding the new high school building.

Council denied the application of the People theatre to operate in Scio without license, on grounds that the owners, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Curl of Jefferson, reside outside the city. The theatre pays an annual fee of $10. Council passed a resolution requesting from PWA a two week period of grace after January 13, the last date on which extended time for completion of the waterworks project expired. Councilman Fred Bryan, the city's representative in the project, stated that in event the request was denied PWA would not participate in costs incurred after that date. The federal agency furnished 45 per cent of the cost of initial improvements, which included laying new cast iron mains throughout the city, and drilling an un-satisfactory auxiliary well in south Scio, later abandoned.

Bills aggregating about $160 were allowed.

Funeral Is Today For Mrs. Yergen

AURORA — Funeral services will be held today at 2 p.m. at the Canby Funeral home for Agnes Ehlen Yergen, who died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Kister, near Aurora. She was 74 years old.

Mrs. Yergen was born near Aurora and had lived here her entire life except for a short time in Portland. She was an active member of the Presbyterian church and a member of the Venus chapter, Order of Eastern Star, at Donald.

Surviving are two children, Ray A. Yergen and Mrs. John Kister, both of Aurora; one sister, Mrs. W. H. Monroe of Portland; two brothers, G. A. Ehlen and W. H. Ehlen; two grandchildren, Patricia and Hubert Yergen, all of Aurora.

Rev. J. W. Hood of Gervais will officiate at the funeral and interment will be in the Riverview cemetery in Portland.

Funeral Is Held For Mrs. Brown

TURNER — Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 1:30 at the Christian church for Mrs. Ada Adell Brown, 81, who died Saturday night, March 9. Rev. O. W. Jones officiated assisted by Rev. E. J. Gilstrap, with interment in Twin Oak cemetery under the direction of Weddie Funeral home of Stayton.

She was born June 18, 1859, at Theresa, N.Y. She came west in 1919 and married Fred D. Brown June 6, 1929. He passed away one month ago. She was a devoted member of the Christian church.

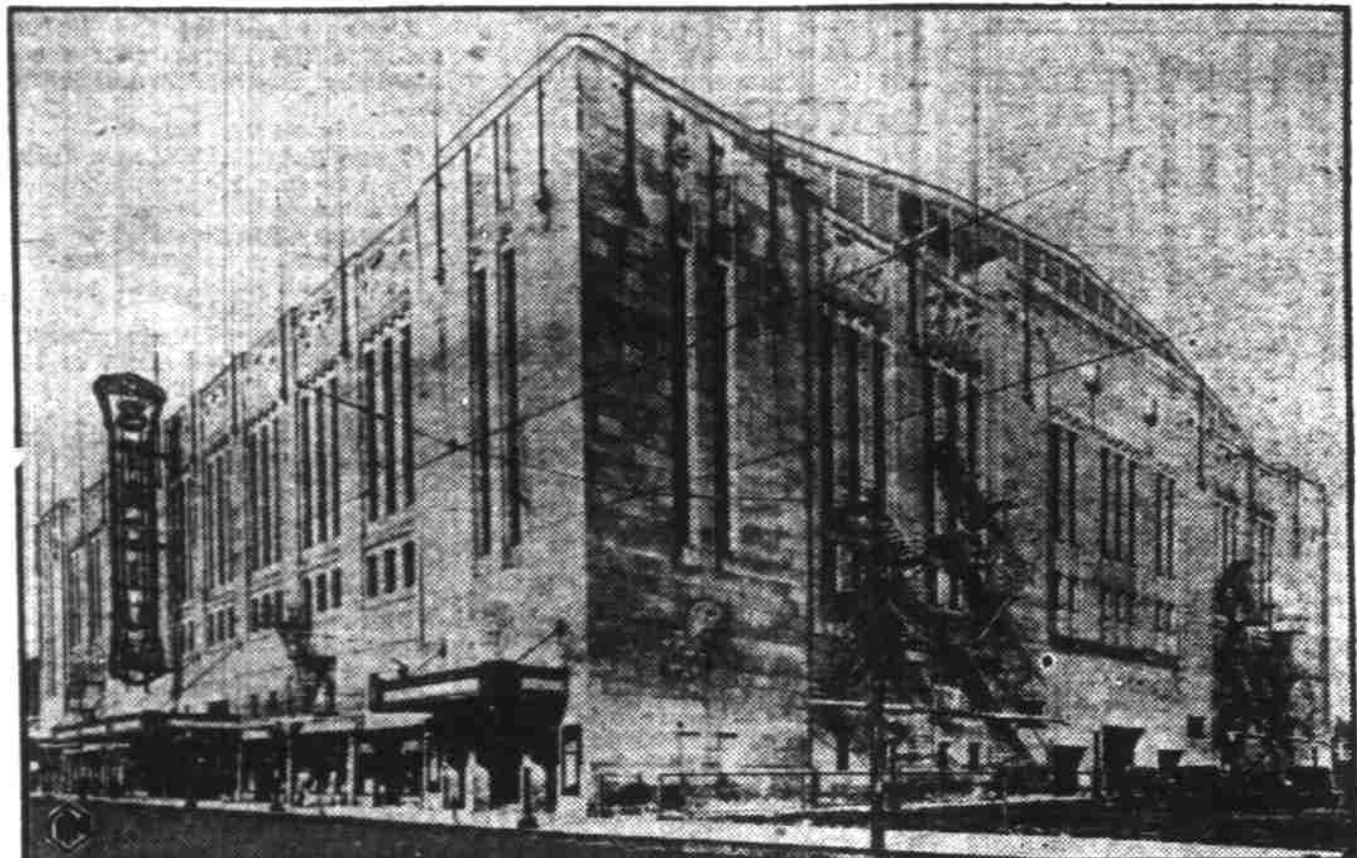

She leaves one brother, Charles N. Tompkins of Orville, Wash., a twin sister, Mrs. Ida Adell Russell of Lakeside, Wash., and a niece, Mrs. J. Pichase of Salem.

Children Safe

John Niemela
With a smile of unrestrained joy, John Niemela, of Bark Point, Wis., awaits the arrival of his two children, Ruth, 11, and Paul, 8, who were stranded in Finland. Niemela was forced to leave them behind when depreciated currency left him only enough for his own return. The state department is paying for their passage.

Booklet Boosts Nyssa Sugar Mill

Campaign Started to Make Home Product Known Throughout State

Publication of a unique booklet containing interesting data, illustrations, and human interest facts about Oregon and her 36 counties with her major communities and their industries was announced here yesterday by Ray G. Larsen, state manager for the Amalgamated Sugar company of Nyssa. One of its features is a reproduction of a series of 26 advertisements which will be run in the leading daily newspapers throughout the state to stimulate an increased interest in Oregon and its resources. Copies of the book, to be distributed to public officials, industrial leaders, schools, clubs and other representative individuals and groups, have been received by the Salem chamber of commerce.

This entire educational program, which is being produced at an expense of many thousands of dollars to its sponsor, will be under way this week. It has received the endorsement of Governor Charles A. Sprague, E. B. MacNaughton, chairman of the Oregon Economic council; Joseph K. Carson, mayor of Portland; Ray W. Gill, master of the Oregon state grange, and dozens of mayors, chamber of commerce officials, newspaper publishers, and other leading Oregon citizens.

Besides the newspaper advertisements and the booklet, a new colored sound moving picture showing how Oregon sugar is made, with scenes at the new $2,500,000 factory at Nyssa, which is said to be America's newest and most modern sugar factory, will be shown before scores of schools, clubs and other civic groups throughout the state. Cooperating in this effort will be Columbia

Mt. Angel Civic Club Plans to Send Delegation to Salem

MT. ANGEL — The Mt. Angel Civic club will send a representation to the utility district hearing at Salem, March 21, it was announced at the meeting of the club at the city hall here Tuesday night.

The committee on the side-walk proposition, which calls for the widening of the sidewalk from town to the entrance of Mt. Angel academy, made its report and promised further action. The project was regarded as feasible and cooperation with the city authorities was assured.

The president read a copy of the letter that were written to Oregon's senators in Washington regarding the bill on obscene literature. In connection with this, the correspondence secretary was asked to write for information on "D decency Council" advocated by the Sunday visitor.

For general information, a copy of the census questions was brought before the club and rather extensively debated.

The club agreed to send a resolution to congress to endorse the new proposal coming up before the committees of the house and senate which would declare the present monetary system unconstitutional.

The members then devoted some time to the discussion of the entertainment idea and for a start, the president, Joseph Hausler, was asked to make the first contribution during the next meeting. It will consist of a short recital on his zither with possible vocal assistance.

In conclusion, Alfred Huber brought the Boy Scout topic on the floor, a full consideration of which was scheduled for the next meeting, which will take place in the city hall, April 2 at 8 p. m.

Oregon's Own and Only Sugar Salutes ...

OREGON

Oregon's newest major industry, beet sugar, is grateful for the unprecedented support given to it since it was established in the fall of 1933, with the completion of our two-and-one-half-million-dollar plant, America's newest and finest.

To show our appreciation, the Amalgamated Sugar Company launches this state-wide campaign to "sell" Oregon's communities and industries to Oregonians, in which we shall subordinate "self interest" and speak mainly about "the other fellow." Eventually we hope to pay tribute to every section, and to every major industry. Save these advertisements. Put them in a scrapbook; together, they will represent a wealth of information about our state.

Oregon, where can we find your equal for scenery and climate and soil and timber and rivers and coast lines and harbors? We lead all others in forest areas; in standing timber; in low infant mortality; in proportion of state taxes for higher education; in soft wood production. Only one state exceeds us in undeveloped hydro - electric power, in low average cost of electrical energy to the consumer, in library users per capita.

Here are produced 78% of the nation's canned loganberries, 58% of its canned strawberries, 63.6% of its hops, 50% of its canned prunes. We produce annually 36,000,000 bushels of grains and nearly 10,000 carloads of fruits. Here are the world's finest Chinook salmon and pears; here is America's flax center. Oregon turkeys, cheese and countless other commodities are unsurpassed. Yet we are more than all these put together; we are the spirit of Lewis and Clark, a land of adventure and opportunity ... a grand state in which to live and work!
